—PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM OK'D—

House Gives Kennedy Big Legislative Victory

Washington (AP)—The House gave President Kennedy a big legislative victory Wednesday in voting by a solid majority $450 million in new funds to pump up the economy in areas of heavy unemployment.

Upsetting an action by its appropriations committee, the House earmarked that amount for additional financing of the accelerated public works program Congress approved last year. In that session Congress provided an initial $400 million of a $900-million program designed to create jobs in a hurry in areas where work is scarce.

The President had asked for the remaining $500 million but his House leaders gladly settled for the lesser amount, presumably with the hope that the Senate would add the extra $50 million The President had strongly urged the House to reverse the appropriations committee action knocking out the whole $500 million.

The House vote was a 228-184 roll call on a $1.4 billion catch-all appropriation bill which now goes to the Senate, dealing the Republicans a defeat

The bill itself was passed by voice vote

GOP leaders had assailed the works program as a boondoggle and a political gimmick intended to help the Democrats in 1964 by shunting the money into areas where it would help win votes.

Democrats countered those charges by arguing that communities receiving help have to provide matching funds in most cases. They also cited figures showing that of the projects already approved, 149 were in Democratic districts and 99 in Republican districts

The original fund of $400 million already has been allocated and applications for several thousand more projects are awaiting financing, with more piling up.

Before adding the money to the bill on a motion of Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., the House rejected a compromise figure of $300 million proposed by Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Bolton's proposal called for ending the program by next June 30 The Ohioan, whose amendment was shouted down, said that while he opposed the program in principle, Congress has a responsibility to thousands of communities which have programmed projects in the belief that additional funds would be provided

City-County Planning Commission member F Pace Woods almost "voted" himself out of office Wednesday.

Against the advice of Chairman E. J. Faulkner, Woods insisted he participate in commission action on a preliminary plat of Constable's Antelope Parkland Addition near 58th and Van Dorn.

Woods, a real estate developer and commission member since 1959, had disqualified himself on the same matter at a previous meeting as having a personal interest in the land's zoning and platting. .

During Wednesday's meeting, Faulkner suggested the preliminary plat be deferred to the April 25 meeting because the commission would be one member short of a quorum with Woods disqualified from voting.

Woods Disagrees

"I don't disqualify myself," Woods stated in urging the commission proceed to consider the plat. "It isn't improper for me to vote on preliminary approval."

However, Faulkner advised, "As chairman, I think it is improper for you to vote."

"You presented the plat and represented the owners," he told Woods. "I wouldn't want to vote on a plat in which I had a personal interest."

However, at Woods' insistence, the commission proceeded to consider feasibility reports by the city engineering department on storm drainage, street needs and sanitary sewers for the proposed subdivision.

Delay Charged

At one point, Woods charged that the planning staff had unnecessarily delayed the plat in working out an alternate street layout.

Ted Wilding, deputy planning director, termed the alternate layout as "more favorable for the development of the total area" than the one proposed by the subdivision owners.

When reaction of other commission members indicated more engineering study for the proposed subdivision was advisable, Woods finally agreed to deferment of action on the plat and his disqualification from voting.

Lincoln's city charter and ordinances provide that any member of a city board or commission, "having a significant financial interest direct or indirect . in any matter before the body on which he serves," shall declare the interest and shall refrain from voting or otherwise participating in the taking of action on the matter in which he has a financial interest.

Forfeiture Provided

The code's penalty clause provides for "forfeiture of office or position" for wilful concealment of interest or other violation of its provisions regarding voting or other actions.

After the meeting, City Atty. Ralph Nelson declined to comment on Woods' actions, but said the city's "conflict of interest" code was applicable to planning commission members.

Woods later told a reporter he does not own or have a financial interest in the land.

"Employed By Owners'

"I have been employed by the owners to develop and sell the land," he explained "My business — at least in the past — has been to develop real estate."

Last week, Woods appeared before the City Council regarding possible city acquisition of part of the Constable tract for park development as proposed in the 1960 Comprehensive Plan.

The commission had requested council instructions on this question before proceeding further with the proposed subdivision plat. The council vote was not to acquire additional park land in the area.

"We feel that a week of such fellowship certainly is superior to a mere one-day spiritual emphasis," observed Dr. R. P. Gibson, young dentist who is this year's president.

Observing their 40th anniversary this year, the Kiwanians consider this perennial project one of their most successful Among its by-products are men's song services held each morning of Christmas week.

Participating churches this Easter — their ladies trying to outdo one another in hospitality and hot cakes — are the Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist, American Lutheran and Baptist. But other groups are also represented in the attendance.

Terry Gives Up Fight Against 'Give-Aways'

By BETTY PERSON

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff Wednesday asked the Judiciary Committee to kill a bill which would have repealed Nebraska's newly-enacted law permitting lottery-type contests.

The committee held no executive session following its hearing, and thus took no action on this or the other 4 measures it heard Wednesday.

Carpenter had requested introduction of the "anti-lottery" bill, LB765, after a number of small merchants had complained they would be driven out of business because they could not offer cash awards similar to those offered by chain stores.

Only one other person appeared to testify on the bill Wednesday, however, which Carpenter said indicated that a "crisis" does not exist.

The Scottsbluff lawmaker, who is an independent merchant himself, said he can meet the competition in his own business, but suggested the absence of other independents at the hearing meant they "apparently don't have any concern about protecting themselves for one reason or another"

The other person testifying on LB765 was Richard Shapland of West Point who said he has "a hard enough time buying groceries as it is without having to support lotteries every time I go to the store."

None of the other measures heard drew any opposition, but a measure pertaining to the penalty involved in first degree murder cases evoked considerable discussion.

LB468, introduced by Sen. William Skarda of Omaha, would provide that the court could pronounce sentence if a guilty plea were entered in a first degree murder case.

Nebraska law presently provides that if an accused person is found guilty of first degree murder by a jury, the jury shall fix his punishment —either life imprisonment or death.

There is no provision under which such a person may plead guilty and waive a trial by jury—but LB468 would permit this.

The bill was requested by the Douglas County attorney's office whose representative, James Moylan, testified the proposed bill would in no way remove any of the defendant's rights in such a case, but would give him the alternative of not standing trial should he so desire.

The bill was supported by Douglas County Public Defender A. Q. Wolfe and Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas.

Moylan and Wolfe stated that Douglas County has to call between 400 and 600 jurors in order to get a jury for a first degree murder case, that the procedure is drawn out and expensive and that occasions have arisen when defendants would have preferred waiving a trial if it were possible.

Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, committee chairman, questioned the witnesses at length to determine if the proposal contained all the safeguards necessary to protect the rights of the accused.

McGinley suggested it might be well to include in the measure the statutory requirement that the accused must be informed fully of his constitutional rights.

The other measures heard:

LB435, introduced by Sen William Brandt of Uehdilla, establishing procedure for the management of a minor's estate

LB541, introduced by Sen Matt Wells of Elgin, authorizing county judges to order the administrator or person having charge of personal property of an estate to return the property to the court's jurisdiction

LB559, introduced by Sen Sam Klaver of Omaha, eliminating the requirement for a jury to determine the amount taken in larceny and embezzlement cases

EGYPT, IRAQ, SYRIA UNITE

Cairo (AP)—Egypt, Iraq and Syria agreed Wednesday to join in a nation to be called the United Arab Republic, under one flag, with one central government to handle foreign affairs, Egypt's Vice President Aly Sabry said Wednesday night.

He made the announcement after the 4th day of current Arab unity talks.

He said his statement was simply a review of agreements reached so far in continuing discussions.

Cairo Capital

He said Cairo is to be the capital of the new nation.

Sabry said the flag will be the present UAR flag but with 3 stars in place of two. The present flag was horizontal black, white and red stripes.

That flag represented the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria which fell apart in September 1961 when Syrians revolted against President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Egyptian part of the union retained the UAR name and flag and has patiently worked for reunion of the original two members plus Iraq and other Arab nations.

Yemen is a likely new member, Algeria is being wooed as possibly another, and Jordan, a monarchy, has not closed the door on the idea of unity

Sabry said citizens of the new nation will have one nationality. The 3 elements will be known as the Syrian Region, Iraqi Region, and Egyptian Region of the United Arab Republic.

Sabry said President Nasser and delegations from Syria and Iraq had completed discussions on the general form of the federal state.

Authority

The new central government will have authority in the fields of foreign affairs, defense, economic planning, currency, foreign trade, customs and taxes, Sabry added.

It would represent the state in international organizations —an indication that the new UAR would have one seat in the United Nations in place of the present seats of Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

Sabry's announcement made no mention of who would be the chief executive of the new state or how he would be named.

Hope Fades For 129 Men

. . . OIL SLICK SIGHTED

Washington (AP)—The atomic submarine Thresher, carrying 129 men, vanished Wednesday after a steep test dive in the Atlantic. The Navy said it "appears to be lost."

The Navy said an oil slick had been sighted—the traditional sign that a submarine has met disaster.

A flicker of hope remained that the Thresher may have surfaced in rough waters and was having communications trouble

An attack sub designed for use against other submarines and surface vessels, the Thresher last was heard from at 8 17 a.m CST Wednesday There was no word from her 12 hours later — when the Navy reported the sighting of the oil slick

The sub was in a deep test dive and apparently failed to come up.

The craft was missing some 220 miles east of Boston — in an area where the ocean is 8,400 feet deep Underwater pressure at that depth makes rescue impossible, the Navy said, even if a submarine could survive the hydraulic force.

No Chance

Adm. George W Anderson, chief of naval operations, said there was "absolutely no chance of nuclear explosion in the submarine. nor is there any danger of radioactive contamination" to shipping.

The Thresher, as an attack submarine, does not carry Polaris missiles.

Anderson, who talked to newsmen at the Pentagon, said, "to those of us who have been brought up in the traditions of the sea it is a sad occasion when a ship is reported lost."

Many Disasters

There have been many underwater disasters, but the mighty nuclear-powered U.S. submarine fleet has been remarkably free from accidents since the first of the new underwaters, the Nautilus, was launched more than a decade ago.

The Thresher was rated as the world's fastest and deepest diving submarine.

Although she did not pack the nuclear-tipped Polaris, she was equipped with torpedoes and a variety of other underwater weapons.

Secret

The Thresher's exact diving capability is a secret, but it obviously is not designed to operate at anywhere near 8,400 feet. The Navy merely said the lengthy test dive was at depths in excess of 400 feet

Accompanied by the sub Skylark, the Thresher began its dive at 12:22 p.m. Tuesday about 30 miles south of Portsmouth, N.H. After 6 hours, the Thresher was to have come up nearer the surface and then continued its test operations. But the Skylark heard nothing from the Thresher after 8:17 a.m.

There was no indication of suspicious unidentified submarines or surface vessels in the immediate area, the Navy said

Veteran

Skipper of the Thresher is Lt. Cmdr. John W Harvey of Waterford, Conn., a veteran of atomic submarines beginning with the Nautilus. He also has seen service with the Tullabee and Sea Dragon.

Harvey, whose parents live in Philadelphia, assumed command of the Thresher 3 months ago. He is a 1950 graduate of the U.S Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The Navy ordered an extensive air and sea rescue operation, but its movements were hindered by clouds, winds of about 30 to 45 miles per hour and waves 5 to 9 feet high.

Overhauled

The Thresher had undergone overhaul and was carrying 17 civilians on a test run. The Navy said the ship also carried 16 officers and 96 enlisted men.

It was routine procedure to send another sub along with the Thresher on the diving tests.

The Navy at first said the Thresher was "overdue and presumed missing," but after the oil slick was sighted, changed this to "appears to be lost."

"The location of the Thresher from her last report was given as 41 44 north and 64 57 west," the Navy said. "The depth of water at this location is approximately 8,400 feet. Merchant ships in this area have been requested to keep a sharp lookout for the submarine in addition to the maximum effort being made by the Navy."

GRAND ISLAND MAN ABOARD

Foreign Aid Frequently Over-Extended

BUT CLAY SAYS ASSISTANCE NEED FOR FOOT-IN-DOOR

Washington (AP)—Gen Lucius Clay estimated Wednesday that U.S. foreign aid has been over-extended in about one quarter of the countries on this nation's aid list

Clay, who headed a presidential advisory committee which recommended tightening up the foreign aid program, got a generally friendly reception from the House Foreign Affairs Committee

But Chairman Thomas B Morgan, D Pa , told newsmen later that AFL-CIO President George Meany has asked to be heard in public session Meany was the only member of the Clay committee who dissented from the report and argued for a substantial increase in foreign aid

Clay framed his words carefully throughout the session For instance, he made clear that by over extended he meant more aid was funneled into a country than was necessary to keep the U S foot in the door or maintain a presence " as Clay put it but not enough to put the recipient country on its feet economically

Returning to that theme repeatedly, Clay said at one point

"We don't believe foreign aid can be given to all countries in the world in amounts that would be effective therefore our view is that we should reduce the number of nations to which we give aid and concentrate on those which are able to perform and which have the self-discipline to make aid effective "

And again at another point

"If we adopted the philosophy that we could keep communism out of all the countries of the world by grants of money, we are just deluding ourselves Aid given a country will be effective only if it is willing to do some things in return, like putting its financial house in order Otherwise aid becomes merely a subsidy and to take away a subsidy would do more harm than not to give it in the first place "

Clay also made clear that his committee fully supports the principle of foreign aid He said

"The essence of our report is that foreign aid, properly conceived and properly administered is, in the very troubled world in which we live today, an essential tool of foreign policy Without it the strength of the free world would be measurably less "

JFK Delays Trip To Eye Steel Hike

Washington (UPI) — A smaller firm's break in the steel price line wednesday brought a quick one day postponement of President Kennedy's Easter vacation in what shaped up as a possible new power play between the White House and steelmakers

Delaying a Florida trip, the President conferred with Atty Gen Robert F Kennedy and other high officials on the announcement by the Wheeling Corp that it was raising some prices $4 50 to $10 a ton It came a year to the day after Kennedy's last big collision with the industry

Late in the day the White House signalled that there would be no presidential action or statement until at least 8a m CST, Thursday, if then It was locked in a battle of silence with the steel industry

No Comment

The White House declined comment on all questions bearing on the situation and steel firms other than Wheeling were equally silent on their price intentions

Indicative of the importance the President attached to the Wheeling price rise was that fact that he twice announced delays in his scheduled departure for a Palm Beach Easter holiday The latest bulletin put his departure time at 11:30 p m , CST., Thursday

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger turned aside with "no comment" all questions on the steel price situation Administration strategy appeared to be to avoid any statements pending a thorough check particularly to see if larger steel companies followed the Wheeling firm's lead

Coincidence

A Wheeling spokesman said it was "merely a coincidence" that his company's price rise came exactly a year after the industry backed away from its $6 a ton hike in the face of a presidential show of power that still irks the companies

The Justice Department was asked whether the Wheeling price rise might prompt reconvening of the New York grand jury which investigated the industry and was discharged only last month A spokesman said it was "too early to comment on anything of that nature "

The White House also was peppered with questions by reporters jammed into west wing offices But Salinger told them "There is no question you could ask that would elicit an answer about the steel situation

CPPD Claims Policy Creates Much Conflict

. . . ADOPTED BY LEGISLATURE

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday adopted a policy on retail electric service preferences within municipal zoning areas which a Consumers Public Power District attorney warned will "create nearly 300 areas of public power conflict."

The policy, adopted on a 36-3 vote in the form of an amendment to LB220, restricts preferences in zoning areas outside the corporate limits of a community to municipally-owned utilities.

Following adoption of 3 additional amendments, LB220 cleared its first laborious floor test on a 39-0 vote, concluding 3 days of debate.

Prior to the zoning area amendment, the bill had accorded first preference on new loads in such areas to "the supplier which serves the municipality at retail."

Practical effect of the amendment was to deny Consumers preference privileges in the 300 communities which it presently serves at retail.

"It gives preference only to municipalities, and places all public power districts on an equal footing," Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln told the Unicameral.

Mrs. Orme sponsored the amendment, a proposal drafted by Robert Crosby of Lincoln, attorney for Norris Public Power District.

If there is dispute among rural districts and CPPD for new loads in municipal zoning areas, the amendment will allow the proposed new state power review board to settle them, she declared.

'Opening For Fight'

But CPPD attorney Richard Wilson of Lincoln had earlier told a special meeting of legislators and power leaders that such an amendment would "open it up for a fight" around each of the cities Consumers now serves at retail.

Further, he declared, it represented a change in policy earlier "agreed upon by the industry."

Only Sens. George Fleming of Sidney, M. M. Forrester of Anselmo and Harold Stryker of Rising City opposed the amendment. Stryker, one of the major architects of LB220, was the lone senator to speak against it.

The policy would, he said, tend to create "additional situations similar to the one the bill seeks to solve in Lincoln," that is retail electric competition within a city as it expands into its zoning area.

The policy is contrary to that agreed to by the industry-oriented Nebraska Public Power Committee and a meeting last month of power spokesmen, Stryker insisted.

"It is time the Legislature took it on ourselves to eliminate duplication," Stryker said. Zoning area preference for a city's retail electric supplier, whoever it might be, "makes utility sense," he contended.

Kjar Comments

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington insisted that the new policy "carries out the spirit of public power . . . and is entirely proper."

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff charged that Consumers "never intended to give electric distribution systems to the cities" in 1972 as provided by law. "They don't mean to give up anything," he declared.

ANOTHER STORY ON PAGE 23

The amendment, Mrs. Orme said, is supported by rural districts and the City of Lincoln, and "eliminates objections" which municipalities had raised to her earlier proposal which was turned down Tuesday by a single vote.

By providing special privileges only to municipal utilities, she said, the amendment will allow "orderly expansion" of communities and their electric service.

Among other amendments adopted was a provision that costs of the power review board will be borne by electric utilities themselves by assessments in proportion to their gross earnings.

The emergency clause was also attached, making the bill effective upon passage by the Legislature and approval by the governor.

LB220 would create a 5-member board which would set retail service area boundaries not voluntarily agreed to by July 1, 1964; approve all major new generation and transmission facilities, and advise on rate disputes among utilities.

Praise Inflates Dog

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Winston of Adylinn, ace bloodhound of the Salisbury Police Force, recently won acclaim for tracking down a criminal after following his trail for 3 miles. The praise apparently went to the dog's head—he's been posted as missing himself.

Near Broadside Injures Airman, Wife, NU Student

A two-car smashup that Police Lt. Bill Satterthwaite described as "almost a perfect broadside" sent the teenage wife of an airman to the hospital late Wednesday and injured two men.

It was the fourth accident in less than a year at 12th and Butler, neighborhood residents pointed out.

Police said she was riding with her husband, A. 1c William H. Humphries, 21, stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base. Headed north on 12th, Humphries' newly bought convertible was in collision with a westbound car operated by a 19-year-old University of Nebraska student, John H. Jopsen of 1548 S.

The Humphries car was forced into a telephone pole by the collision's force. Jopsen suffered a head bump, Humphries head bruises.

The retired general, a controversial figure before and since leaving the Army, said he was sitting at the desk working on his income tax report when a rifle bullet slammed through the window.

A Walker aide said, "It was inconceivable that he was missed, the shot was so close."

He added: "I've been saying the front was right here at home."

Buffalo, N.Y., (AP)—Cornelius Quicksey, 37, died Wednesday. Police said his wife, Leola, 36, threw a cup of cigarette-lighter fluid on him several weeks ago and set it ablaze with a match.

Quicksey was burned over 50% of his body Feb. 3. He died in Buffalo General Hospital.

Police said his wife was angry after a domestic quarrel and threw the lighter fluid on Quicksey as he dozed on a living-room sofa. Neighbors helped beat out the flames.

Mrs. Quicksey had been free on bail on a charge of second-degree assault. Detectives said a new charge would be filed, but did not specify what it would be.

Sawdon said, "On entering the house, with a warrant obtained on complaint of the county attorney, gambling was observed by the raiding officers." He said the form of gambling was craps, a game played with dice.

The captain said some of the men arrested would be charged with gambling, while others would be charged with being inmates of a house where gambling took place.

CPPD Claims Policy Creates Much Conflict

. . . ADOPTED BY LEGISLATURE

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday adopted a policy on retail electric service preferences within municipal zoning areas which a Consumers Public Power District attorney warned will "create nearly 300 areas of public power conflict."

The policy, adopted on a 36-3 vote in the form of an amendment to LB220, restricts preferences in zoning areas outside the corporate limits of a community to municipally-owned utilities.

Following adoption of 3 additional amendments, LB220 cleared its first laborious floor test on a 39-0 vote, concluding 3 days of debate.

Prior to the zoning area amendment, the bill had accorded first preference on new loads in such areas to "the supplier which serves the municipality at retail."

Practical effect of the amendment was to deny Consumers preference privileges in the 300 communities which it presently serves at retail.

"It gives preference only to municipalities, and places all public power districts on an equal footing," Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln told the Unicameral.

Mrs. Orme sponsored the amendment, a proposal drafted by Robert Crosby of Lincoln, attorney for Norris Public Power District.

If there is dispute among rural districts and CPPD for new loads in municipal zoning areas, the amendment will allow the proposed new state power review board to settle them, she declared.

'Opening For Fight'

But CPPD attorney Richard Wilson of Lincoln had earlier told a special meeting of legislators and power leaders that such an amendment would "open it up for a fight" around each of the cities Consumers now serves at retail.

Further, he declared, it represented a change in policy earlier "agreed upon by the industry."

Only Sens. George Fleming of Sidney, M. M. Forrester of Anselmo and Harold Stryker of Rising City opposed the amendment. Stryker, one of the major architects of LB220, was the lone senator to speak against it.

The policy would, he said, tend to create "additional situations similar to the one the bill seeks to solve in Lincoln," that is retail electric competition within a city as it expands into its zoning area.

The policy is contrary to that agreed to by the industry-oriented Nebraska Public Power Committee and a meeting last month of power spokesmen, Stryker insisted.

"It is time the Legislature took it on ourselves to eliminate duplication," Stryker said. Zoning area preference for a city's retail electric supplier, whoever it might be, "makes utility sense," he contended.

Kjar Comments

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington insisted that the new policy "carries out the spirit of public power . . . and is entirely proper."

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff charged that Consumers "never intended to give electric distribution systems to the cities" in 1972 as provided by law. "They don't mean to give up anything," he declared.

The amendment, Mrs. Orme said, is supported by rural districts and the City of Lincoln, and "eliminates objections" which municipalities had raised to her earlier proposal which was turned down Tuesday by a single vote.

By providing special privileges only to municipal utilities, she said, the amendment will allow "orderly expansion" of communities and their electric service.

Among other amendments adopted was a provision that costs of the power review board will be borne by electric utilities themselves by assessments in proportion to their gross earnings.

The emergency clause was also attached, making the bill effective upon passage by the Legislature and approval by the governor.

LB220 would create a 5-member board which would set retail service area boundaries not voluntarily agreed to by July 1, 1964; approve all major new generation and transmission facilities, and advise on rate disputes among utilities.

Near Broadside Injures Airman, Wife, NU Student

A two-car smashup that Police Lt. Bill Satterthwaite described as "almost a perfect broadside" sent the teenage wife of an airman to the hospital late Wednesday and injured two men.

It was the fourth accident in less than a year at 12th and Butler, neighborhood residents pointed out.

In satisfactory condition with head cuts early Thursday at Lincoln General Hospital was 17-year-old Mrs. Brenda May Humphries of Rt. 5.

Police said she was riding with her husband, A. 1c William H. Humphries, 21, stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base. Headed north on 12th, Humphries' newly bought convertible was in collision with a westbound car operated by a 19-year-old University of Nebraska student, John H. Jepsen of 1548 S.

The Humphries car was forced into a telephone pole by the collision's force. Jepsen suffered a head bump, Humphries head bruises.

Applying The Tax Lid

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There is only one thing wrong with the facetious proposal made by Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud for a limit on the state property tax levy—it could be taken seriously. It was the senator's idea to show the ridiculous nature of the proposal by Sen. F. O. Goltschalk of Columbus, an appointee of Gov. Frank Morrision, to require a vote of the people on an increase of either a sales or income tax should either of them be adopted by the Legislature.

If it's good for the sales and income tax, reasoned Senator Bowen, it is good for the property tax so he suggested a vote of the people be required prior to any increase in the property tax. There is one thing about such an idea; it would greatly simplify the processes of government and save us some money. For one thing, it would permit administrative branches of government to get rid of any personnel who are now involved mainly in budgeting and bookkeeping practices. The departments could set up a certain pattern of spending and budgeting and be done with it for all time.

One Pattern For All Time

And we would save money in many other areas. We would not have to pay so much for administrative personnel because they would be only glorified housekeepers. All they would have to do is spend their money this year the same way they spent it last year. They would need no initiative or imagination or particular ability.

If now and then there was a vote to raise taxes, we could hire an expert who could come in for six months or so and set up all departmental spending as it should be with the new income. He could then go on his way and the departments would all go along automatically until taxes were raised again. But if we were careful enough, we could avoid this expense at least nine out of every 10 years

We could also change the meeting time of the Legislature. It has been proposed that we bring the senators in for annual sessions rather than biennial sessions as is now the case. But with the tax levy automatically set for years in advance, we could go the other way and bring the senators together only once in every four years or so Naturally, with so little to do, we could cut the senators' salaries and the savings all put together would be substantial. An added blessing, free and clear, would fall to the residents of the state. They would not only save money, maybe enough even to paper their homes with it, but would be freed of the responsibilities of citizenship at the state level.

No more would delegations need bother about coming to the governor or the Legislature for one thing or another. No longer would there be any need for advisory committees, survey and studies. The citizen could sit back and relax because everything this year was going to be just as it was last year. No room for your children at the University of Nebraska? Don't think a thing about it. With the taxes you have saved, you can send your boys and girls to another and better institution and almost any other would be better. All of us could just sit (with our money) and watch the people of other states fight and argue over welfare programs, highways, parks, schools, conservation, etc.

As Senator Bowen sought to bring home to the public and his colleagues, a requirement for a vote of the people on raising the state tax levy would simply call a halt to government As a unique idea, however, even this piece of nonsense must take second place to a Revenue Committee request of the attorney general to draft a constitutional amendment permitting the classification of real estate for taxation purposes.

Tax limits have been tried before in various forms at various levels of government, even though they are seldom found at the state level and in precisely this form. But a classification system for property under a property tax is one we have never before heard of.

At least, it is an original thought but that is about all that can be said for it.

Invitation To Disaster

This idea is an open invitation to disaster of all sorts. To begin with, this would permit the Legislature to devise any kind of scheme it wanted in taxing the people. The public would have no idea at all of what taxes might be or how the levy would be applied. And the inequality of the property tax is not just a matter of different classes of property. The big problem with the property tax is that it is no longer any measure of ability to pay as it was many years ago when ownership of property constituted great wealth.

Farms in general may pay an unfair tax bill today but there are substantial inequalities between individual farm taxes. There is the same kind of inequality between urban residential property and probably in a lot of industrial and business property. Certainly, tax considerations in the Legislature this week have reached a high point of absurdity.

"I'm Off To Bold Adventures, Only I Dassn't Cross The Street".

Primary Election Results

Little critical can be said of Tuesday's primary election as results show a greater turnout of voters than was expected and decisions that can be gracefully accepted by all. Obviously, not everyone will agree that the voters made the most intelligent decisions but the list of nominees for the various offices will provide the electorate a solid slate of candidate to choose from on May 7.

The more than 18,000 voters who went to the polls give evidence that the people of Lincoln have a healthy interest in local government. While a great many more voters just stayed at home, the turnout could have been much smaller than it was in view of the fact that no special issues were on the ballot to attract attention.

There is now less than a month left for candidates to make their campaigns and for the electorate to become informed on the nominees. It is to be hoped that both sides undertake their responsibilities in the spirit of constructive service to the community rather than personal ambitions For their own sake, candidates would be better off to avoid smear tactics.

For the voters, they should attempt to become familiar with the qualifications of those seeking office as well as with the ideas or programs endorsed by the candidates Particularly important is voter recognition of the fact that the office of mayor has been changed and demands now a leadership and ability that were not previously the case.

No longer is the mayor just the seventh member of the City Council He, in fact, is not a member at all but will become the head administrator of city government with authority over all city employes and responsibility for the initiation of all public programs and improvements.

A Shrinking Field

The University of Colorado is preparing to drop home economics, a field of study that has long been accepted as fundamental at the college level.

Lack of demand for the studies has prompted the move Only 1 per cent of the 4,341 women attending the university are pursuing home economics majors, and many of them are preparing for business and teaching careers outside the home.

If disinterest is the result, the cause is something deeper. It reflects a change in American home making and in the American housewife. Commented Professor Ruth Blair, the only remaining full professor in the university's home ec department, a high degree of skill is no longer a basic requirement for married life Cooking and baking is no longer a way to a man's heart. It can be had at the grocery store, needing only heating or chilling or unwrapping. While housewives today may possess the finest and most precise appliances for food preparation in all history the need to rely on them is much less. And so it is with clothing and housekeeping. The substitution of services, both within and from without the home, for wifely skill has dulled the challenge of homemaking. The boring routine of pushing buttons or "buying it at the store" has sent many wives back to school or into downtown careers. The only exception is raising the children.

Another cause for the decline in interest in college level home economics is a dubious one. Children are encouraged to date even before they are in their teens. A result is that half the American brides now are under twenty, which means they never pursue homemaking at the college level.

What it adds up to is a diminution of the significance of trained home making and perhaps even a diminution of the significance of the home, itself.

Mellow Ending

John L Lewis, now in his 80s and in the sunset of his career, was honored alike by the miners union, whose hero he was for a generation, and by the coal operators who for almost as long considered him their No. 1 enemy.

There was a mellowing of feelings all down the line, a good deal of it due to changes in Lewis himself He fought the operators relentlessly during their best days, but when the market started falling out from under coal he was wise enough to know that labor and management had a common problem He cooperated in the mechanization of the mines and joined the union with the operators in efforts to recover as much of the lost market as possible He accepted a reduction in the number of miners while the operators met him half way by improvement in the pay and working conditions for the remainder.

In the past time when control of the production of coal gave immense power to the ruler of the miners it was understandable that Lewis at times resorted to power rather than negotiation, and he was a feared man. But it must be said that he was able to do what many despots cannot bring themselves to do. He resorted less and less to sheer power and more and more to arbitration and reason. In a way his changing attitude set a pattern for others who preside on one side or the other over vital industries which are facing changes due to changing times.

The steel industry does not hold the indisputable position it once held. The railroads are in the thick of a controversy stemming from technological and economic change. These would do well to observe the practices of Lewis and the mine operators when the problem confronted them. It would save a great deal of loss and friction being caused by inevitable conditions rather than by wilfulness of management and labor.

JFK Clears Way For Medical Bill

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the No. 1 "Harlem Globetrotter," and Rep. Howard Smith, the Virginia Dixiecrat, are teamed up on the same side. They disagree on almost everything. But ironically, though disagreeing, they were instrumental in blocking the bill to aid medical schools and thereby remedy the doctor shortage

Their positions illustrate the difficulty President Kennedy is having with his legislative program, and the fact that he has to pull wires on Capitol Hill today as if he were still a member of the Senate.

Chairman Smith had shelved this important bill by a tie vote in the Rules Committee when a liberal supporter of medical college aid, Democrat Ray Madden of Indiana, was ill. When he recovered, however, he began to demand a "reconsideration."

At this point, the conservative Virginian used Adam Clayton Powell's position to block consideration. Powell was part of a Democratic-Republican coalition of the House Education and Labor Committee which argued that the medical bill should have been initially drafted by the Education and Labor Committee, of which Powell is chairman

Seizing on this jurisdictional dispute, Smith wrote a letter to President Kennedy saying that he didn't want to reconsider the bill, because of the "dispute" between the two committees. However, Kennedy wasn't taken in. He called House Democratic leaders to a "back-door meeting" at the White House for a showdown.

Kennedy opened the secret meeting by mentioning the letter from Smith and stating that he wanted the jurisdictional row settled.

"This sounds ridiculous to me," he said. "I know that Chairman Smith and some other Southern Democrats are against this legislation, along with most Republicans in the House. But why play into their hands by letting them divide Democrats who are for the bill?"

"Well, I want to stop this discrimination against my committee," spoke up Powell. "It started several years ago when my predecessor, Mr. Barden of North Carolina, was chairman of the Education and Labor Committee. He didn't want to do anything, so some of the bills that normally would have been handled by Barden were assigned to other committees.

"I wholeheartedly agree with Chairman Powell," interposed Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.), "The medical school bill should have been handled by our committee and by my subcommittee."

"That may be true," argued Rep. Boggs, "but let's be practical. We can pass this bill if we can get it out of the Rules Committee."

"Yes, you can deal later with this jurisdictional issue, but we shouldn't let it interfere with enactment of the medical school measure," suggested Kennedy. "Let's get together and pass it."

Soon afterward, the House Rules Committee, with Democrat Madden present and voting, reported the medical bill to the House by an 8-to-7 vote

Meek Haven't Chance To Inherit The Earth

NEW YORK—The simmering controversy over "managed news" in Washington surprises me.

The sense of surprise comes not from the fact of the management of news, but from the wild uproar about it. We live in an era of managed news--worse, of news-managed people. From Pierre Salinger down, there are hundreds of thousands of Americans whose churning gray cells work constantly in an effort to get opinions, personalities or simply their physical characteristics into (or out of) the headlines.

I remember, with considerable awe, a letter I received in 1955 from the late Dr. Albert Einstein.

The doctor wrote that he was sorry he could not give me an interview because he was "trying to avoid all unnecessary publicity."

This was the first, and almost the last, time I'd heard of a man or woman (when not in trouble) refusing to contribute his name and ideas to the front page of a newspaper. Much as I'd have liked to meet the great Einstein and kick around a few equations, I found the refusal to be a shot in the arm—an arm that too often is slapped by press agents barking, "Say, you want an exclusive story on ---"?

I don't know exactly what it is that makes virtually all persons, not to mention places, animals and things, demand publicity. But it's tiresomely true that they do. Any reporter realizes that in this generation, modesty has become a lost delicacy, and that the meek don't stand a chance of inheriting the earth. You've got to have a press agent.

This realization comes over you, for instance, when a wealthy philanthropist hires a publicity firm to tell the story of his good deeds. This happens often.

And when an octogenarian writes to the papers asking that they publicize his fourth wedding in their society pages. Or when a movie starlet hires a press agent to reveal why she, the movie starlet, shies away from publicity.

The most annoying news-managed people of all are the press agents who hire other press agents to promote the story of their personal accomplishments as press agents.

Everything seeks the printed page: psychiatrists, dogs, pastors, business machines, restaurants, beggars, politicians, fashion designers, newspaper writers, non-profit institutions, royalty, the Empire State Building and all periods of furniture.

It is human nature to try to manage news—to publicize the good and conceal the bad. It has always been so, and always will be.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: How can curare be used in surgery without poisoning the patient?—MRS. C.G.B.

Molner

Curare is, in sufficient quantity, a poison, in that it paralyzes muscular activity. It does not damage the tissues, however. It kills by paralyzing, among other things, the breathing muscles, and death in that case, is from lack of oxygen. (Some Indian tribes have used curare as an arrow poison.)

In small amounts, curare is a very valuable drug. It helps to control severe convulsions and muscular spasms, for example. It also is used, again in small amounts, to bring about greater muscular relaxation before surgery.

Curare is only one of many drugs which are poison in large quantities, but useful in small amounts. Take atropine or belladonna, which in overdose can kill but in proper dose has saved thousands of lives. Or sodium fluoride, which is a poison in large doses but at one part per million is put in drinking water to prevent tooth cavities. There are countless other examples.

Dear Dr. Molner: My four-year-old son doesn't talk. The only thing he has ever said is "ma-ma-ma." He seems to understand everything we say, but is very stubborn and hard to make mind unless it is something he wants to do. He gets what he wants by pointing and grunting, and shakes his head for "no." What can be done to help him learn to talk?—MRS. W.

By this age he should be talking a blue streak, of course. Or jabbering pretty well, at least. There's quite a bit of variation in youngsters so I don't believe in getting worried too soon. But I'd have the little fellow examined. There could be some defect in his speech organs that need correcting. If not, a child guidance center might be very helpful.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son, 40, suffers from kidney stones. What causes them? Would a special diet help? —MRS. E.R.

Kidney stones form basically because the urine becomes too highly saturated with certain chemicals — urates, oxalates and phosphates are among them. Then they begin precipitating out as solids, and become "stones" (There are other technicalities involved, but that's essentially it.)

Drinking lots of water to keep the urine dilute is important in preventing more stones. A change in diet also can help, but must be chosen on the basis of study the chemical content of the stones. This may be done also to increase or reduce the acidity of the urine, but here again you need expert guidance to know which way to change.

Dear Dr. Molner: You recently answered a question about swimming after eating. I would like to know if it is all right to take a bath right afterwards or within a hour or so?—F.H.R.

Certainly The swimming danger is that the combined demands for circulation of blood (for digestion; for warmth in the cool or cold water; and for the exertion required) can deprive some muscles of an adequate supply. Rebelling, a muscle has a cramp. And cramps can result in drowning.

A bath is another matter. It isn't strenuous, and it's usually taken in warm water, so you don't run the risk of cramps such as in swimming.

Besides, even if you did have a cramp, you wouldn't drown in the bathtub. You'd just lie there until it relaxed as it soon would. Does this make the difference clear?

Dear Dr. Molner: Six months ago I sat down on the buckle of a seat belt and injured the end of my spine. By evening I could hardly sit down. The pain later subsided but if I have to sit for a long time it is very painful to move again. Is there something I can do or should I see a doctor?—MRS. J.G.

It's the coccyx, or vestigial tail, at the tail of the spine. Bruised, it can remain sensitive for quite a long time. Frankly, there's not much to do except wait for it to recover.

I hope I won't offend you by using your case to warn others. Seat belts are to be worn, not sat on.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've read a lot about high blood pressure but nothing about what to do for low blood pressure.—MRS. T.M.

High blood pressure can be dangerous; low blood pressure unless extreme causes no inconvenience and avoids the hazards, too. It may cause light-headedness or dizziness on arising, or bending over, in some cases. If low blood pressure isn't annoying, in such a way, then just be glad that you're on the safe side.

Dr Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Venezuelan May Finish Peaceful Term

CARACAS — The big man strode purposefully toward the beach, his plump girth enveloped in a cheap blue velour bathcoat. Flanking him were two military aides, the gold braid of their uniforms glittering in the dazzling sunshine.

President Romulo Betancourt kicked off his scuffies and removed his robe and horn-rimmed glasses, while plainclothesmen swarmed about the gay cabanas, and beardless young soldiers armed with submachineguns took vantage spots on the overhanging roofs.

Last of all, the president donned white cotton gloves to protect his deeply scarred hands from the sting of salt water. Then he plunged into the sparkling blue water, as pistol-packing aides guarded the jutting piers.

President Betancourt, whom the Kennedy administration regards as the "great hope" of the Alliance for Progress, is one of the most closely guarded men in the world. This is understandable, for if he peacefully leaves office next February, he will be the first elected president in Venezuelan history to complete his term.

Further, the sensitive hands from which most of the pigmentation has vanished bear mute testimony to an abortive bombing attempt on his life three years ago.

Betancourt, his wife and daughter moved into the luxurious new Macuto-Sheraton Hotel here for two days, to participate in its inaugural festivities.

They occupied the colossal penthouse suite which his predecessor, Dictator Perez Jimenez, had intended for himself and his chums. Built six years ago by the grafting dictator at a cost of $100,000 per room, the hotel had stood vacant since he fled to political asylum in Florida, where he is now in jail awaiting extradition hearings.

Betancourt, eager to attract tourist trade to his struggling but breath-takingly beautiful country, invited the Sheraton chain to complete and operate the hostelry. A planeload of U.S. industrialists, economists and newspaper writers were invited down for the opening.

Before the President's arrival, police scoured the premises for possible sabotage, and had a scare when they found a carrier pigeon perched on the roof. Carefully removing the band from its leg, they unrolled a message from students at the university which gave former Vice President Nixon a spitting, stoning reception several years ago.

The message was a gag. It invited visiting newsmen who wished interviews with the students to send their questions by carrier pigeon.

ROMULO BETANCOURT

Sunning on the beach with President Betancourt, I asked how it felt to be the "marked" man of both the left and right in Latin America. With his daughter, Virginia Perez, serving as interpreter, he replied:

"I must do what I consider my duty Venzuela is a democratic country composed of democratic people who dislike both the traditional dictatorships and the communist ones."

He added that it "feels fine" to be so highly respected by U.S. leaders, and to know that "the North American people" are backing him in his determination to give Venezuela "truly democratic government."

A one-time communist who renounced the party and now suppresses its demonstrations, Betancourt is lifting the standards of the "little people" in this Andes-studded land. Three times as many children attend school as when Betancourt assumed office. Nearly every hamlet now has electricity, sewers and a school.

Restricted by the constitution to one term, Betancourt by no means has the country solidly behind him, despite his efforts to lift the standard of living.

Dr. Isaias Mediana, son of a former Venezuelan president who was deposed in a 1945 revolution led by Betancourt, heads a new movement called the National Front of Opposition. This group seeks to form a coalition of twelve non-communist opposition parties in order to to run a single candidate against Betancourt's party choice this fall.

Mediana in an interview charged that "graft under Betancourt is at least as prevalent as under Perez Jimenez, the land redistricting program is resulting in barren fields, government bureaucracy has increased, and U.S. foreign aid money is being wasted."

Another oppositon leader darkly hinted that "something is cooking," and that within two or three months Betancourt will be overthrown. Informed observers strongly doubt it, and predict that Betancourt's party will win the November elections.

On only one thing do both Betancourt and opposition politicians seem agreed: the U.S. Peace Corps is doing an excellent job, and they would like to have more such volunteers.

Obviously, not everyone will agree that the voters made the most intelligent decisions but the list of nominees for the various offices will provide the electorate a solid slate of candidate to choose from on May 7.

The more than 18,000 voters who went to the polls give evidence that the people of Lincoln have a healthy interest in local government. While a great many more voters just stayed at home, the turnout could have been much smaller than it was in view of the fact that no special issues were on the ballot to attract attention.

There is now less than a month left for candidates to make their campaigns and for the electorate to become informed on the nominees. It is to be hoped that both sides undertake their responsibilities in the spirit of constructive service to the community rather than personal ambitions. For their own sake, candidates would be better off to avoid smear tactics.

For the voters, they should attempt to become familiar with the qualifications of those seeking office as well as with the ideas or programs endorsed by the candidates. Particularly important is voter recognition of the fact that the office of mayor has been changed and demands now a leadership and ability that were not previously the case.

No longer is the mayor just the seventh member of the City Council. He, in fact, is not a member at all but will become the head administrator of city government with authority over all city employes and responsibility for the initiation of all public programs and improvements.

A Shrinking Field

The University of Colorado is preparing to drop home economics, a field of study that has long been accepted as fundamental at the college level.

Lack of demand for the studies has prompted the move. Only 1 per cent of the 4,341 women attending the university are pursuing home economics majors, and many of them are preparing for business and teaching careers outside the home.

If disinterest is the result, the cause is something deeper. It reflects a change in American home making and in the American housewife. Commented Professor Ruth Blair, the only remaining full professor in the university's home ec department, a high degree of skill is no longer a basic requirement for married life. Cooking and baking is no longer a way to a man's heart. It can be had at the grocery store, needing only heating or chilling or unwrapping. While housewives today may possess the finest and most precise appliances for food preparation in all history the need to rely on them is much less. And so it is with clothing and housekeeping. The substitution of services, both within and from without the home, for wifely skill has dulled the challenge of homemaking. The boring routine of pushing buttons or "buying it at the store" has sent many wives back to school or into downtown careers. The only exception is raising the children.

Another cause for the decline in interest in college level home economics is a dubious one. Children are encouraged to date even before they are in their teens. A result is that half the American brides now are under twenty, which means they never pursue homemaking at the college level.

What it adds up to is a diminution of the significance of trained home making and perhaps even a diminution of the significance of the home, itself.

Mellow Ending

John L. Lewis, now in his 80s and in the sunset of his career, was honored alike by the miners union, whose hero he was for a generation, and by the coal operators who for almost as long considered him their No. 1 enemy.

There was a mellowing of feelings all down the line, a good deal of it due to changes in Lewis himself. He fought the operators relentlessly during their best days, but when the market started falling out from under coal he was wise enough to know that labor and management had a common problem. He cooperated in the mechanization of the mines and joined the union with the operators in efforts to recover as much of the lost market as possible. He accepted a reduction in the number of miners while the operators met him half way by improvement in the pay and working conditions for the remainder.

In the past time when control of the production of coal gave immense power to the ruler of the miners it was understandable that Lewis at times resorted to power rather than negotiation, and he was a feared man. But it must be said that he was able to do what many despots cannot bring themselves to do. He resorted less and less to sheer power and more and more to arbitration and reason. In a way his changing attitude set a pattern for others who preside on one side or the other over vital industries which are facing changes due to changing times.

The steel industry does not hold the indisputable position it once held. The railroads are in the thick of a controversy stemming from technological and economic change. These would do well to observe the practices of Lewis and the mine operators when the problem confronted them. It would save a great deal of loss and friction being caused by inevitable conditions rather than by wilfulness of management and labor.

JFK Clears Way For Medical Bill

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the No. 1 "Harlem Globetrotter," and Rep. Howard Smith, the Virginia Dixiecrat, are teamed up on the same side. They disagree on almost everything. But ironically, though disagreeing, they were instrumental in blocking the bill to aid medical schools and thereby remedy the doctor shortage.

Their positions illustrate the difficulty President Kennedy is having with his legislative program, and the fact that he has to pull wires on Capitol Hill today as if he were still a member of the Senate.

Chairman Smith had shelved this important bill by a tie vote in the Rules Committee when a liberal supporter of medical college aid, Democrat Ray Madden of Indiana, was ill. When he recovered, however, he began to demand a "reconsideration."

At this point, the conservative Virginian used Adam Clayton Powell's position to block consideration. Powell was part of a Democratic-Republican coalition of the House Education and Labor Committee which argued that the medical bill should have been initially drafted by the Education and Labor Committee, of which Powell is chairman.

Seizing on this jurisdictional dispute, Smith wrote a letter to President Kennedy saying that he didn't want to reconsider the bill, because of the "dispute" between the two committees. However, Kennedy wasn't taken in. He called House Democratic leaders to a "back-door meeting" at the White House for a showdown.

Kennedy opened the secret meeting by mentioning the letter from Smith and stating that he wanted the jurisdictional row settled.

"This sounds ridiculous to me," he said. "I know that Chairman Smith and some other Southern Democrats are against this legislation, along with most Republicans in the House. But why play into their hands by letting them divide Democrats who are for the bill?"

"Well, I want to stop this discrimination against my committee," spoke up Powell. "It started several years ago when my predecessor, Mr. Barden of North Carolina, was chairman of the Education and Labor Committee. He didn't want to do anything, so some of the bills that normally would have been handled by Barden were assigned to other committees.

"I wholeheartedly agree with Chairman Powell," interposed Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.), "The medical school bill should have been handled by our committee and by my subcommittee."

"That may be true," argued Rep. Boggs, "but let's be practical. We can pass this bill if we can get it out of the Rules Committee."

"Yes, you can deal later with this jurisdictional issue, but we shouldn't let it interfere with enactment of the medical school measure," suggested Kennedy. "Let's get together and pass it."

Soon afterward, the House Rules Committee, with Democrat Madden present and voting, reported the medical bill to the House by an 8-to-7 vote.

Meek Haven't Chance To Inherit The Earth

NEW YORK—The simmering controversy over "managed news" in Washington surprises me.

The sense of surprise comes not from the fact of the management of news, but from the wild uproar about it. We live in an era of managed news—worse, of news-managed people. From Pierre Salinger down, there are hundreds of thousands of Americans whose churning gray cells work constantly in an effort to get opinions, personalities or simply their physical characteristics into (or out of) the headlines.

I remember, with considerable awe, a letter I received in 1955 from the late Dr. Albert Einstein.

The doctor wrote that he was sorry he could not give me an interview because he was "trying to avoid all unnecessary publicity."

This was the first, and almost the last, time I'd heard of a man or woman (when not in trouble) refusing to contribute his name and ideas to the front page of a newspaper. Much as I'd have liked to meet the great Einstein and kick around a few equations, I found the refusal to be a shot in the arm—an arm that too often is slapped by press agents barking, "Say, you want an exclusive story on ---"?

I don't know exactly what it is that makes virtually all persons, not to mention places, animals and things, demand publicity. But it's tiresomely true that they do. Any reporter realizes that in this generation, modesty has become a lost delicacy, and that the meek don't stand a chance of inheriting the earth. You've got to have a press agent.

This realization comes over you, for instance, when a wealthy philanthropist hires a publicity firm to tell the story of his good deeds. This happens often.

And when an octogenarian writes to the papers asking that they publicize his fourth wedding in their society pages. Or when a movie starlet hires a press agent to reveal why she, the movie starlet, shies away from publicity.

The most annoying news-managed people of all are the press agents who hire other press agents to promote the story of their personal accomplishments as press agents.

Everything seeks the printed page: psychiatrists, dogs, pastors, business machines, restaurants, beggars, politicians, fashion designers, newspaper writers, non-profit institutions, royalty, the Empire State Building and all periods of furniture.

It is human nature to try to manage news—to publicize the good and conceal the bad. It has always been so, and always will be.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: How can curare be used in surgery without poisoning the patient?—MRS. C.G.B.

Curare is, in sufficient quantity, a poison, in that it paralyzes muscular activity. It does not damage the tissues, however. It kills by paralyzing, among other things, the breathing muscles, and death in that case, is from lack of oxygen. (Some Indian tribes have used curare as an arrow poison.)

Molner

In small amounts, curare is a very valuable drug. It helps to control severe convulsions and muscular spasms, for example. It also is used, again in small amounts, to bring about greater muscular relaxation before surgery.

Curare is only one of many drugs which are poison in large quantities, but useful in small amounts. Take atropine or belladonna, which in overdose can kill but in proper dose has saved thousands of lives. Or sodium fluoride, which is a poison in large doses but at one part per million is put in drinking water to prevent tooth cavities. There are countless other examples.

Dear Dr. Molner: My four-year-old son doesn't talk. The only thing he has ever said is "ma-ma-ma." He seems to understand everything we say, but is very stubborn and hard to make mind unless it is something he wants to do. He gets what he wants by pointing and grunting, and shakes his head for "no." What can be done to help him learn to talk?—MRS. W.

By this age he should be talking a blue streak, of course. Or jabbering pretty well, at least. There's quite a bit of variation in youngsters so I don't believe in getting worried too soon. But I'd have the little fellow examined. There could be some defect in his speech organs that need correcting. If not, a child guidance center might be very helpful.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son, 40, suffers from kidney stones. What causes them? Would a special diet help? —MRS. E.R.

Kidney stones form basically because the urine becomes too highly saturated with certain chemicals — urates, oxalates and phosphates are among them. Then they begin precipitating out as solids, and become "stones." (There are other technicalities involved, but that's essentially it.)

Drinking lots of water to keep the urine dilute is important in preventing more stones. A change in diet also can help, but must be chosen on the basis of study the chemical content of the stones. This may be done also to increase or reduce the acidity of the urine, but here again you need expert guidance to know which way to change.

Dear Dr. Molner: You recently answered a question about swimming after eating. I would like to know if it is all right to take a bath right afterwards or within a hour or so?—F.H.R.

Certainly. The swimming danger is that the combined demands for circulation of blood (for digestion; for warmth in the cool or cold water; and for the exertion required) can deprive some muscles of an adequate supply. Rebelling, a muscle has a cramp. And cramps can result in drowning.

A bath is another matter. It isn't strenuous, and it's usually taken in warm water, so you don't run the risk of cramps such as in swimming.

Besides, even if you did have a cramp, you wouldn't drown in the bathtub. You'd just lie there until it relaxed as it soon would. Does this make the difference clear?

Dear Dr. Molner: Six months ago I sat down on the buckle of a seat belt and injured the end of my spine. By evening I could hardly sit down. The pain later subsided but if I have to sit for a long time it is very painful to move again. Is there something I can do or should I see a doctor?—MRS. J.G.

It's the coccyx, or vestigial tail, at the tail of the spine. Bruised, it can remain sensitive for quite a long time. Frankly, there's not much to do except wait for it to recover.

I hope I won't offend you by using your case to warn others: Seat belts are to be worn, not sat on.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've read a lot about high blood pressure but nothing about what to do for low blood pressure.—MRS. T.M.

High blood pressure can be dangerous; low blood pressure unless extreme causes no inconvenience and avoids the hazards, too. It may cause light-headedness or dizziness on arising, or bending over, in some cases. If low blood pressure isn't annoying, in such a way, then just be glad that you're on the safe side.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Venezuelan May Finish Peaceful Term

CARACAS — The big man strode purposefully toward the beach, his plump girth enveloped in a cheap blue velour bathcoat. Flanking him were two military aides, the gold braid of their uniforms glittering in the dazzling sunshine.

President Romulo Betancourt kicked off his scuffies and removed his robe and horn-rimmed glasses, while plainclothesmen swarmed about the gay cabanas, and beardless young soldiers armed with submachineguns took vantage spots on the overhanging roofs.

Last of all, the president donned white cotton gloves to protect his deeply scarred hands from the sting of salt water. Then he plunged into the sparkling blue water, as pistol-packing aides guarded the jutting piers.

President Betancourt, whom the Kennedy administration regards as the "great hope" of the Alliance for Progress, is one of the most closely guarded men in the world. This is understandable, for if he peacefully leaves office next February, he will be the first elected president in Venezuelan history to complete his term.

Further, the sensitive hands from which most of the pigmentation has vanished bear mute testimony to an abortive bombing attempt on his life three years ago.

Betancourt, his wife and daughter moved into the luxurious new Macuto-Sheraton Hotel here for two days, to participate in its inaugural festivities.

They occupied the colossal penthouse suite which his predecessor, Dictator Perez Jimenez, had intended for himself and his chums. Built six years ago by the grafting dictator at a cost of $100,000 per room, the hotel had stood vacant since he fled to political asylum in Florida, where he is now in jail awaiting extradition hearings.

Betancourt, eager to attract tourist trade to his struggling but breath-takingly beautiful country, invited the Sheraton chain to complete and operate the hostelry. A planeload of U.S. industrialists, economists and newspaper writers were invited down for the opening.

Before the President's arrival, police scoured the premises for possible sabotage, and had a scare when they found a carrier pigeon perched on the roof. Carefully removing the band from its leg, they unrolled a message from students at the university which gave former Vice President Nixon a spitting, stoning reception several years ago.

The message was a gag. It invited visiting newsmen who wished interviews with the students to send their questions by carrier pigeon.

Sunning on the beach with President Betancourt, I asked how it felt to be the "marked" man of both the left and right in Latin America. With his daughter, Virginia Perez, serving as interpreter. he replied:

"I must do what I consider my duty. Venzuela is a democratic country composed of democratic people who dislike both the traditional dictatorships and the communist ones."

He added that it "feels fine" to be so highly respected by U.S. leaders, and to know that "the North American people" are backing him in his determination to give Venezuela "truly democratic government."

A one-time communist who renounced the party and now suppresses its demonstrations, Betancourt is lifting the standards of the "little people" in this Andes-studded land. Three times as many children attend school as when Betancourt assumed office. Nearly every hamlet now has electricity, sewers and a school.

Restricted by the constitution to one term, Betancourt by no means has the country solidly behind him, despite his efforts to lift the standard of living.

Dr. Isaias Mediana, son of a former Venezuelan president who was deposed in a 1945 revolution led by Betancourt, heads a new movement called the National Front of Opposition. This group seeks to form a coalition of twelve non-communist opposition parties in order to to run a single candidate against Betancourt's party choice this fall.

Mediana in an interview charged that "graft under Betancourt is at least as prevalent as under Perez Jimenez, the land redistricting program is resulting in barren fields, government bureaucracy has increased, and U.S. foreign aid money is being wasted."

Another oppositon leader darkly hinted that "something is cooking," and that within two or three months Betancourt will be overthrown. Informed observers strongly doubt it, and predict that Betancourt's party will win the November elections.

On only one thing do both Betancourt and opposition politicians seem agreed: the U.S. Peace Corps is doing an excellent job, and they would like to have more such volunteers.

Pain Not Due To Age

By ROBERT PETERSON

There's a deep truth somewhere in the old joke about two elders discussing their ailments: "That pain in your leg must be due to age," said one. "Nonsense," replied the friend, "my other leg is the same age and it doesn't hurt a bit."

We're always quick to attribute pains to age. But what about other parts of the body which give us no pain? They're just as old, give us no difficulty should be proof positive that age per se should not be blamed. The real culprits are disease and injuries.

Actually, there's no such thing as a disease of old age. All the diseases found among older people, including arthritis and arteriosclerosis, can be found among younger people as well. The fact that some diseases appear more frequently in later life is simply because the older individual has less resistance to them than youngsters.

When science learns to control all groups of diseases as effectively as it has learned to control the infectious group, man will glide easily to the century mark and beyond with his motor humming efficiently and with a minimum of complaint that he isn't driving the latest model.

Unemployment plagues many folks past 40. But it's encouraging to note in Thomas Curtis' new book, "87 Million Jobs" that we don't lack jobs, but rather we lack people with skills to find and fill higher level jobs.

The author's provocative plan calls for a national clearinghouse to classify job opportunities, and then disseminate this information to the public, the schools and employers across the nation.

He would also like to see the unemployment insurance system revamped to give benefits only to unemployed workers willing to train for new skills, and deny benefits to those who refuse. And rather than use Federal money to create jobs to fit available skills, he soundly contends we should upgrade skills to fit available jobs.

Go someplace you've heard about, where you can fish or hunt or collect rocks or just look up at the sky. Find out what's at the end of some country road. Zoning Change Proposals Put Off For Hearing

Proposed zoning code changes increasing the minimum width for residential lots by 10 feet, but retaining present area requirements, were deferred Wednesday for further hearing April 24 by the City-County Planning Commission.

The proposed changes would require 60-foot lots with 6,000 square feet in "A-2" residential zoning and a 70-foot lot with 9,000 square feet minimum in "A-1" zoning.

Present lots and subdivisions of record would not be affected.

General opposition to the proposed amendments was voiced by James Hacker, president of the Home Builders Association of Lincoln, and Joe Hampton and Ervin Peterson as builders.

Make It Harder

Peterson said the 60-foot minimum width would make it more difficult to build "minimum housing," which he described as the $8,900 to $9,500 price range.

He said the additional 10 feet would add $450 to $500 to a lot's cost in paving and utilities.

However, Planning Director Douglas Brogden and M. E. Shaeffer, a Lincoln consulting engineer, advised the commission that few new subdivisions with less than 60-foot lots have been platted in the past several years.

Minor Cost

Eldridge Lovelace, a Harland Bartholomew & Associates planning consultant, said the additional cost was minor compared with the advantages to the home owner.

"Land patterns are permanent — and the planner hopes conceived layouts will endure 100 years or more," he said. "If the land pattern is good, only the buildings need to change with the years and growth."

Lovelace said the "community unit plan" provisions in Lincoln's zoning code give a flexibility in developing unusual land areas when a flat application of zoning requirements would be impractical.

He said Lincoln appears to be following its comprehensive plan better than some other cities.

He also suggested stepping up enforcement of special use permit provisions. He noted that he saw a number of violations during a tour of the city.

In other action, the commission scheduled hearing for April 24 on a zoning code amendment that would require off-street parking in "K" light industrial districts similar to that now required in "M" restricted industrial districts.

Commission Approves New Zoning

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday recommended "A-2" residential zoning for two proposed subdivisions totalling 60 acres in the College View area.

The zoning change would reduce the minimum lot area to 6,000 square feet from 9,000.

The recommendation to the City Council was approved by a 5-0 commission vote and included:

—a 20-acre tract, owned by Hubert H. Hall, located east of 48th and south of LaSalle.

—a 40-acre tract, owned by Earl A. Boeckner and others, between 48th and 52nd, Woodland Ave. and Highway 2.

Urges Zoning Reduction

Attorney L. J. Marti, representing Hall, urged the zoning reduction to permit the development of small, modestly-priced homes in the area and because of the proximity to business, industrial and other A-2 zoning.

The commission also approved a special permit to Jack B. Ailes to construct a one-story medical building near the northwest corner of 64th and Platte.

Ailes said the proposed one-story building would provide space for a maximum of 5 doctors and dentists and off-street parking for 36 cars.

The commission denied the applications of Herbert E. Gordon and George H. Nuss for commercial zoning of two lots near the northwest corner of 27th and Q.

The commission was advised Gordon was not agreeable to a compromise plan providing for expansion of an existing building with a special permit for off-street parking.

Other commission action:

—consented to Alan D. Farmer's withdrawal of an application of two-family zoning at the northeast corner of 35th and X.

—deferred Northern Propane Gas Company's application for heavy industrial zoning of a 400-by-1,396 foot tract at the southeast corner of 27th and Superior for lack of a quorum vote.

—deferred Lawrence Tebbetts' request for multiple-family zoning on two lots at southeast corner of 46th and G for lack of quorum vote.

—deferred a special permit, requested by First National Bank as trustee, for an off-street parking lot at 1716 K because of lack of a quorum vote.

—approved final plats of Flower Land Replat, 9 lots near 37th and Prescott; Capitol Beach Manor, part of a proposed 450-lot subdivision, adjoining the Capitol Beach Lake; and Sunset Acres, a 11-lot plat near 44th and Colfax.

—approved preliminary plats of Galaxie Addition, 10 lots near 42nd and Way, and Woodland Terrace Subdivision from 48th to 52nd and south of Claire Ave.

Commission members present at the regular meeting were Faulkner, Mrs. Miller, Ginsberg, Woods and Simon. Absent were Green, Selleck, Dobbs and Warner.

4 Businessmen Named To Lincoln Foundation

Four Lincoln businessmen were named members of the Lincoln Foundation Inc. at the annual meeting of the Foundation board of directors Wednesday.

Named to fill vacancies created by deaths of incorporators were John Angle, George B. Cook, Arnott Folsom and Thomas C. Woods Jr.

Myron Weil was named the 9th member of the executive committee after the board approved enlarging the committee from 8 to 9 members.

Officers Re-elected

Directors re-elected for a 3-year term are: E. J. Faulkner, John K. Selleck, Carl W. Olson, Mrs. Hill, Thomas Pansing, George P. Abel Jr. and Potter.

The board commended Wells for his service and untiring efforts in the Lincoln Foundation, and formally acknowledged the $1,350,000 gift of the Woods Charitable Fund to provide a community services building in Lincoln.

The new building, which will be located at 15th and N, will be leased to the Lincoln Community Chest and Council, which will, in turn, operate it for the benefit of Chest agencies, and other non-profit, independent, health, welfare and civic organizations.

—Scholarship for special training in work with handicapped children at Kansas Medical Center, $200.
—Lincoln Community Council Study on Alcoholism, $5,500.
—YWCA for special summer work with Indian community, $2,000.
—Graduate School of Social Work Training Unit, $1,400.
—Lincoln Children's Zoo, $1,000.
—Red Cross for swimming pool lift at YWCA, $600.
—Lincoln Council of Churches—Symposium, $500.
—Lincoln City Library Treasure Room, $9,064.
—Lincoln Hospital Survey, $23,000.
—Lincoln Chest and Council Publication of Handbook, $1,100.

Wells also reported on "encouraging growth" in the use of the Lincoln Foundation's Book of Memory during the past year.

As of April 1, 260 names were inscribed in the book, representing contributions ranging from $5 to $200, he said.

Top Arterial Lighting Bid $6,400 Below City Estimate

The apparent low bid of $33,600 for the arterial relighting of So. 48th from O to Normal and South from 37th to 18th was opened Wednesday by the city.

The bid of ABC Electric Co., Lincoln, was $6,400 below the engineering estimate.

Other bidders, also local firms, were Mason Electric Co., $34,712; Commonwealth Electric Co., $38,700, and Knox Construction Co., $46,398.

1962-63 Program

The relighting project calls for the installation of mercury-vapor illuminaries and is part of the budgeted 1962-63 program.

City officials have indicated that city crews will be used to make a similar installation on other portions of South, including 9th to 13th and 40th to 48th.

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was apparently low at $202,421 on Paving District 1851 which includes all streets in Hoppe Heights subdivision extending from 40th to 48th south of LaSalle.

Only other bidder was Pioneer Paving Co. at $207,450.10.

Dobson was also low at $4,607 for construction of a storm sewer in Aylesworth from 59th to 60th. Only other bidder was Chambers Construction Co. at $5,000.

City officials said an engineering recommendation on the bids would be made Monday to the City Council.

Motorist Molests 16-Year-Old Girl

A 16-year-old Lincoln girl was molested by the driver of a car containing two other young men near 84th and Holdrege after she was threatened with a knife.

The girl told police she got into the car with the 3 and they took her out into the country while she cried and objected.

She said the driver of the car molested her while the other two waited outside the vehicle.

Reports said the 3 had "walkie-talkies" and the driver of the car conversed with the other two while he was molesting the girl.

Zoning Change Proposals Put Off For Hearing

Proposed zoning code changes increasing the minimum width for residential lots by 10 feet, but retaining present area requirements, were deferred Wednesday for further hearing April 24 by the City-County Planning Commission.

The proposed changes would require 60-foot lots with 6,000 square feet in "A-2" residential zoning and a 70-foot lot with 9,000 square feet minimum in "A-1" zoning.

Present lots and subdivisions of record would not be affected.

General opposition to the proposed amendments was voiced by James Hacker, president of the Home Builders Association of Lincoln, and Joe Hampton and Ervin Peterson as builders.

Make it Harder

Peterson said the 60-foot minimum width would make it more difficult to build "minimum housing," which he described as the $8,900 to $9,500 price range.

He said the additional 10 feet would add $450 to $500 to a lot's cost in paving and utilities.

However, Planning Director Douglas Brogden and M. E. Shaeffer, a Lincoln consulting engineer, advised the commission that few new subdivisions with less than 60-foot lots have been platted in the past several years.

Minor Cost

Eldridge Lovelace, a Harland Bartholomew & Associates planning consultant, said the additional cost was minor compared with the advantages to the home owner.

"Land patterns are permanent — and the planner hopes conceived layouts will endure 100 years or more," he said. "If the land pattern is good, only the buildings need to change with the years and growth."

Lovelace said the "community unit plan" provisions in Lincoln's zoning code give a flexibility in developing unusual land areas when a flat application of zoning requirements would be impractical.

He said Lincoln appears to be following its comprehensive plan better than some other cities.

He also suggested stepping up enforcement of special use permit provisions. He noted that he saw a number of violations during a tour of the city.

In other action, the commission scheduled hearing for April 24 on a zoning code amendment that would require off-street parking in "K" light industrial districts similar to that now required in "M" restricted industrial districts.

Commission Approves New Zoning

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday recommended "A-2" residential zoning for two proposed subdivisions totalling 60 acres in the College View area.

The zoning change would reduce the minimum lot area to 6,000 square feet from 9,000.

The recommendation to the City Council was approved by a 5-0 commission vote and included:

—a 20-acre tract, owned by Hubert H. Hall, located east of 48th and south of LaSalle.

—a 40-acre tract, owned by Earl A. Boeckner and others, between 48th and 52nd, Woodland Ave. and Highway 2.

Urges Zoning Reduction

Attorney L. J. Marti, representing Hall, urged the zoning reduction to permit the development of small, modestly-priced homes in the area and because of the proximity to business, industrial and other A-2 zoning.

The commission also approved a special permit to Jack B. Ailes to construct a one-story medical building near the northwest corner of 64th and Platte.

Ailes said the proposed one-story building would provide space for a maximum of 5 doctors and dentists and off-street parking for 36 cars.

The commission denied the applications of Herbert E. Gordon and George H. Nuss for commercial zoning of two lots near the northwest corner of 27th and Q.

The commission was advised Gordon was not agreeable to a compromise plan providing for expansion of an existing building with a special permit for off-street parking.

Other commission action:

—consented to Alan D. Farmer's withdrawal of an application of two-family zoning at the northeast corner of 35th and X.

—deferred Northern Propane Gas Company's application for heavy industrial zoning of a 400-by-1,396 foot tract at the southeast corner of 27th and Superior for lack of a quorum vote.

—deferred Lawrence Tebbetts' request for multiple-family zoning on two lots at southeast corner of 40th and G for lack of quorum vote.

—deferred a special permit, requested by First National Bank as trustee, for an off-street parking lot at 1716 K because of lack of a quorum vote.

—approved final plats of Flower Land Replat, 9 lots near 37th and Prescott; Capitol Beach Manor, part of a proposed 456-lot subdivision, adjoining the Capitol Beach Lake; and Sunset Acres, a 11-lot plat near 44th and Colfax.

—approved preliminary plats of Galaxie Addition, 10 lots near 42nd and Way, and Woodland Terrace Subdivision from 48th to 52nd and south of Claire Ave.

Commission members present at the regular meeting were Faulkner, Mrs. Miller, Ginsberg, Woods and Simon. Absent were Green, Selleck, Dobbs and Warner.

Top Arterial Lighting Bid $6,400 Below City Estimate

The apparent low bid of $33,600 for the arterial relighting of So. 48th from O to Normal and South from 37th to 18th was opened Wednesday by the city.

The bid of ABC Electric Co., Lincoln, was $6,400 below the engineering estimate.

City officials have indicated that city crews will be used to make a similar installation on other portions of South, including 9th to 13th and 40th to 48th.

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was apparently low at $202,421 on Paving District 1851 which includes all streets in Hoppe Heights subdivision extending from 40th to 48th south of LaSalle.

Only other bidder was Pioneer Paving Co. at $207,450.10.

Dobson was also low at $4,887 for construction of a storm sewer in Aylesworth from 59th to 60th. Only other bidder was Chambers Construction Co. at $5,000.

City officials said an engineering recommendation on the bids would be made Monday to the City Council.

City Again Seeking Aid For Erickson

The City of Lincoln is again looking for a deputy director of public works

Mayor D. L. Tyrrell Wednesday confirmed that Lt Col Walter J Sanderson has been advised the position will not be held open for him until November

Col. Sanderson, now stationed in Germany, conditionally accepted the $11,000 a-year post last October, but later replied to a city inquiry that he would not be able to retire from the U S Army Corps of Engineers until November.

Tyrrell's letter also advises the colonel that the city is seeking a qualified engineer elsewhere to fill the post as soon as possible

The deputy post, officially titled superintendent of public works, would be directly under Public Works Director D L Erickson

Successor Authorized

The City Council authorized 3 years ago the hiring of a public works trainee to succeed Erickson, 72, when he retires, but so far efforts to fill the post have failed

Personnel Director Ray Ramsay said his office is again accepting applications for the post, but no prospects have turned up thus far

Erickson and City Engineer Carl Fisher are now affected by the city's new compulsory retirement ordinance and must request council approval to continue in their posts on a year to year basis after June 1

Fisher must retire in November, 1964, and Erickson in October 1965, under present personnel code provisions

'Lincoln Set To Meet Any Tornado Threat'

"Lincoln is prepared on a community-wide, well organized basis to meet the threat of tornadoes" Civil Defense Director Richard Vesteckа said Wednesday

A special tornado warning system, designed to immediately inform the public of approaching tornadoes, includes a network which connects news media through direct broadcast lines with the Lincoln Weather Bureau

The public will be further warned in case of serious storms and tornadoes by the sounding of Civil Defense sirens

LAFB Will Assist

According to Maj George A Wright of Lincoln Air Force Base, Air Force weather radar equipment will be used to assist in detecting tornadoes and that information will be transmitted directly to the Weather Bureau

"The tornado warning system means that the residents of Lincoln and southeastern Nebraska will learn almost immediately of any serious threats to their safety," Vesteckа said

"It also means that much false information will be avoided because all reports will be studied and processed by the weather bureau staff headed by R E Myers," he added

Lad, 8, Runs Into Side Of Car And Breaks Left Arm

An 8 year old boy was listed in good condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital after he ran into the side of a car at 68th and Vine Wednesday

Officer Ernest Berry identified the injured boy as Terry Smith of 836 No 68th, who the hospital said suffered a broken left arm

Berry identified the driver of the car as Ruth L Dunlap, 45 of 1073 Colony Lane

Lt R J McMeen said a witness, Curt Sissom of 220 Sycamore Drive who was driving behind the Dunlap car, administered mouth to mouth artificial respiration to the Smith boy as he was unconscious immediately after the accident

Terry is the brother of Dale Smith, who was badly burned April 16, 1962, when gasoline he was using to clean up spilled paint caught fire

CPPD Assembling Data Requested By Lincoln

Consumers Public Power District is assembling data "that is available in its records" as requested by the Lincoln Power Advisory Board

CPPD President Frederick Wagener of Lincoln also said Wednesday that he is requesting the same power information from the city as the city seeks from Consumers

Wagener said the city information is needed so both groups may have as many facts as possible prior to a specific negotiations on possible merging of the two electric facilities in Lincoln

Special Analysis

In a letter to the power board Wagener said some material sought by the city is not readily available in records and would require special engineering and financial analysis as well as expenditure of funds

In "fairness to all of Consumers' customers throughout the state," he said," the cost of any special studies must necessarily be assumed by the municipality requesting such material"

He added this is in keeping with a long standing policy.

Some weeks ago the City Power Advisory Board requested that Consumers make available to the city certain information regarding revenue and expenditures in Lincoln for the past 3 years, other operating information, and the present status of the bonded debt against Consumers' Lincoln properties and projected status in 1972 when the city could elect to acquire Consumers' facilities in the city with voter approval

City Again Seeking Aid For Erickson

The City of Lincoln is again looking for a deputy director of public works.

Mayor D. L. Tyrrell Wednesday confirmed that Lt. Col. Walter J. Sanderson has been advised the position will not be held open for him until November.

Col. Sanderson, now stationed in Germany, conditionally accepted the $11,000-a-year post last October, but later replied to a city inquiry that he would not be able to retire from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers until November.

Tyrrell's letter also advises the colonel that the city is seeking a qualified engineer elsewhere to fill the post as soon as possible.

The deputy post, officially titled superintendent of public works, would be directly under Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

Successor Authorized

The City Council authorized 3 years ago the hiring of a public works trainee to succeed Erickson, 72, when he retires, but so far efforts to fill the post have failed.

Personnel Director Ray Ramsay said his office is again accepting applications for the post, but no prospects have turned up thus far.

Erickson and City Engineer Carl Fisher are now affected by the city's new compulsory retirement ordinance and must request council approval to continue in their posts on a year-to-year basis after June 1.

Fisher must retire in November, 1964, and Erickson in October, 1965, under present personnel code provisions.

Boys Says He Shot Arrow Through Window Of Train

A 16-year-old Lincoln youth admitted shooting a steel-tipped arrow through a glass window in the last car of a passenger train as it passed through Lincoln Tuesday.

The Burlington train was hit near 14th and New Hampshire after the youth shot "the arrow at the wheels of the train," not intending to hit the window, according to what he told police.

The arrow went through the window and broke the glass. No one was hit by the arrow.

'Lincoln Set To Meet Any Tornado Threat'

"Lincoln is prepared on a community-wide, well-organized basis to meet the threat of tornadoes," Civil Defense Director Richard Vestecka said Wednesday.

A special tornado warning system, designed to immediately inform the public of approaching tornadoes, includes a network which connects news media through direct broadcast lines with the Lincoln Weather Bureau.

The public will be further warned in case of serious storms and tornadoes by the sounding of Civil Defense sirens.

LAFB Will Assist

According to Maj. George A. Wright of Lincoln Air Force Base, Air Force weather radar equipment will be used to assist in detecting tornadoes and that information will be transmitted directly to the Weather Bureau.

"The tornado warning system means that the residents of Lincoln and southeastern Nebraska will learn almost immediately of any serious threats to their safety," Vestecka said.

Labor Committee Axes $1 Minimum Wage

A bill setting $1 as the minimum hourly wage in Nebraska was killed Wednesday on a 4-2 vote of the Legislature's Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

The measure, LB287, thus encountered the fate of similar bills at previous unicameral sessions.

Introduced by Omaha Sens. William Skarda Jr., Eugene Mahoney and Sam Klaver, the bill was supported by organized labor at its public hearing earlier this month. But it was opposed by employers, some of whom said they would be forced either to fire some employes or raise prices if the $1 minimum became law.

Salary Boost

In other action at a special executive session Wednesday, the committee amended a bill dealing with salaries of the Workmen's Compensation Court to hike them from $8,500 to $10,000 and then sent the bill to the floor on a 4-2 vote with the emergency clause attached.

As introduced by Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, LB340 would have prescribed that Compensation Court judges draw the same pay as District Court judges, currently $11,000 a year.

A motion to advance the bill as written failed for want of a second, the amendment to $10,000 carried 4-1, a kill motion failed for want of a second and the amended bill then was reported out.

Direct Payment

Sent to the floor 6-0 was LB328, principally introduced by Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln, which provides for direct payments to vendors such as doctors, dentists and druggists for health services and supplies given assistance recipients.

The bill got its public hearing nearly two months ago and was supported by doctors and other practitioners.

Reported out 5-0 was LB522, Sen. Orme's bill specifying that when a child is transferred from the State Children's Home to some other state institution, the Department of Public Welfare shall have no duty to make payments to such other state institution.

Hold Bill To Triple Access Share

A bill to triple the amount of state gas tax money going into the "Access Road Fund" created by the 1961 Legislature drew no opposition at a public hearing Wednesday but was held for later action by the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

Committee action will be deferred to await the outcome of LB469, which in effect would increase the motor vehicle license fee $5 per year with part of the revenue going for access roads to state parks and recreation areas.

The measure heard Wednesday, LB310, was introduced by Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton and other members of an interim study committee on tourism.

State To Pay Half

The bill would increase from $10,000 to $30,000 monthly the amount placed in the Access Road Fund and remove the requirement that the county fund 25% of the road construction involved, with the state funding 25% and the federal government 50%. Instead, the state would pay 50% of the cost, with the remainder to be matched from federal funds or other available funds.

Former Gov. Robert Crosby, representing the Better Nebraska Association, supported the measure.

In other action, the committee

—Heard, amended and advanced 7-0 LB665, by Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, revising technical standards for tractor fuels.

—Heard and held LB573, by Sen. William R. Skarda Jr. of Omaha, requiring certificates of safety from transporters of motor vehicle fuels before permits will be issued.

Three bills given public hearing earlier were killed on 5-2 votes during an executive session:

LB551—Extending eminent domain powers of the state department of roads to cover land in political subdivisions of government.

LB559—Extending provisions of law covering the Omaha airport authority so as to make them applicable also to the Lincoln airport authority.

Committee OKs Joint Parks Bill

The Legislature's Government Committee Wednesday approved 6-0 a bill permitting cities, villages, school districts and counties to join with each other for the purpose of providing adequate recreation programs.

The bill excludes public power districts and irrigation districts.

Introduced by Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, the measure, LB756, was supported by a host of witnesses from the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Nebraska Parks and Recreation Association (NPRA).

Fund Accumulation

To finance programs involving parks, playgrounds, swimming and other recreational facilities, the bill provides that the subdivisions—cities, villages, etc.—shall have the power to levy a tax upon all taxable property in their jurisdictions, and that such levy shall be accumulated as sinking fund from year to year.

Fair Housing Practices Bill Skips Through Its Public Hearing Unopposed

A fair housing practices act skipped through its public hearing before the Labor and Public Welfare Committee Wednesday without opposition

But two major proposals supported by organized labor —LB501, banning employment of professional strikebreakers, and LB490, establishing a new predetermined highway minimum wage policy — attracted heavy opposition from management.

A fourth bill, LB462, providing for withholding of wages of government employes for voluntary participation in organizations and fund drives, ran into opposing testimony from cities, counties and Sen Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City

All 4 proposals were held for later action

An amended version of the fair housing bill, LB596, would establish a public policy of "equal housing opportunities for all regardless of their race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry"

The bill provides for enforcement by the State Real Estate Commission and penalties not to exceed $500, or 150 days imprisonment, or both.

A parade of witnesses representing church and social welfare organizations joined Negro spokesmen in supporting the bill

New High Mark

"This Legislature," the Rev Carroll Lemon of Lincoln said, "is establishing a new high mark in race relations"

Negro housing problems are largely confined to Omaha and Lincoln, the committee was told. Douglas County itself houses 25,000 of the state's 29,000 Negroes

Within Omaha, they are "confined within an overcrowded ghetto" in the Near North Side, unable to move elsewhere because of housing discrimination, Walter James Jr of Omaha told the committee

The strikebreaker bill, Sen Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said, would "insure a measure of industrial peace in a strike situation and prevent dangerous and explosive situations"

State AFL-CIO President Richard Nisley of Omaha termed "these outsiders" a third party which "takes advantage of labor-management disputes and delays their settlement"

Earl Luff of Lincoln, speaking for the State Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Nebraska, said the bill is "part of a concentrated program to make Nebraska appear to be less attractive to industry"

LB490 would change Nebraska's predetermined highway minimum wage formula on federal-aid projects from a basis of the prevailing wage among 50% of all contractors to a basis of 50% of the dollar volume of highway contracts

Fair Housing Practices Bill Skips Through Its Public Hearing Unopposed

A fair housing practices act skipped through its public hearing before the Labor and Public Welfare Committee Wednesday without opposition.

But two major proposals supported by organized labor —LB501, banning employment of professional strikebreakers, and LB490, establishing a new predetermined highway minimum wage policy — attracted heavy opposition from management.

A fourth bill, LB462, providing for withholding of wages of government employes for voluntary participation in organizations and fund drives, ran into opposing testimony from cities, counties and Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City.

All 4 proposals were held for later action.

An amended version of the fair housing bill, LB596, would establish a public policy of "equal housing opportunities for all regardless of their race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry."

The bill provides for enforcement by the State Real Estate Commission and penalties not to exceed $500, or 150 days imprisonment, or both.

A parade of witnesses representing church and social welfare organizationa joined Negro spokesmen in supporting the bill.

New High Mark

"This Legislature," the Rev. Carroll Lemon of Lincoln said, "is establishing a new high mark in race relations."

Negro housing problems are largely confined to Omaha and Lincoln, the committee was told. Douglas County itself houses 25,000 of the state's 29,000 Negroes.

Within Omaha, they are "confined within an overcrowded ghetto" in the Near North Side, unable to move elsewhere because of housing discrimination, Walter James Jr. of Omaha told the committee.

The strikebreaker bill, Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said, would "insure a measure of industrial peace in a strike situation . . . and prevent dangerous and explosive situations."

State AFL-CIO President Richard Nisley of Omaha termed "these outsiders" a third party which "takes advantage of labor-management disputes and delays their settlement."

Earl Luff of Lincoln, speaking for the State Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Nebraska, said the bill is "part of a concentrated program to make Nebraska appear to be less attractive to industry."

LB490 would change Nebraska's predetermined highway minimum wage formula on federal-aid projects from a basis of the prevailing wage among 50% of all contractors to a basis of 50% of the dollar volume of highway contracts.

French Will Back Plan For NATO N-Force

Paris (AP) — France Wednesday joined its 14 fellow-members of the Atlantic Alliance in a decision to set up a unified nuclear command with air and sea strike forces, informed sources reported.

The action foreshadowed creation of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nuclear force when alliance foreign ministers meet in Ottawa May 22-24.

Qualified sources reported the decision after U.S. secretary of State Dean Rusk addressed the NATO permanent council on current moves to establish a nuclear force within the framework of the alliance.

Will Contribute

Besides France, the United States and Britain, nations that will contribute aircraft to the inter-Allied force are West Germany, Italy, Canada, Belgium and Holland.

American nuclear-powered submarines, now assigned to the Mediterranean, will be placed within the united command under U.S. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, who is supreme commander of Allied Forces, Europe.

France's agreement to participate does not mean President Charles de Gaulle will throw French national nuclear resources into the NATO pool, as the British have done with their V-bomber force. It means only that two French squadrons, now based in Germany, will join the unified command and will take on American nuclear weapons.

Press Forward

De Gaulle is understood to have advised Rusk Monday that France intends to press forward with its policy of developing a national nuclear deterrent. He still stands pat on his refusal to buy Polaris missiles from the United States as the British have agreed to do under the Dec. 21 Nassau agreement between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan. And finally the French leader has shown no signs of going back on his longstanding decision barring U.S. nuclear stockpiles on French soil.

Laborer Jailed

A 23-year-old laborer was jailed by police Wednesday after admitting a series of acts of indecent exposure Sunday. Police said the man was arrested from his description given by witnesses on A between 14th and 15th.

Youth Job Bill Passed By Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate passed Wednesday night President Kennedy's youth employment bill, designed to furnish hundreds of thousands of jobs* in conservation camps and local public service projects.

The vote was 50 to 34.

The vote gave the President his second Senate victory in a week on a major item in his 1963 legislative program. Last Thursday the body cleared his $375-million mass transit subsidy measure.

Most Republicans fought the youth bill, as they had the transit proposal, but they did not stress the big spending argument so much.

Instead, they insisted that the conservation camps in the youth measure represented an attempt to revive an outmoded new deal concept of the 1930's. The real need now, GOP senators said, is for vocational training to teach skills to jobless youths.

Democratic sponsors said they did not regard the bill as a panacea for all of the unemployment problems of young persons.

But they said it would offer hope to many thousands now on the streets, particularly high school dropouts.

Bowles Going Back To India On July 15

New Delhi, India (AP) — Chester Bowles will return to India as U.S. ambassador on July 15, Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith, announced Wednesday.

Galbraith is retiring to resume teaching at Harvard.

Bowles had served as ambassador here from 1951 to 1953. He was named to return to the post by President Kennedy Saturday.

Convict Baker's Union Boss On Embezzlement Charges

Washington (AP) — James G. Cross, resigned president of a bakery workers union long enmeshed in scandals, was convicted Wednesday on embezzlement and conspiracy charges that could send him to prison for 25 years.

A federal district court jury deliberated 12 hours before returning its guilty verdict on 4 counts. The counts alleged Cross took $35,000 in union funds to fix a perjury case against him and then arranged for another $35,000 embezzlement to cover up the earlier union treasury shortage.

The Justice Department said Cross, 50, now a resident of Boca, Raton, Fla., faces a possible maximum sentence of 25 years in prison and $31,000 fine. Cross, who has denied any wrongdoing, was continued under $5,000 bond pending sentence.

A half dozen lesser former aides of Cross in the Bakery & Confectionery Workers International Union—an organization ousted from the AFL-CIO in 1957 on corruption charges—have also been charged with embezzlement and conspiracy. Some have pleaded guilty. Others await trial.

across the centuries

the Sermon on the Mount comes to you more meaningful and important, more urgent than ever

SEEING the crowds, he went up on the mountain, and when he sat down his disciples came to him. And he opened his mouth and taught them, saying:

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.

"Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are you when men revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so men persecuted the prophets who were before you.

"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trodden under foot by men.

"You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. Nor do men light a lamp and put it under a bushel, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.

"Think not that I have come to abolish the law and the prophets; I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the law until all is accomplished. Whoever then relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but he who does them and teaches them shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.

"You have heard that it was said to the men of old, 'You shall not kill; and whoever kills shall be liable to judgment.' But I say to you that every one who is angry with his brother shall be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother shall be liable to the council, and whoever says, 'You fool!' shall be liable to the hell of fire. So if you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. Make friends quickly with your accuser, while you are going with him to court, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison; truly, I say to you, you will never get out till you have paid the last penny.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.' But I say to you that every one who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and throw it away; it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell. And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away; it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

"It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.' But I say to you that every one who divorces his wife, except on the ground of unchastity, makes her an adulteress; and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

"Again you have heard that it was said to the men of old, 'You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.' But I say to you, Do not swear at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

"You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' But I say to you, Do not resist one who is evil. But if any one strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also; and if any one would sue you and take your coat, let him have your cloak as well; and if any one forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to him who begs from you, and do not refuse him who would borrow from you.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward have you? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you salute only your brethren, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You, therefore, must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

"BEWARE of practicing your piety before men in order to be seen by them; for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

"Thus, when you give alms, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by men. Truly, I say to you they have their reward. But when you give alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your alms may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites; for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by men. Truly, I say to you, they have their reward. But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"And in praying do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their many words. Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him. Pray then like this:

'Our Father who art in heaven,
Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come,
Thy will be done,
On earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
And forgive us our debts,
As we also have forgiven our debtors;
And lead us not into temptation,
But deliver us from evil.'

For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father also will forgive you; but if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

"And when you fast do not look dismal, like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces that their fasting may be seen by men. Truly, I say to you, they have their reward. But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, that your fasting may not be seen by men but by your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust consume and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal; for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

"The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light; but if your eye is not sound, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

"No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

"Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you shall eat or what you shall drink, nor about your body, what you shall put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing? Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to his span of life? And why be anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they neither toil nor spin; yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O men of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the Gentiles seek all these things; and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things shall be yours as well.

"Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day.

"JUDGE not, that you be not judged. For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and the measure you give will be the measure you get. Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when there is the log in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

"Do not give dogs what is holy; and do not throw your pearls before swine, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you.

"Ask, and it will be given you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For every one who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened. Or what man of you, if his son asks him for a loaf, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him? So whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

"Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. For the gate is narrow and the way is hard that leads to life, and those who find it are few.

"Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will know them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thorns, or figs from thistles? So, every sound tree bears good fruit, but the bad tree bears evil fruit. A sound tree cannot bear evil fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus you will know them by their fruits.

"Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name?' And then will I declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from me, you evil-doers.'

"Every one then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house upon the rock; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. And every one who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house upon the sand; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell; and great was the fall of it."

And when Jesus finished these sayings, the crowds were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one who had authority, and not as their scribes.

This special newspaper page is the project of a group of people who believe that the Sermon on the Mount is a message of profound importance to everyone, everywhere, today. That conviction is supported thruout the world by men and women of very different faiths and backgrounds, distinguished in science and industry, politics, education, and every walk of life.

Certainly day after day this great sermon should be explored and applied — for humility and mature charity, alertness to false prophets, and the power of example. We believe it can thereby lead to solution of the most serious human problems, and offers great power for healing among the nations.

across the centuries

the Sermon on the Mount comes to you more meaningful and important, more urgent than ever

SEEING the crowds, he went up on the mountain, and when he sat down his disciples came to him. And he opened his mouth and taught them, saying:

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.

"Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are you when men revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so men persecuted the prophets who were before you.

"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trodden under foot by men.

"You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. Nor do men light a lamp and put it under a bushel, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.

"Think not that I have come to abolish the law and the prophets; I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the law until all is accomplished. Whoever then relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but he who does them and teaches them shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.

"You have heard that it was said to the men of old, 'You shall not kill; and whoever kills shall be liable to judgment.' But I say to you that every one who is angry with his brother shall be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother shall be liable to the council, and whoever says, 'You fool!' shall be liable to the hell of fire. So if you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. Make friends quickly with your accuser, while you are going with him to court, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison; truly, I say to you, you will never get out till you have paid the last penny.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.' But I say to you that every one who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and throw it away; it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell. And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away; it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

"It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.' But I say to you that every one who divorces his wife, except on the ground of unchastity, makes her an adulteress; and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

"Again you have heard that it was said to the men of old, 'You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.' But I say to you, Do not swear at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

"You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' But I say to you, Do not resist one who is evil. But if any one strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also; and if any one would sue you and take your coat, let him have your cloak as well; and if any one forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to him who begs from you, and do not refuse him who would borrow from you.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward have you? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you salute only your brethren, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You, therefore, must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

"BEWARE of practicing your piety before men in order to be seen by them; for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

"Thus, when you give alms, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by men. Truly, I say to you they have their reward. But when you give alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your alms may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites; for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by men. Truly, I say to you, they have their reward. But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"And in praying do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their many words. Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him. Pray then like this:

'Our Father who art in heaven,
Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come,
Thy will be done,
On earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
And forgive us our debts,
As we also have forgiven our debtors;
And lead us not into temptation,
But deliver us from evil.'

For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father also will forgive you; but if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

"And when you fast, do not look dismal, like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces that their fasting may be seen by men. Truly, I say to you, they have their reward. But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, that your fasting may not be seen by men but by your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

"Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust consume and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal; for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

"The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light; but if your eye is not sound, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

"No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

"Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you shall eat or what you shall drink, nor about your body, what you shall put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing? Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to his span of life? And why be anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they neither toil nor spin; yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O men of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the Gentiles seek all these things; and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things shall be yours as well.

"Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day.

"JUDGE not, that you be not judged. For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and the measure you give will be the measure you get. Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when there is the log in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

"Do not give dogs what is holy; and do not throw your pearls before swine, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you.

"Ask, and it will be given you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For every one who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened. Or what man of you, if his son asks him for a loaf, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him? So whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

"Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. For the gate is narrow and the way is hard that leads to life, and those who find it are few.

"Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will know them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thorns, or figs from thistles? So, every sound tree bears good fruit, but the bad tree bears evil fruit. A sound tree cannot bear evil fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. Surely no tipple of our times has had the social impact of the fragrant martini.

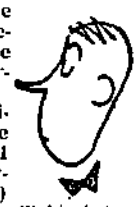
It is with some realization of that importance, that we report the far-flung decision of the far-flung airline, TWA:



"Martinis will be mixed 11-to-1 (gin-vermouth ratio) on commuter flights between San Francisco and Chicago beginning May 1."

It is pointed out that the present miniature-bottled martini is 4-to-1.

I would have to get a Reno odds-maker to figure how much of a longshot vermouth is now. But you can see it's a poor bet. And Mr. Noilly Prat (and all the little Noilly Prats) are no doubt wringing their hands today.

It is a command decision. Meanwhile, back to the shaker.

The social martini dates back to San Francisco a gaudy century ago.

It was invented by that great inventor of bracers, Professor Jerry Thomas, who was then keeping score at the old Occidental Hotel bar.

It is listed in the Professor's book, The Bon Vivant's Companion. And a footnote says it was originally called a "Martinez."

It was sturdy gin plus a third of vermouth.

It was a morning bracer—before gentlemen began the more leisurely after-lunch bourbon. If there was Scotch in those bracing days, I can't find mention of it.

Gentlemen drank aged corn whiskey. And neat at that.

Well, that's not the point. What is interesting is that the powerful wallop of almost undiluted gin is demanded by brief case commuters between San Francisco and Chicago.

We have an observation from the TWA commissary manager, William Cosman:

"We found that some passengers would ask for the regular 4-to-1 dry martini and then request a second miniature of straight gin."

They sleuthed around and found these sneaky passengers were SPIKING their 4-to-1 martinis.

So now we have the 11-to-1, high-flying martini. Fasten seat belts.

Well, the airlines can't do enough for you these days. (Though they do limit you to a pair of these blockbusters, back to back.)

TWA has always had an affection for the dry martini. And one time I was aboard with Warren Lee Pierson, then Chairman of the Board.

Pierson announced that he would make everybody a martini.

He was extremely secret about his recipe—the mark of a true martini mixer.

So help me, he retired to a little rear alcove on the plane. Drew the curtains and stationed a stewardess outside as a guard.

After awhile he came out and poured very carefully. Up and down the aisle.

The plane almost immediately sputtered and one engine shut down.

Oh, yes. In the race for dryness, TWA is taking care of the extra dry-dry-dry people. If you don't like it 11-to-1, you can have plain gin on ice. No charge for the olive or onion.

We've come a long way from Martinez, Professor.

House Passes Bill To Free Silver For Coins

Washington (AP) — The House passed Wednesday legislation to change the dollar bill and free 1 3 billion ounces of silver to be made into coins

Proponents, including the Treasury, contended that unless the legislation were passed, the time might soon come when silver coins would disappear into speculator's melting pots

Opponents included some Republicans, who said the legislation is a move that would permit selling $2 billion of the nation's assets to gloss over deficit spending and silver state representatives who complained the measure was being rushed through Congress without adequate consideration.

The measure was passed 251 to 122

The bill would

1 Repeat the old Silver Purchase Act, long a dead letter The old act, intended to help domestic silver mining, requires the government to buy the metal at 90 5 cents an ounce But silver now is selling on the open market for more than $1 27

2 Repeal an anti-speculation tax associated with the Silver Purchase Act

3 Allow the Federal Reserve System to issue $1 notes, which the Treasury would use gradually to replace the present silver certificates and so release the silver now held against the $1 paper Reserve notes now limited to larger denominations, are backed by gold and government obligations

Change Needed

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex , of the banking committee, gave the House the Treasury's arguments that the change is needed to stabilize the price of silver and avoid the necessity of going into the world market for material for coins thus adding to the country's balance of payments difficulties

Recent demands of the electronics and vending machine industries have skyrocketed the price of silver, and U.S. mines now produce only about one-third of the amount required by industry in this country alone

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has testified there is a real danger that the price of silver will go so high that speculators will rush in to exchange dollar bills for coin or bullion and then melt down the monetary silver to make a profit He said the measure would stabilize the price at about $1 29 an ounce and make possible an orderly market in silver

Development Residents Say Statue Vulgar

Denver (UPI) — The statue is supposed to symbolize "Eternal Youth " But some of the residents of Windsor Gardens, a suburban development for people over 50, say it is just plain suggestive

The difference of opinion has triggered a heated dispute at the otherwise peaceful community for retired and semi-retired couples About 25% of the 200 residents submitted a petition Wednesday protesting a plan to put up a 12-foot modern statue of a man and woman in a passionate embrace at the entrance to the village

It's vulgar, they said And furthermore, it's not even "art " they insisted

"I sure don't go along with this 'Eternal Youth' deal " Mrs E M Kogan, leader of the petition movement, said

The petition asked the operators of Windsor Gardens to drop plans for the statue immediately But the managers, Werner Livingston and Howard L Farkas, said they could not understand what all the fuss was about

"It's anything but vulgar," Farkas said "We're proud of it It looks lovely, Perhaps it is a little 'different' But I don't feel there's any vulgarity in it whatsoever That's just what's in the minds of people who don t understand art "

House Passes Bill To Free Silver For Coins

Washington (AP) — The House passed Wednesday legislation to change the dollar bill and free 1.3 billion ounces of silver to be made into coins.

Proponents, including the Treasury, contended that unless the legislation were passed, the time might soon come when silver coins would disappear into speculator's melting pots.

Opponents included some Republicans, who said the legislation is a move that would permit selling $2 billion of the nation's assets to gloss over deficit spending and silver state representatives who complained the measure was being rushed through Congress without adequate consideration.

The measure was passed 251 to 122.

The bill would:

1. Repeal the old Silver Purchase Act, long a dead letter. The old act, intended to help domestic silver mining, requires the government to buy the metal at 90.5 cents an ounce. But silver now is setlling on the open market for more than $1.27.

2. Repeal an anti-speculation tax associated with the Silver Purchase Act.

3. Allow the Federal Reserve System to issue $1 notes, which the Treasury would use gradually to replace the present silver certificates and so release the silver now held against the $1 paper. Reserve notes, now limited to larger denominations, are backed by gold and government obligations.

Change Needed

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the banking committee, gave the House the Treasury's arguments that the change is needed to stabilize the price of silver and avoid the necessity of going into the world market for material for coins, thus adding to the country's balance of payments difficulties.

Escape Artist Kenneth Kitts Paroled From Pen

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Kenneth Kitts, noted for his several artful escapes from the law, Wednesday was granted a parole by the State Pardon Board from a 12-year sentence for which he had served one year, two months and 5 days.

The former Omahan, under federal parole provisions until 1972, left immediately with his sister for California where he has a job in an auto parts plant.

Kitts, 45, white-haired and much older looking than his age, was questioned closely by the board members — Gov. Frank Morrison, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, and Attorney General Clarence Meyer.—about his future plans and the provisions of his federal parole.

Kitts was returned to Nebraska only last October to continue serving the 12-year term on burglary, possession of burglary tools and habitual criminal charges handed down by a Douglas County District Court in 1951.

He had served only a few months on the 1951 sentence when he managed to escape from federal authorities while in Omaha testifying as a government witness.

Since his recapture a few days later, Kitts has served federal sentences in Alcatraz and Leavenworth for an Iowa bank robbery, and on other charges.

Kitts was denied a Nebraska parole last year while he was still serving time in Leavenworth. Following his federal parole, he waived extradition to Nebraska to complete his interrupted penitentiary stay.

Sentence Commuted

The State Pardon Board also commuted the life sentence of Lincolnite Floyd N. Kermmoade to a 45-year senence. Kermmoade was sentenced to life in March, 1952, on a second degree murder conviction for the killing of 67-year-old recluse, Charles Rundle.

Kermmoade, then 22, admitted beating and shooting the Lincoln man in an argument over money.

Parole was denied another inmate serving a 20-year sentence for incest. Orville Dasher, 62, of Broken Bow appeared before the board requesting parole from the term he was sentenced to Nov. 21, 1957, in a Custer County District Court.

Those paroled Wednesday from the Penitentiary were:

Charles A. Pool, 26, Hastings; grand larceny; Adams County; two years; March 23, 1962.

Earl V. Mayo, 39, Sioux City, Iowa; breaking and entering; Dakota; 3 years; Nov. 8, 1961; paroled to Iowa.

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Kenneth Kitts, noted for his several artful escapes from the law, Wednesday was granted a parole by the State Pardon Board from a 12 year sentence for which he had served one year, two months and 5 days

The former Omahan, under federal parole provisions until 1972, left immediately with his sister for California where he has a job in an auto parts plant

Kitts 45 white haired and much older looking than his age, was questioned closely by the board members — Gov Frank Morrison, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, and Attorney General Clarence Meyer —about his future plans and the provisions of his federal parole

Kitts was returned to Nebraska only last October to continue serving the 12-year term on burglary, possession of burglary tools and habitual criminal charges handed down by a Douglas County District Court in 1951

He had served only a few months on the 1951 sentence when he managed to escape from federal authorities while in Omaha testifying as a government witness

Since his recapture a few days later, Kitts has served federal sentences in Alcatraz and Leavenworth for an Iowa bank robbery, and on other charges

Kitts was denied a Nebraska parole last year while he was still serving time in Leavenworth Following his federal parole, he waived extradition to Nebraska to complete his interrupted penitentiary stay

Sentence Commuted

The State Pardon Board also commuted the life sentence of Lincolnite Floyd N Kemmoade to a 45 year sentence Kemmoade was sentenced to life in March, 1952, on a second degree murder conviction for the killing of 67 year old recluse, Charles Rundle

Kemmoade, then 22, admitted beating and shooting the Lincoln man in an argument over money

Parole was denied another inmate serving a 20 year sentence for incest Orville Dasher, 62, of Broken Bow appeared before the board requesting parole from the term he was sentenced to Nov 21, 1957, in a Custer County District Court

Those paroled Wednesday from the Penitentiary were

Fireworks Bill Kill Attempt Fails

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha attempted in vain Wednesday to torpedo a fireworks bill, declaring he felt he owed the effort "to the children of Nebraska."

The attempt was made as LB470 showed up for final passage.

Introduced by Sens. Harold Stryker of Rising City, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, LB470 requires the licensing of distributors, jobbers or retailers of fireworks and places regulatory powers in the hands of the state fire marshal.

Klaver, who had fought the measure at every turn earlier, insisted the bill aggravated the fireworks hazard and "increases the opportunities for children to hurt themselves."

His motion to return the bill to select file for the purpose of an amendment striking the enacting clause—a parliamentary device to kill a bill—was defeated 9-30 and the bill was passed 33-7.

Senators voting against the bill on the final test included Cecil Craft, Dale Erlewine, Sam Klaver, Eugene Mahoney, Michael Russillo, Marvin E. Stromer and George Syas.

Not voting were Sens. Edward Danner, Dale Payne and Don Thompson. All others voted favorably on the bill.

Klaver charged the bill contains loopholes, notably one which permits the fire marshal to okay any fireworks not specifically listed in the bill after testing and approving them. Klaver said it won't be hard to induce the fire marshal to approve such fireworks.

He predicted that an angry populace will demand revisions in the bill two years hence if it passes.

But Stryker maintained the bill is simply an attempt to place more restrictions on the use of fireworks.

Commercial Code Bill Is Advanced

The vote moving the measure, LB49, from general file was 34-0.

Sen. William Brandt of Unadilla, chief introducer of the measure, said it has been 10 years in the works.

He said adoption of the uniform commercial code will bring Nebraska's commercial law in conformity with other states and make things easier for Nebraska Businessmen entering contracts with parties from other states.

Brandt did not go into a detailed explanation of the complicated bill and no one spoke against it.

Revival Of Power Ad Bill Attempted By Sen. Foster

Sen. Clifton Foster of Bradshaw Wednesday launched an attempt to revive LB764, the bill prohibiting public power district advertising tending to influence legislation or elections.

The Public Works Committee, which introduced the bill originally at Foster's suggestion, killed it on a 4-3 vote after a recent public hearing.

"It was the opinion of the majority of the members of the committee that it would be extremely difficult to determine which advertising would influence elections or legislation," Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said in reporting his committee's action.

Action on Foster's motion to place LB764 on general file, notwithstanding the committee decision, was deferred to April 17.

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Wednesday:

LB779 (Public Health Committee)—Permitting operators of self-propelled invalid chairs to drive about without a driver's license.

LB780 (Revenue Committee) — Authorizing hound races in Nebraska.

12 Bills Are Passed By Legislature

Twelve bills were passed after final reading in the Legislature Wednesday.

One raised the tax on horse race betting receipts from two to three per cent. Another dealt with the control and regulation of the sale of fireworks, and a third prohibits snagging of fish except in the Missouri River between Nov. 1 and April 1.

The list of bills passed on final reading Wednesday (E-Emergency clause):

Loss In Falls City Fire Set At $25,000

Falls City (AP)—A sheet metal warehouse building was destroyed by fire with damage estimated in excess of $25,000.

Invalid Chairs Measure Introduced

The Legislature Wednesday approved introduction of the 779th bill of the session—a measure which would permit operators of self-propelled invalid chairs to drive about without a driver's license.

The Public Health Committee proposed the bill.

B. H. G. Eiting, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, has advised that the bill would affect more than a few persons.

Sen. H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove said the measure stemmed from an incident involving a Norfolk man who lost his legs in a grain binder accident 50 years ago. The man was stopped recently while in his invalid chair and asked for his driver's license by a policeman.

Strauss Appointed

Omaha (UPI)—Willis A. Strauss has been named a director of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Norman T. Carson who has moved to Chicago.

Busy—The Right Word For Lincoln

Candlelight Service

The marriage of Miss Glenda Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Sharp, to Mickey Snider, son of Mrs. Marion Snider and the late Mr. Snider, was solemnized Wednesday evening, April 10, at Trinity United Church. The lines of the candlelight service were read at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Donald Stuart, and Mrs. H. C. Schneider, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Ralph Giebelhaus.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks in shades of sea blue and aqua and carrying bouquets of white carnations frilled with tulle in frock tones were Miss Connie Sharp, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Judi Heggen, Miss Jean Althouse, Miss Vonda Mohr, and Miss Marion Fisher.

Tom Nystrom served Mr. Snider as best man, and seating the guests were Sandy Mutz, John Robinson, Tom Gross and Jim Sharp.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of white peau de soie. The molded bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and bracelet sleeves, and the elongated waist was emphasized by assymetrical banding of the silk forming at obi drape at the back of the wide skirt, which continued into a cotillion train. A tiny crown of pearls and rhinestones held her veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider will make their home in Lincoln. The bridegroom is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Was Hostess

Mrs. Charles Lindgren was hostess to the members of Delta Theta Chi sorority at her home on Friday. A report on the recent Founders Day banquet and program held at Kansas City was given by Miss Norman Hansen, chapter member and Electra Province president.

The group will hold a guest night program on April 19, at the home of Mrs. Richard Vestecka.

Time is not a-wastin' in Lincoln these days. The town is filled with guests from here, there and everywhere —There are parties, too, but these, with the exception of one, are not even remotely related to the guest list. In addition to our guests and our parties we have news of the talcum powder set — and of people who are leaving Lincoln to reside in California.

* * *

That one guest courtesy we had in mind is the 5 o'clock-to-7 o'clock canape party for which Dr. and Mrs. Horace Munger will be host and hostess this evening when they entertain in honor of Dr. Munger's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Munger of Vancouver, Wash.

Dr. and Mrs. Munger arrived on Tuesday and will leave on Friday to return to their home in Vancouver.

* * *

Making a flying trip, literally and figuratively, are Capt. J. Richard Hansen, USN (ret.) and Mrs. Hansen who arrived very late on Wednesday evening, and who will be leaving again on Friday.

Capt. and Mrs. Hansen, who are making Hotel Cornhusker their headquarters, stopped off in Lincoln for a brief visit with their daughter, Miss Susan K. Hansen, a student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Duling are expecting Easter weekend guests — their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duling and their daughter, Kathy, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Duling (the former Sally Bartling of Omaha) are in Omaha at the moment, the guests of Mrs. Duling's parents.

And mention of the Gilbert Dulings, the Richard Dulings — and Minneapolis — reminds us of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duling, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Duling and their children, Gregg and Nancy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Duling and their son and daughter, also have come from Minneapolis to spend the Easter weekend with Mr. Duling's parents.

One of the popular brides-elect is Miss Ruth Anne Read whose marriage to John Weaver will be solemnized on April 27.

On the courtesy calendar for Miss Read is the luncheon today for which Mrs. Kent Morgan will be hostess when she entertains at the Lincoln Country Club. The guest list will include Pi Beta Phi sisters of the soon-to-be bride.

* * *

Miss Read and Mr. Weaver will share honors with each other and with Mr. Weaver's uncle, Norman Walt, when Mrs. Norman Walt entertains at a 12:30 o'clock brunch on Sunday at Hotel Cornhusker.

Mr. Walt enters the party picture by way of a birthday anniversary (his own) which this year falls on a festive Easter Sunday.

The guest list of 30 will include members of the family.

Now to introduce a young lady who made her world debut on Friday, March 29 — Miss Nancy Ann Mockett. The baby is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mockett, and her mother is the former Claudette Helm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Helm — and a Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mockett are the paternal grandparents.

Miss Nancy Ann won't be seeing too much of Lincoln, so we hear. Accompanied by her mother and her two brothers, Bill and Tommy, she will be leaving Lincoln on April 21, to join Dr. Mockett who recently left Lincoln for California.

Dr. and Mrs. Mockett and their family will be residing at 3927 234th Place, Torrance, Calif.

PARK MANOR

Another holiday weekend is near for Suburban residents, and once again, this provides a most valid excuse for more than the average amount of social activity in Suburbia's neighborhoods.

The Easter Bunny may play second-fiddle to another little cuddly bundle at the Merle McDonald home this weekend, for Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have a brand new baby daughter, Catherine Sue, who was born April 6 at Bryan Memorial Hospital and who will be coming home today.

The welcoming committee probably will be composed of Catherine Sue's sisters and brother, Steve, 6, Debby, 4, and Pam, 2.

Grandparents of the April arrival are the Rev. and Mrs. Bruce E. Gideon of Wilmette, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. B. McDonald of Murdock.

Guests who will arrive tomorrow to spend the Easter weekend with Park Manor residents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph V. Adams and family, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackman and their children, Patricia and Jim. They will be flying to Lincoln from their home in Denver, Colo.

Helping their parents entertain their younger visitors will be Mr. and Mrs. Adams' children, John, Tom, Terry, David, Steve, Sandy, and Jeff.

And the Easter Bunny may have to search a bit for Barbara and Steven Gruhn, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Gruhn, for they will be traveling to Ogallala to spend Easter with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Gruhn.

The younger generation of Gruhns will leave Lincoln today. They'll be riding as far as Grand Island with Mrs. Gruhn, and from there will go by bus to Ogallala.

The return trip to Lincoln will be made toward the end of the youngsters' spring vacations.

Leaving Park Manor and Lincoln recently was Seaman Appren. Richard C. Allgood III, (better known to his friends and neighbors as "Dick"), son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Allgood Jr., who has returned to San Diego Naval Base in San Diego, Calif.

Dick left Lincoln on Sunday after spending 13 days with his parents and brother, Jim. He will be in San Diego for six more months while attending Fire Control Technicians' School at the base.

Easter plans for Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Marquardt and their sons, Robert Jr. and Billy, include a trip to Lake Waconda near Nebraska City where they will be opening their cabin for the summer.

Tomorrow is departure day for the Marquardt family, and they will be returning on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cook and their children, Randi Sue and Casey, will be sharing their Easter festivities with Mr. Cook's mother, Mrs. Harold Cook, and Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Alvin Johnson.

Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Johnson will be having dinner and spending the day with their children and grandchildren.

We've heard of duplicate and honeymoon bridge, and even Blackwood, but here's a new variety — California bridge.

Hostess for the "new" bridge game on Wednesday was Mrs. P. F. Shaw, who could actually explain the California label very simply.

It seems that several of the Hallam Plant employees and their wives are originally from California, and each Wednesday, these wives gather for an afternoon of bridge during their temporary residency in Nebraska.

Mrs. Shaw's fellow-Californian guests were Mrs. Jim Dare, Mrs. Jim Owens, Mrs. Don Wolff, Mrs. Ross Truitt, Mrs. Tom Withers, Mrs. Max Boyd, Mrs. Paul Burnet, and an "honorary" Californian, Mrs. Herb Henry, a Park Manor neighbor of the hostess.

Shower Honoree

A very surprised honoree last Friday afternoon was Mrs. John B. Taylor of the Lincoln Air Force Base who was presented a "stork shower" at the home of Mrs. Ashley Denton. Thirty-five guests were invited for the informal party for which Mrs. Stephen Mattick was co-hostess.

From the left are Mrs. Denton, Mrs. Mattick and Mrs. Taylor.

Candlelight Service

The marriage of Miss Glenda Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Sharp, to Mickey Snider, son of Mrs. Marion Snider and the late Mr. Snider, was solemnized Wednesday evening, April 10, at Trinity United Church. The lines of the candlelight service were read at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Donald Stuart, and Mrs. H. C. Schneider, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Ralph Giebelhaus.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks in shades of sea blue and aqua and carrying bouquets of white carnations frilled with tulle in frock tones were Miss Connie Sharp, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Judi Heggen, Miss Jean Althouse, Miss Vonda Mohr, and Miss Marion Fisher.

Tom Nystrom served Mr. Snider as best man, and seating the guests were Sandy Mutz, John Robinson, Tom Gross and Jim Sharp.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of white peau de soie. The molded bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and bracelet sleeves, and the elongated waist was emphasized by assymetrical banding of the silk forming at obi drape at the back of the wide skirt, which continued into a cotillion train. A tiny crown of pearls and rhinestones held her veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider will make their home in Lincoln. The bridegroom is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Was Hostess

Mrs. Charles Lindgren was hostess to the members of Delta Theta Chi sorority at her home on Friday. A report on the recent Founders Day banquet and program held at Kansas City was given by Miss Norman Hansen, chapter member and Electra Province president.

The group will hold a guest night program on April 19, at the home of Mrs. Richard Vestecka.

Busy—The Right Word For Lincoln

Time is not a-wastin' in Lincoln these days. The town is filled with guests from here, there and everywhere —There are parties, too, but these, with the exception of one, are not even remotely related to the guest list. In addition to our guests and our parties we have news of the talcum powder set — and of people who are leaving Lincoln to reside in California.

* * *

That one guest courtesy we had in mind is the 5 o'clock-to-7 o'clock canape party for which Dr. and Mrs. Horace Munger will be host and hostess this evening when they entertain in honor of Dr. Munger's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Munger of Vancouver, Wash.

Dr. and Mrs. Munger arrived on Tuesday and will leave on Friday to return to their home in Vancouver.

Opening lead—king of hearts.

First, let's see how the hand was actually played. West led the king of hearts and continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed, drew two rounds of trumps, and then played a club towards dummy. East took the queen with the ace and returned a club to the king. Declarer then led the jack of diamonds and finessed, and West took it with the king and cashed his high club to defeat the contract a trick.

Of course, you could say that South was unlucky to find East with the ace of clubs over the K-Q and West with the king of diamonds over the K-Q, and West with the king of diamonds over the A-Q. However, while this is unquestionably true, the fact remains that declarer could have and should have made the hand despite the unlucky distribution.

Let's look at the bidding and see what South should have known about the adverse hands. Clearly, West needed more than just his heart suit to open the bidding with a heart. He was bound to have either the king of diamonds or ace of clubs for his opening bid.

Acting on this premise, South should have led a low diamond towards the jack after ruffing the heart and drawing two rounds of trumps.

If West had the king and played it, the contract would be made, since South would later be able to discard two clubs from dummy on the A-Q of diamonds. If West did not take the king, the only losers would be a heart and two clubs.

If West did not have the king, East would win the jack all right, but this, in turn, would mean that West had the ace of clubs. In that case, South would lose only one club trick (by leading clubs twice towards the K-Q), and make the contract with the loss of a heart, a diamond and a club.

A little thought, properly applied, can do a lot.

Dear Abby

Better Wreck Roof Than Your Marriage

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married and have five children. I am 27 and have a sister who is 18. She has lived with us for the past five years. My husband hasn't slept with me in two years. He insists that he is not in love with my sister, but if a boy tries to see her he goes crazy. He takes her places and I sit at home with the kids. I am a good mother and want to be a good wife, but my husband is so busy looking at my sister he doesn't even see me. I mentioned sending her away and he raised the roof. What should I do?

CONFUSED AND UPSET

DEAR CONFUSED: Your sister is old enough to have boy friends, and, if necessary, she is old enough to live elsewhere. YOU raise the roof and tell your husband you refuse to put up with his behavior any longer. Consult your clergyman or The Family Service Association for guidance. Your marital situation is desperately in need of repair.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column some time back where some couples got married on horseback. Some even got married under water. My boyfriend and I want to know what you think about our getting married on motorcycles.

MOTORCYCLE CRAZY

DEAR MOTORCYCLE CRAZY: Not much.

DEAR ABBY: Occasionally you print letters in your column from wives or friends complaining of a man's health food addiction.

Don't these people know how lucky they are? I wish MY husband would stop at a HEALTH bar for a glass of carrot juice after work. I wish he would come home with a six-pack of wheat germ. How wonderful it would be to be married to a man who loved his family so much he wanted to take good care of his health so he would be around to see his children grow up.

ALCOHOLIC'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I just want to say that a woman has never been kissed until she's been kissed by a man with a mustache.

BEEN KISSED

Let's look at the bidding and see what South should have known about the adverse hands. Clearly, West needed more than just his heart suit to open the bidding with a heart. He was bound to have either the king of diamonds or ace of clubs for his opening bid

Acting on this premise, South should have led a low diamond towards the jack after ruffing the heart and drawing two rounds of trumps

If West had the king and played it, the contract would be made, since South would later be able to discard two clubs from dummy on the A-Q of diamonds If West did not take the king, the only losers would be a heart and two clubs.

If West did not have the king, East would win the jack all right, but this, in turn, would mean that West had the ace of clubs. In that case, South would lose only one club trick (by leading clubs twice towards the K-Q), and make the contract with the loss of a heart, a diamond and a club

A little thought, properly applied, can do a lot.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married and have five children. I am 27 and have a sister who is 18. She has lived with us for the past five years. My husband hasn't slept with me in two years. He insists that he is not in love with my sister, but if a boy tries to see her he goes crazy. He takes her places and I sit at home with the kids. I am a good mother and want to be a good wife, but my husband is so busy looking at my sister he doesn't even see me. I mentioned sending her away and he raised the roof. What should I do?

CONFUSED AND UPSET

DEAR CONFUSED: Your sister is old enough to have boy friends, and, if necessary, she is old enough to live elsewhere. YOU raise the roof and tell your husband you refuse to put up with his behavior any longer. Consult your clergyman or The Family Service Association for guidance. Your marital situation is desperately in need of repair.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column some time back where some couples got married on horseback Some even got married under water. My boyfriend and I want to know what you think about our getting married on motorcycles.

MOTORCYCLE CRAZY

DEAR MOTORCYCLE CRAZY: Not much.

DEAR ABBY: Occasionally you print letters in your column from wives or friends complaining of a man's health food addiction.

Don't these people know how lucky they are? I wish MY husband would stop at a HEALTH bar for a glass of carrot juice after work. I wish he would come home with a six-pack of wheat germ How wonderful it would be to be married to a man who loved his family so much he wanted to take good care of his health so he would be around to see his children grow up.

ALCOHOLIC'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I just want to say that a woman has never been kissed until she's been kissed by a man with a mustache

BEEN KISSED

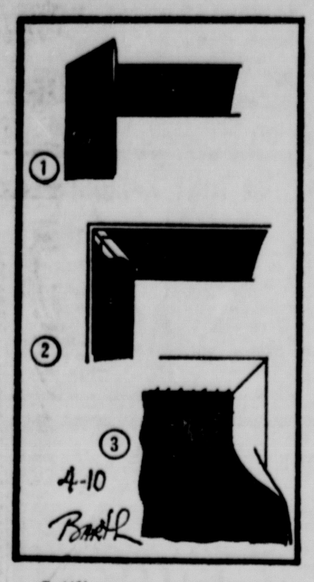
Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott



Settling an argument department: Will you please settle an argument for me? I say you recently wrote that a permanently-pleated skirt should never be shortened at the hem but at the waist. My friend claims you wrote that it should be done at the hem. Which is right?—J.L.K.

A. I wrote that it is generally better to shorten pleated skirts from the hem because if you lift them at the waistline, they may be too large there. Shortening can be done either way, but you must decide whether lifting will outsize the skirt. I always shorten from the hem.

Q. When I make a facing on a square corner I have trouble with the extra fabric. What should be done with it? — Mrs. I.P.

A. The corner must be mitered. Pin the facing to the garment right sides together. Then, fold the corner as in figure 1 and stitch. Trim the seam allowance close to the stitching and press open. Now, stitch the facing to the garment as in figure 2. Trim the seam allowance; turn the facing to the inside. Turn the raw edges of the facing under and hem as in figure 3.

Q. I would like to make a two-piece bathing suit. What type of material and lining should I use? Can I design a pattern of my own for the top? — MRS. F.F.

A. I suggest a cotton fabric for the outside. The lining can be of cotton too, in a solid color, or nylon jersey. I don't recommend designing your own top. This is difficult to make, even with a pattern, because of the fitting problem.

Q. My skirts seem to "sit out" even though they are lined. I am not heavy and my skirts are not tight. How can this be prevented? —MISS M.J.

A. You have obviously taken all necessary precautions to keep your skirts from stretching. I can only guess that the fabrics are either jersey or loose weaves that will stretch a little no matter what you do with them.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

So You Want To Drip In Mink!

Well, now every woman can drip in mink, if only for an evening—thanks to a business enterprise which has developed into an enterprising business—It originated in Lincoln, by the way.

Anyway, the president of this company which has everything to rent from soup to nuts, figuratively speaking, has announced that he has made arrangements with a large New York City furrier to supply all types of furs for renting. This fur-renting service will be offered to the 360 Rent-Alls stores in 48 states, including Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands. He said it will be possible for a customer to rent anything from a mink stole to a full-length coat, for a night, a weekend, a week, or month!

These stores will not keep a stock of furs on hand, but will have them shipped from New York City for each customer, and will return them at the end of the rental period.

Fur renting has become very popular in the past few years, especially in New York City. Customers range from students and stenographers, to models and wealthy matrons. Surprisingly, many fur-renting customers have minks of their own, but want a fur of a special color or length. Many women reserve a certain fur for several occasions. And some even go so far as to have their monogram put inside a rented fur piece, just so no one will suspect it's not their own.

The most common reason for renting a fur is a gala occasion, such as a wedding, a dinner party, a special date, or important dance.

But there are special reasons, too! Girls who go to the "big city," rent furs for their holiday trips, to impress the folks back home. And then there's the woman who rented five mink stoles for a 10-day trip to Puerto Rico! She really wanted to "knock 'em dead!"

Rented furs have been worn hundreds of places: To a formal dinner for Queen Elizabeth II, and to the TV Emmy Awards. And there were at least 18 rented furs at President Kennedy's Inaugural Ball.

Rurals Clash With Consumers On Power Policy

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Attorneys for two rural public power districts Wednesday clashed with the attorney for Consumers Public Power District over legislative policy regarding electric service in a municipality's zoning area.

The debate erupted over an amendment to LB220 proposed by Robert Crosby of Lincoln, attorney for Norris Public Power District.

The amendment, later adopted by the Legislature, wiped out CPPD's preference provisions in zoning areas of the 300 communities served by Consumers at retail.

Crosby's proposal was roundly endorsed by Lloyd Marti of Lincoln, attorney for Eastern Nebraska Public Power District, and opposed by Richard Wilson of Lincoln, CPPD attorney.

'Removes Protection'

Crosby said the amendment "removes entirely any protection which was afforded to Consumers" in the original bill.

As written, LB220 provided zoning area preference to "the supplier which serves the municipality at retail."

His amendment, Crosby noted, would "leave up to the power review board conflicts which might arise between Consumers and rural districts in the zoning area around a town."

The amendment's provisions for preference only to municipally-owned utilities "makes sense," Crosby said.

It would be "grossly unfair" for CPPD to have "the first right to serve the expanding area around a town," Crosby argued.

Without the amendment, LB220 would "push rurals out of that area" as cities continue to grow, thus "squeezing away the good loads they have."

Consumers would be accorded its present urban loads in fringe areas, the former governor said. "The rurals would have no protection," he said.

The amendment, Crosby said, also removes municipality concern that Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme's similar proposal submitted to the Legislature Tuesday would have insured municipal utility preference only in its own community. Crosby's amendment broadened the preference to include satellite towns served by a municipal utility.

Marti informed the group that Eastern "agrees completely" with the proposal.

Why, he asked, should CPPD be given preference over other power districts in the zoning area surrounding York just because Consumers serves the city?

In 1972, Marti said, CPPD "would have the city ringed" when York is legally free to acquire Consumers' distribution system within the city.

'Eliminate Problems'

Thus, he argued, the amendment would "eliminate these problems which would arise in 1972."

But Wilson replied: "Doesn't it seem logical that when a town expands, its electric utility should correspond throughout?"

The issue should be decided on "a basis of what is best for the state," he said. The Crosby amendment would create "a mixed-up hodgepodge in the zoning areas of the 300 towns served by Consumers."

In 1972, Wilson said, "there would be no uniformity around those towns."

Restraints Watned

Nebraska City Utilities Manager Vern Livingston said that municipalities only want "sufficient restraints to allow them to operate as they are. They want to hold the territory they now have."

Earlier, Lincoln City Attorney Ralph Nelson had proposed a different amendment which would only apply to Lincoln and give "sole authority" to the city utility to acquire by negotiation facilities of other suppliers in the city's zoning area.

Wilson said Consumers "has no objection to Lincoln having preference in its zoning area," although he said, "the city is not now in a position to serve all the zoning area."

Goodteacher Case Goes To District Court

Mrs. Karen Goodteacher, 21, was bound over to Lancaster District Court Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to kill, wound or maim her 18-year-old husband, Eddie.

The action followed a preliminary hearing before County Judge Ralph Slocum.

Goodteacher, who suffered two bullet wounds on a county road east of Lincoln March 5, has since recovered. He was wounded in the head and in the stomach.

Goodteacher was a Golden Gloves boxing champion, using the name "Eddie Phillips."

'Revolt' Quieted

Remove Chairman Of Red Viet Congs

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — The chairman of the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam has been replaced. The post is believed to be a figurehead.

A broadcast from Radio Hanoi in North Viet Nam identified the new chairman of the "Front for the Liberation of South Viet Nam" as Phung Cung. He replaced Nguyen Huu Tho. No reason was given.

Restraints Waived

Nebraska City Utilities Manager Vern Livingston said that municipalities only want "sufficient restraints to allow them to operate as they are. They want to hold the territory they now have."

Earlier, Lincoln City Attorney Ralph Nelson had proposed a different amendment which would only apply to Lincoln and give "sole authority" to the city utility to acquire by negotiation facilities of other suppliers in the city's zoning area.

Wilson said Consumers "has no objection to Lincoln having preference in its zoning area," although he said, "the city is not now in a position to serve all the zoning area."

Remove Chairman Of Red Viet Congs

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — The chairman of the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam has been replaced. The post is believed to be a figurehead.

Goodteacher Case Goes To District Court

Mrs. Karen Goodteacher, 21, was bound over to Lancaster District Court Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to kill, wound or maim her 18-year-old husband, Eddie.

The action followed a preliminary hearing before County Judge Ralph Slocum.

Goodteacher, who suffered two bullet wounds on a county road east of Lincoln March 5, has since recovered. He was wounded in the head and in the stomach.

'Revolt' Quieted

POPE CALLS FOR PEACE

Vatican City (AP) — Pope John XXIII called Wednesday for a space age peace under supervision of a public authority of the world community. He indicated the United Nations could provide the foundation.

The 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler urged a nuclear weapons ban and controlled disarmament in a historic, 15,000-word encyclical "pacem in terris" (peace on earth).

Pope John revealed his concern that the world might accidentally be plunged into an atomic holocaust.

And he sketched a blueprint of the way he felt peace could be made permanent—a peace on all levels, between man and man, community and community, nation and nation.

He denounced racial and religious persecution. He condemned the intervention of one state in the affairs of another. He appealed to governments to bring the benefits of economic prosperity to all men.

But most of all he spoke of his anxiety that the cold war might become a hot one.

"Seized by anxiety for the good of all. we feel it our duty to beseech men, especially those who have the responsibility of public affairs, to spare no labor in order to insure that world events follow a reasonable and human course," he said.

A papal encyclical is a circular letter in Latin, normally directed to Roman Catholics. Wednesday's was the first in history addressed to non-Catholics as well as Catholics and the 8th of Pope John's 4½ year reign.

Adenauer Publicly Commits Himself To Leave His Office

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Wednesday for the first time publicly committed himself to retired from office this fall.

The 87-year-old Adenauer said in a television interview that he will tender his resignation in October or November.

Adenauer has served as chancellor for nearly 14 years and raised West Germany from the ruins of World War II to prosperity and respect among nations. He made his retirement promise privately last fall to leaders of his Christian Democratic Party in order to keep the coalition government from breaking up.

It was relayed by them to the public but never before was it confirmed personally by Adenauer until Wednesday. He had held off for fear of having his power undermined during his last months in office.

Referring to his private conversations with other politicians, Adenauer said: "So that no doubt could exist, I have often declared that I will seek my retirement in October/November of 1963. I cannot understand all this talk (about the possibility that he might back down on his promise). What I have declared will remain unchanged."

Bomb Sent To Wife By Serviceman

San Francisco (UPI)—Postal officials said Wednesday a bomb that exploded March 18 in the post office at San Francisco International Airport had been traced to a U.S. Army captain in Saigon.

The officer had mailed the bomb to his wife who resided in a state other than California, according to J. H. Van Meader, chief postal inspector.

The official said the army did not identify the captain, but said he was being returned to the United States Thursday for psychiatric study.

The blast injured two postal empolyes, blew out 12 windows and set fire to a quantity of mail.

Van Meader said the Army officer's motive in sending the bomb to his wife was not known. An investigation was continuing to determine the exact nature of the explosive and how it was detonated.

Postal officials made out the quartermaster officer's name on the package after painstaking reconstruction of the blast torn wrapping. Two postal inspectors were sent to Saigon in the investigation.

Resources Stretched

Washington—With only 8% of the world's forests, the United States produces 27% of the world's lumber, 55% of the plywood, and 40% of the wood pulp.

Telephone Association Elects Eason

Eason

Verne Hix of Scottsbluff was elected vice president at the 63rd annual convention, and John Bonebright assumed a second term as secretary-treasurer.

New board members, also to be installed at the annual business session Thursday, are: Fred Pflug of Omaha, Al Ulrich of Wisner, Hugh Hunt of Blair and Neal Young of Cozad.

Noah Langdale, president of Georgia State College in Atlanta, told delegates prior to the election that Nebraska's telephone systems are important because they "meet the challenge of our times."

Said Langdale, ". . . write down what you are committed to . . . people who are not informed and committed will not remain." He referred to indecision and leisure as the "thing that destroyed Rome."

Thursday's program will be highlighted by Joseph W. Barr on "Tax Reforms and Economic Growth." Barr is assistant to the U.S. Treasury secretary.

Barr will be preceeded on the speaking agenda Thursday morning by: Joseph L. Van Horn, president of the General Telephone Companies of Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska; and Roger Gormley, chief engineer for the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Pioneers' Luncheon, which will conclude the 3-day convention, will host Bob Devaney, University of Nebraska football coach; Frank H. Woods, Charles E. Conners, Casper E. Yost and Edith C. Borg, all officials with the Telephone Pioneer Assn.

POPE CALLS FOR PEACE

Vatican City (AP) — Pope John XXIII called Wednesday for a space age peace under supervision of a public authority of the world community. He indicated the United Nations could provide the foundation.

The 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler urged a nuclear weapons ban and controlled disarmament in a historic, 15,000-word encyclical "pacem in terris" (peace on earth).

Pope John revealed his concern that the world might accidentally be plunged into an atomic holocaust.

And he sketched a blueprint of the way he felt peace could be made permanent--a peace on all levels, between man and man, community and community, nation and nation.

He denounced racial and religious persecution. He condemned the intervention of one state in the affairs of another. He appealed to governments to bring the benefits of economic prosperity to all men.

But most of all he spoke of his anxiety that the cold war might become a hot one

"Seized by anxiety for the good of all, we feel it our duty to beseech men, especially those who have the responsibility of public affairs, to spare no labor in order to insure that world events follow a reasonable and human course," he said.

A papal encyclical is a circular letter in Latin, normally directed to Roman Catholics. Wednesday's was the first in history addressed to non-Catholics as well as Catholics and the 8th of Pope John's 4½ year reign

Adenauer Publicly Commits Himself To Leave His Office

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Wednesday for the first time publicly committed himself to retired from office this fall.

The 87-year-old Adenauer said in a television interview that he will tender his resignation in October or November

Adenauer has served as chancellor for nearly 14 years and raised West Germany from the ruins of World War II to prosperity and respect among nations. He made his retirement promise privately last fall to leaders of his Christian Democratic Party in order to keep the coalition government from breaking up.

It was relayed by them to the public but never before was it confirmed personally by Adenauer until Wednesday. He had held off for fear of having his power undermined during his last months in office.

Referring to his private conversations with other politicians, Adenauer said, "So that no doubt could exist, I have often declared that I will seek my retirement in October/November of 1963. I cannot understand all this talk (about the possibility that he might back down on his promise). What I have declared will remain unchanged."

Bomb Sent To Wife By Serviceman

San Francisco (UPI)—Postal officials said Wednesday a bomb that exploded March 10 in the post office at San Francisco International Airport had been traced to a U.S. Army captain in Saigon

The officer had mailed the bomb to his wife who resided in a state other than California, according to J. H. Van Meader, chief postal inspector.

The official said the army did not identify the captain, but said he was being returned to the United States Thursday for psychiatric study.

The blast injured two postal empolyes, blew out 12 windows and set fire to a quantity of mail.

Van Meader said the Army officer's motive in sending the bomb to his wife was not known. An investigation was continuing to determine the exact nature of the explosive and how it was detonated.

Postal officials made out the quartermaster officer's name on the package after painstaking reconstruction of the blast torn wrapping. Two postal inspectors were sent to Saigon in the investigation

Resources Stretched

Washington—With only 8% of the world's forests, the United States produces 27% of the world's lumber, 55% of the plywood, and 40% of the wood pulp.

Telephone Association Elects Eason

Eason

Eason, North Bend telephone executive and former vice-president of the group, succeeds Clifford Thompson

Verne Hix of Scottsbluff was elected vice president at the 63rd annual convention, and John Bonebright assumed a second term as secretary-treasurer.

New board members, also to be installed at the annual business session Thursday, are Fred Pflug of Omaha, Al Ulrich of Wisner, Hugh Hunt of Blair and Neal Young of Cozad.

Noah Langdale, president of Georgia State College in Atlanta, told delegates prior to the election that Nebraska's telephone systems are important because they "meet the challenge of our times."

Said Langdale, ". . . write down what you are committed to . . . people who are not informed and committed will not remain." He referred to indecision and leisure as the "thing that destroyed Rome."

Thursday's program will be highlighted by Joseph W. Barr on "Tax Reforms and Economic Growth." Barr is assistant to the U.S. Treasury secretary.

Barr will be preceeded on the speaking agenda Thursday morning by Joseph L. Van Horn, president of the General Telephone Companies of Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska, and Roger Gormley, chief engineer for the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Pioneers' Luncheon, which will conclude the 3-day convention, will host Bob Devaney, University of Nebraska football coach; Frank H. Woods, Charles E. Conners, Casper E. Yost and Edith C. Borg, all officials with the Telephone Pioneer Assn.

Henry Cooper Next Challenge For Clay

. . . BOUT SLATED FOR LONDON

London (AP) — Cassius Clay, the self-proclaimed "greatest heavyweight of them all," has been matched to box Henry Cooper, the British and British Empire heavyweight champion, in London in June.

Promoter Jack Solomons announced the 10-rounder Wednesday and said all arrangements had been made to hold the fight indoors at Wembley Stadium.

Clay, 21, unbeaten in 18 pro fights after winning the Olympic title, has talked and fought his way into the top ranks of Sonny Liston's contenders for the world title. Both the World Boxing Association and the Ring ratings list Clay the No. 2 challenger. Cooper is ranked No. 6 by the WBA and No. 9 by Ring.

No Comment

Clay, for once, was not immediately available for comment, as he was traveling between his Louisville home and New Orleans.

Although some of the luster was rubbed off The Lip when he had to rally to gain a narrow, unpopular decision over Doug Jones March 13 at Madison Square Garden, Clay still is the hottest attraction in boxing.

Cocky Cassius had knocked out 9 in a row before Jones failed to "fall in 4" as Clay had predicted. His record of 18 victories includes 14 knockouts.

Cooper, 28, has a record of 27-8-1 for 36 fights. He hadn't fought in almost a year when he successfully defended his British and Empire titles by knocking out Dick Richardson of Wales March 26 in London.

4th In Row

This was Cooper's 4th straight victory since he was knocked out in the second round by Zora Folley on Dec. 5, 1961. The knockout cost him a title fight with then world champion Floyd Patterson.

Last year, in 3 fights, Cooper knocked out Tony Hughes in 5, outpointed Wayne Bethea in 10, and stopped Joe Erskine in 9.

"This fight will restore boxing in this country," said Solomons. "There will be 200,000 people wanting to hear Clay spout, not to mention fight."

Holds 11,000

Wembley Stadium's indoor arena holds only 11,000 people.

"Everything is signed up and Clay told me yesterday on the phone that he will predict the round in which he is going to defeat Cooper when the time comes," said Solomons.

In Louisville, Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said "we're delighted to go over there and fight Cooper. We've been discussing a June 18 date for the event but have reached no final decision."

He said Clay will visit friends in Louisiana this weekend and then head for Miami, Fla., where he will begin training Tuesday.

Washburn Looks Sharp In 4-0 Win Over Mets

New York (AP)— Ray Washburn pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight shutout victory over the New York Mets Wednesday, 4-0, in a battle with Al Jackson.

Washburn, a 24-year-old right-hander who won 12 as a rookie last year, gave the Mets only 4 hits. He retired 17 in a row from the second until he walked Tim Harkness in the 8th.

The Cards eked out a run in the 5th without benefit of a base hit. Julian Javier was hit by a pitched ball and took second on a balk by Jackson. Washburn's sacrifice moved Javier to 3rd and he scored ahead of rookie shortstop Al Moran's throw to the plate on Curt Flood's grounder.

Groat, who always does his best in the Polo Grounds, lofted a home run into the upper stands in left in the 8th. The ex-Pirates shortstop hit only two homers last season. A single by Bill White, an error by Charlie Neal and an infield single by Gene Oliver added another Cards run in the 8th. Washburn singled in the 9th, was forced by Flood who store second and scored on White's 3rd single.

The Cards were involved in an unusual double play in the sixth. With Ken Boyer on second and George Altman on first and one out, Charlie James hit a low liner to short that Moran dropped after seemingly catching the ball. Neither runner moved.

Moran threw to Neal, forcing Boyer. The relay to second was a bit wide and fell a few feet from the base. Boyer, who had remained on second, kicked the ball into center field. The second base umpire Paul Pryor immediately motioned the out sign on interference to complete the double play.

Killebrew, Banks Star As Twins Clip Indians

St. Paul - Minneapolis (AP)— Home runs by Harmon Killebrew and George Banks, lifted Minnesota past Cleveland, 5-3, Wednesday as southpaw Jim Kaat went the distance for the victory.

Banks' 380-foot blow, also to left center, sparked a 3-run Minnesota second inning. Bob Allison doubled and was singled home by Earl Battey for the other Twins run in that frame.

Kaat, who led American League left-handers last year in victories, complete games and shutouts, blanked the Indians until pinch hitter Gene Green belted a wrong-field home run in the 8th.

Kaat then tired in the 9th and yielded two more runs when Joe Adcock and Ellis Burton singled and Mike De La Hoz doubled in the two tallies.

Bill Against Fish Snaggers Passed

Snagging of fish, which some anglers say is a great sport and which others say is a king-sized nuisance, will be prohibited in the state except in the Missouri River between Nov. 1 and April 1 under LB621 which won the lawmakers' final stamp of approval Wednesday.

The provisions of the bill will become effective 3 months after the Governor signs it.

Some of those opposed to snagging argued it was a cruel method of catching fish.

The bill was passed on a 37-4 vote.

Yankees Hold Off A's For 5-3 Win

Kansas City (AP)— Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle smashed home runs for New York and the Yankees stood off a 9th inning rally to edge out the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3 Wednesday.

Bill Stafford started for the Yankees and had shut out the A's on 3 hits before he was forced to leave with an elbow injury with two out in the 7th inning.

Jim Bouton, who succeeded him walked 4 men, two of them to start the A's on their 3-run rally in the 9th.

Bouton walked Ed Charles and Chuck Essegian and Gino Cimoli singled in a run before Bud Daley was called to the mound. Haywood Sullivan singled to fill the bases and Bobby Del Greco's sacrifice fly scored the second run.

Dick Howser's single filled the bases again but Daley got Jose Tartabull to ground into a double play but not before Cimoli had scored from 3rd with the 3rd run.

The double play was accomplished by the alert play of Bobby Richardson, who took Tony Kubek's toss to force Howser at second base, then threw to 3rd catching the surprised Haywood Sullivan at 3rd base.

DISMAL DAY . . . for KC fans as home team loses and cold wind blows.

KOUFAX RETURNS TO FORM

Lefty Cruises By Cubs, 2-1

. . . BERTELL TABBED GOAT

Chicago (AP)—Sandy Koufax, winless since last July 12, yielded 5 hits and struck out 10 as the Los Angeles Dodgers had both runs donated by Chicago catcher Dick Bertell for a 2-1 victory over the Cubs Wednesday.

It also was Koufax' first complete game since last July 4, as the slender southpaw spent the last half of the season hampered by circulatory ailment on a pitching finger.

It was a tough loss for Cub starter Bob Buhl, victim of Bertell's poor throwing and a passed ball which donated their second straight triumph over the Cubs.

Dodger bench strength was demonstrated convincingly in this second game of the season, played before 2,673 fans shivering in near-freezing weather.

League batting and RBI champion Tommy Davis, all-time base stealing champ Maury Wills and ex-Yankee Bill Skowron all were sidelined by injury.

Koufax lost his shutout in the 8th when his 7th strikeout instead became a Cub run. Catcher John Roseboro let the 3rd strike on Lou Brock get away and Andre Rodgers and Billy Williams followed with singles to score Brock.

Buhl was in trouble on the very first Dodger batter, Willie Davis, who was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored, after a theft of 3rd, when Bertell overthrew that bag.

Buhl held Los Angeles hitless until Roseboro's 4th inning single and then was nicked for the second unearned Dodger run in the 5th. This time, Bertell's passed ball moved Dick Tracewski from first to second and he scored on Willie Davis' two-out single for a 2-0 Dodger lead.

Injuries Keep Dodger Trio On Sidelines

Chicago (AP)—3 Los Angeles Dodgers players, including base stealing champion Maury Wills, were sidelined by injuries as the Dodgers met the Chicago Cubs in the second game of their series today.

Wills, who jammed his left ankle while sliding into home plate in Tuesday's 5-1 opening day Dodger triumph, went to Wesley Hospital for X-rays.

At the hospital, X-rays failed to disclose any fracture of Wills' injured ankle. It was reported painfully sprained and the fleet shortstop will be benched about a week.

First baseman Bill Skowron, who has a bruised hand, and left fielder Tommy Davis, who has a recurring leg injury, also were out of the Dodger line-up.

WISTFUL WILLS . . . holds forth in whirlpool bath instead of shortstop position.

NU Gridders Are Fierce In First Heavy Warfare

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska's spring football candidates got their first taste of serious combat in a long session Wednesday afternoon — and the Cornhuskers were impressive.

Standouts were numerous, both among the veterans and the sophomores-to-be, as Coach Bob Devaney tested various units in a rousing scrimmage on the soggy practice lot.

Claridge followed with a long pass to end Larry Tomlinson for similar distance, then hit Johnson for 30 yards before right halfback Kent McCloughan — taking a day off from track — swept left end for another all-the-way dash.

Ross also had a bruising 42-yard run in which he bowled over several would-be tacklers.

When the No. 1 unit went on defense fullback Joe McNulty, a varsity reserve last fall, tore through the middle for 35 yards. But after that the Woods' team found the going tougher.

Bobby Hohn, a reserve halfback last fall, was a standout on defense, along with Woods.

In later action frosh Ted Vactor turned left end for another length-of-the field gallop and frosh quarterback Fred Duda hit Vactor with a long pass. Duda also fired a pseudo-TD pass to freshman halfback Frank Solich.

Letterman quarterback Doug Tucker's club turned in some hot action, too, with fullback Maynard Smidt blasting 30-yards and Tucker hitting Chuck Doepke — both Smidt and Doepke were 1962 squadmen — with a 20-yard pass.

Impressive

All things considered, the hitting and execution — both offensively and defensively — was the most impressive first-scrimmage seen in the NU camp for many moons.

Friday's practice will be devoted to review, Devaney said, with a full-scale scrimmage for movies slated Saturday morning.

Held out of the drills because of injuries were freshmen Bill Earl, Gene Allen, Stan Farrar, squadman Bill Rogers and transfer Leo Caito.

Dennis Claridge—Larry Tomlinson and Dick Callahan, ends; Larry Kramer and Lloyd Voss, tackles; Bob Brown and John Kirby, guards; Jim Baffico and Ron Michka, centers; Willie Ross, Rudy Johnson and Kent McCloughan, halfbacks; Gene Young, fullback.

8-RUN INNING GIVES PHILLIES SERIES SWEEP

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies scored 8 runs in the 7th inning Wednesday night for a come-from-behind 10-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and a sweep of the two-game series.

The Phillies, who trailed by 6 runs at one stage, sent 11 players to the plate during the 7th inning, belaboring 3 Cincinnati pitchers for 6 hits, including doubles by John Callison and Wes Covington and a two-run homer by Clay Dalrymple.

Covington led the Phillies' attack with a single and two doubles with the second two-bagger tying the game in the victorious rally.

Adair's Sacrifice Gives Orioles Win

Baltimore (AP) — Jerry Adair's bases loaded sacrifice fly drove in the winning run as the Baltimore Orioles scored all their runs in the 9th inning and defeated the Washington Senators 3-2 Wednesday.

The long fly by Adair was the only Baltimore batter retired in the 9th by 3 Washington pitchers.

Jackie Brandt opened the last inning rally by hitting his first homer of the season off Washington starter Claude Osteen. Osteen then walked Brooks Robinson on 4 pitches and Steve Hamilton replaced him on the mound to face Jim Gentile.

Gentile grounded a single to left, just out of the reach of shortstop Ed Brinkman. Then Al Smith beat out a bunt down the 3rd base line, loading the bases. Boog Powell walked on a 3-2 pitch to force in Robinson with the tying run and Washington Manager Mickey Vernon summoned Jim Hannan from the bullpen.

With the outfield playing in close, Adair socked the ball deep to center field. Bob Saverline, a pinch runner for Jim Gentile, scored easily after the catch.

The Orioles had collected only 4 hits off Osteen before the 9th.

Washington cashed in on its only scoring chance in the 7th inning, and would have scored more except for a base running boner by Osteen.

Back-to-back doubles by Don Lock and Larry Osborne off Oriole starter Robin Roberts scored the first run of the game. Then, with two outs, Brinkman singled home Osborne with the second run. Osteen also singled, sending Brinkman to second and Roberts to the showers.

Pinch hitter Jim King hit another drive to right field off relief pitcher Dick Hall which should have scored Brinkman. But Osteen failed to touch second base on his way to 3rd, and was ruled out on a force play when the Orioles called for an appeal play.

White Sox Beaten, 2-1, By Detroit

Detroit (AP) — Hank Aguirre mowed the Chicago White Sox down with a 7-hitter and the Detroit Tigers bunched three of their 4 hits into the first inning for two runs in a 2-1 victory Wednesday.

Aguirre, the 1962 American League earned run champion, yielded a run in the first and protected his 2-1 lead the rest of the way.

Billy Bruton's double, and infield singles by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe were the only hits Eddie Fisher allowed as the Tigers touched him for their two runs in the first. Reliever Gary Peters allowed the 4th hit when he took over for Fisher in the 7th.

Floyd Robinson's single accounted for the White Sox run.

Omaha Westside, Norfolk's Paulsen Make Top Showing

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Fremont—Omaha Westside and Norfolk's Virgil Paulsen braved chilly track conditions Wednesday to land spotlight performances in the high school portion of the Midland Relays.

Westside justified its standing as the top intercity track squad by winning 4 relay events and two individual titles in class II competition with Columbus, Lincoln Northeast, Norfolk and Fremont.

Class I honors were split between Omaha Tech, Omaha North, and Boys Town with Omaha Central lagging.

Paulsen set the meet's only record with a 150-5 discus throw.

Dsiqualified

Paced by its outstanding speed merchants, sprinter Bob Grant and hurdler Jim Moore, Westside, won the 880 relay, sprint medley, and 440 relay—only to be disqualified in the quarter-mile event.

A bad exchange gave the 440 title to Columbus, which also won the mile relay.

Westside's two-mile quartet won in 8:31.9—8 seconds slower than last week's effort at the Columbus invitational.

But the weather had much to do with relative times in track events.

For instance, Moore won the highs in 16.0. Last week he ran :15.1.

He was Northeast's only winner. Other Rocket placings went to Dan Ellis, 3rd in the discus; Neal Keyser, 4th in the broad jump; Bob Hahn, tied for 3rd in the high jump; second place in the 440 relay and 3rd in each the sprint medley and two-mile relay.

No team points were accumulated.

The North athlete, who cleared 11-11 indoors, passed early heights and entered competition

. . . BOUT SLATED FOR LONDON

London (AP) — Cassius Clay, the self-proclaimed "greatest heavyweight of them all," has been matched to box Henry Cooper, the British and British Empire heavyweight champion, in London in June.

Promoter Jack Solomons announced the 10-rounder Wednesday and said all arrangements had been made to hold the fight indoors at Wembley Stadium.

Clay, 21, unbeaten in 18 pro fights after winning the Olympic title, has talked and fought his way into the top ranks of Sonny Liston's contenders for the world title. Both the World Boxing Association and the Ring ratings list Clay the No. 2 challenger. Cooper is ranked No. 6 by the WBA and No. 9 by Ring.

No Comment

Clay, for once, was not immediately available for comment, as he was traveling between his Louisville home and New Orleans.

Although some of the luster was rubbed off The Lip when he had to rally to gain a narrow, unpopular decision over Doug Jones March 13 at Madison Square Garden, Clay still is the hottest attraction in boxing.

Cocky Cassius had knocked out 9 in a row before Jones failed to "fall in 4" as Clay had predicted. His record of 18 victories includes 14 knockouts.

Cooper, 28, has a record of 27-8-1 for 36 fights. He hadn't fought in almost a year when he successfully defended his British and Empire titles by knocking out Dick Richardson of Wales March 26 in London.

4th In Row

This was Cooper's 4th straight victory since he was knocked out in the second round by Zora Folley on Dec. 5, 1961. The knockout cost him a title fight with then world champion Floyd Patterson.

Last year, in 3 fights, Cooper knocked out Tony Hughes in 5, outpointed Wayne Bethea in 10, and stopped Joe Erskine in 9.

"This fight will restore boxing in this country," said Solomons. "There will be 200,000 people wanting to hear Clay spout, not to mention fight."

Holds 11,000

Wembley Stadium's indoor arena holds only 11,000 people.

"Everything is signed up and Clay told me yesterday on the phone that he will predict the round in which he is going to defeat Cooper when the time comes," said Solomons.

In Louisville, Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said "we're delighted to go over there and fight Cooper. We've been discussing a June 10 date for the event but have reached no final decision."

He said Clay will visit friends in Louisiana this weekend and then head for Miami, Fla., where he will begin training Tuesday.

Washburn Looks Sharp In 4-0 Win Over Mets

New York (AP)— Ray Washburn pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight shutout victory over the New York Mets Wednesday, 4-0, in a battle with Al Jackson.

Washburn, a 24-year-old right-hander who won 12 as a rookie last year, gave the Mets only 4 hits. He retired 17 in a row from the second until he walked Tim Harkness in the 8th.

The Cards eked out a run in the 5th without benefit of a base hit. Julian Javier was hit by a pitched ball and took second on a balk by Jackson. Washburn's sacrifice moved Javier to 3rd and he scored ahead of rookie shortstop Al Moran's throw to the plate on Curt Flood's grounder.

Groat, who always does his best in the Polo Grounds, lofted a home run into the upper stands in left in the 8th. The ex-Pirates shortstop hit only two homers last season. A single by Bill White, an error by Charlie Neal and an infield single by Gene Oliver added another Cards run in the 8th. Washburn singled in the 9th, was forced by Flood who store second and scored on White's 3rd single.

The Cards were involved in an unusual double play in the sixth. With Ken Boyer on second and George Altman on first and one out, Charlie James hit a low liner to short that Moran dropped after seemingly catching the ball. Neither runner moved.

Moran threw to Neal, forcing Boyer. The relay to second was a bit wide and fell a few feet from the base. Boyer, who had remained on second, kicked the ball into center field. The second base umpire Paul Pryor immediately motioned the out sign on interference to complete the double play.

Killebrew, Banks Star As Twins Clip Indians

St. Paul - Minneapolis (AP)— Home runs by Harmon Killebrew and George Banks, lifted Minnesota past Cleveland, 5-3, Wednesday as southpaw Jim Kaat went the distance for the victory.

Banks' 380-foot blow, also to left center, sparked a 3-run Minnesota second inning. Bob Allison doubled and was singled home by Earl Battey for the other Twins run in that frame.

Kaat, who led American League left-handers last year in victories, complete games and shutouts, blanked the Indians until pinch hitter Gene Green belted a wrong-field home run in the 8th.

Kaat then tired in the 9th and yielded two more runs when Joe Adcock and Ellis Burton singled and Mike De La Hoz doubled in the two tallies.

Bill Against Fish Snaggers Passed

Snagging of fish, which some anglers say is a great sport and which others say is a king-sized nuisance, will be prohibited in the state except in the Missouri River between Nov. 1 and April 1 under LB621 which won the lawmakers' final stamp of approval Wednesday.

The provisions of the bill will become effective 3 months after the Governor signs it.

Some of those opposed to snagging argued it was a cruel method of catching fish.

The bill was passed on a 37-4 vote.

Yankees Hold Off A's For 5-3 Win

Kansas City (AP)— Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle smashed home runs for New York and the Yankees stood off a 9th inning rally to edge out the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3 Wednesday.

Bill Stafford started for the Yankees and had shut out the A's on 3 hits before he was forced to leave with an elbow injury with two out in the 7th inning.

Jim Bouton, who succeeded him walked 4 men, two of them to start the A's on their 3-run rally in the 9th.

Bouton walked Ed Charles and Chuck Essegian and Gino Cimoli singled in a run before Bud Daley was called to the mound. Haywood Sullivan singled to fill the bases and Bobby Del Greco's sacrifice fly scored the second run.

Dick Howser's single filled the bases again but Daley got Jose Tartabull to ground into a double play but not before Cimoli had scored from 3rd with the 3rd run.

The double play was accomplished by the alert play of Bobby Richardson, who took Tony Kubek's toss to force Howser at second base, then threw to 3rd catching the surprised Haywood Sullivan at 3rd base.

Chicago (AP)—Sandy Koufax, winless since last July 12, yielded 5 hits and struck out 10 as the Los Angeles Dodgers had both runs donated by Chicago catcher Dick Bertell for a 2-1 victory over the Cubs Wednesday.

It also was Koufax' first complete game since last July 4, as the slender southpaw spent the last half of the season hampered by circulatory ailment on a pitching finger.

It was a tough loss for Cub starter Bob Buhl, victim of Bertell's poor throwing and a passed ball which donated their second straight triumph over the Cubs.

Dodger bench strength was demonstrated convincingly in this second game of the season, played before 2,673 fans shivering in near-freezing weather.

League batting and RBI champion Tommy Davis, all-time base stealing champ Maury Wills and ex-Yankee Bill Skowron all were sidelined by injury.

Koufax lost his shutout in the 8th when his 7th strikeout instead became a Cub run. Catcher John Roseboro let the 3rd strike on Lou Brock get away and Andre Rodgers and Billy Williams followed with singles to score Brock.

Buhl was in trouble on the very first Dodger batter, Willie Davis, who was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored, after a theft of 3rd, when Bertell overthrew that bag.

Buhl held Los Angeles hitless until Roseboro's 4th inning single and then was nicked for the second unearned Dodger run in the 5th. This time, Bertell's passed ball moved Dick Tracewski from first to second and he scored on Willie Davis' two-out single for a 2-0 Dodger lead.

8-RUN INNING GIVES PHILLIES SERIES SWEEP

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies scored 8 runs in the 7th inning Wednesday night for a come-from-behind 10-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and a sweep of the two-game series.

The Phillies, who trailed by 6 runs at one stage, sent 11 players to the plate during the 7th inning, belaboring 3 Cincinnati pitchers for 6 hits, including doubles by John Callison and Wes Covington and a two-run homer by Clay Dalrymple.

Covington led the Phillies' attack with a single and two doubles with the second two-bagger tying the game in the victorious rally.

Adair's Sacrifice Gives Orioles Win

Baltimore (AP) — Jerry Adair's bases loaded sacrifice fly drove in the winning run as the Baltimore Orioles scored all their runs in the 9th inning and defeated the Washington Senators 3-2 Wednesday.

The long fly by Adair was the only Baltimore batter retired in the 9th by 3 Washington pitchers.

Jackie Brandt opened the last inning rally by hitting his first homer of the season off Washington starter Claude Osteen. Osteen then walked Brooks Robinson on 4 pitches and Steve Hamilton replaced him on the mound to face Jim Gentile.

Gentile grounded a single to left, just out of the reach of shortstop Ed Brinkman. Then Al Smith beat out a bunt down the 3rd base line, loading the bases. Boog Powell walked on a 3-2 pitch to force in Robinson with the tying run and Washington Manager Mickey Vernon summoned Jim Hannan from the bullpen.

With the outfield playing in close, Adair socked the ball deep to center field. Bob Saverine, a pinch runner for Jim Gentile, scored easily after the catch.

The Orioles had collected only 4 hits off Osteen before the 9th.

Washington cashed in on its only scoring chance in the 7th inning, and would have scored more except for a base running boner by Osteen.

Back-to-back doubles by Don Lock and Larry Osborne off Oriole starter Robin Roberts scored the first run of the game. Then, with two outs, Brinkman singled home Osborne with the second run. Osteen also singled, sending Brinkman to second and Roberts to the showers.

Pinch hitter Jim King hit another drive to right field off relief pitcher Dick Hall which should have scored Brinkman. But Osteen failed to touch second base on his way to 3rd, and was ruled out on a force play when the Orioles called for an appeal play.

NU Gridders Are Fierce In First Heavy Warfare

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska's spring football candidates got their first taste of serious combat in a long session Wednesday afternoon — and the Cornhuskers were impressive.

Standouts were numerous, both among the veterans and the sophomores-to-be, as Coach Bob Devaney tested various units in a rousing scrimmage on the soggy practice lot.

Claridge followed with a long pass to end Larry Tomlinson for similar distance, then hit Johnson for 30 yards before right halfback Kent McCloughan — taking a day off from track — swept left end for another all-the-way dash.

Ross also had a bruising 42-yard run in which he bowled over several would-be tacklers.

When the No. 1 unit went on defense fullback Joe McNulty, a varsity reserve last fall, tore through the middle for 35 yards. But after that the Woods' team found the going tougher.

Bobby Hohn, a reserve halfback last fall, was a standout on defense, along with Woods.

In later action frosh Ted Vactor turned left end for another length-of-the field gallop and frosh quarterback Fred Duda hit Vactor with a long pass. Duda also fired a pseudo-TD pass to freshman halfback Frank Solich.

Letterman quarterback Doug Tucker's club turned in some hot action, too, with fullback Maynard Smidt blasting 30-yards and Tucker hitting Chuck Doepke — both Smidt and Doepke were 1962 squadmen — with a 20-yard pass.

Impressive

All things considered, the hitting and execution — both offensively and defensively — was the most impressive first-scrimmage seen in the NU camp for many moons.

Friday's practice will be devoted to review, Devaney said, with a full-scale scrimmage for movies slated Saturday morning.

Held out of the drills because of injuries were freshmen Bill Earl, Gene Allen, Stan Farrar, squadman Bill Rogers and transfer Leo Caito.

Dennis Claridge—Larry Tomlinson and Dick Callahan, ends; Larry Kremer and Lloyd Voss, tackles; Bob Brown and John Kirby, guards; Jim Baffico and Ron Michka, centers; Willie Ross, Rudy Johnson and Kent McCloughan, halfbacks; Gene Young fullback.

Doug Tucker—Pat Fischer and Chuck Doepke, ends; Bob Jones and Monte Kiffin, tackles; John Dercum and Don McDermott, guards; Lyle Sitler, center; Dave Theisen, Willie Paschall and John Sebastian, halfbacks, Maynard Smidt, fullback.

Henry Wood—John Kounan and Rick Mycienski, ends; Ron Greene and Mike Tuzell, tackles; Mike Ward and Louis Dillard, guards; Duncan Drum, center; John Vujevich and Bob Hohn, halfbacks; Joe McNulty and Bruce Smith, fullbacks.

Fred Duda—Freeman White and Tony Jeter, ends; Dick Crap and Dennis Garrison, tackles; Ed Powers, guard; Walker Barnes, center; Frank Solich and Ted Vactor, halfbacks; Kelly Peterson, fullback.

White Sox Beaten, 2-1, By Detroit

Detroit (AP) — Hank Aguirre mowed the Chicago White Sox down with a 7-hitter and the Detroit Tigers bunched three of their 4 hits into the first inning for two runs in a 2-1 victory Wednesday.

Aguirre, the 1962 American League earned run champion, yielded a run in the first and protected his 2-1 lead the rest of the way.

Billy Bruton's double, and infield singles by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe were the only hits Eddie Fisher allowed as the Tigers touched him for their two runs in the first. Reliever Gary Peters allowed the 4th hit when he took over for Fisher in the 7th.

Floyd Robinson's single accounted for the White Sox run.

Wilson Gets 6-Hit Win Against LA

Los Angeles (AP)—Right-hander Earl Wilson pitched a 6-hitter and Carl Yastrzemski hit a decisive two-run double Wednesday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

The victory gave the Red Sox a split of the two-game series.

The Angels got their only run when Lee Thomas doubled with two out in the first and scored on a single by Leon Wagner.

The Red Sox got all their runs in the third, off loser Dean Chance. Chuck Schilling and Ed Bressoud singled with one away and both scored when Yastrzemski sliced a double over Wagner's head in left field.

Race Receipt Bill Given 40-0 Approval

The bill which will raise the tax on horse race receipts from two to 3 per cent and which triggered the hottest debate so far this session was passed and sent to the Governor Wednesday.

The measure, LB486, was approved 40-0.

It carries the emergency clause, meaning it will become operative upon the Governor's signature. The bill has been speeded across the Legislative board so its new provisions can become effective as quickly as possible to meet the 1963 racing season which has already opened at Grand Island.

It affects mainly the Lincoln and Omaha tracks.

The bill permits the track to keep one per cent more of the sum wagered and still provides that the first million dollars in receipts shall be tax exempt.

Athletics Negotiate Seven-Year Lease

. . . $1 A YEAR; FINLEY HAPPY

Kansas City (AP)— Kansas City's lame duck City Council gave Charles Finley a 7-year lease on Municipal Stadium Wednesday that never will cost him more than $1 a year unless his Kansas City Athletics baseball club draws at least 950,000 a season.

The lease also provides two renewal options of 7 years each and grants Finley $1 rental rights through 1964 regardless of attendance. If attendance falls below 850,000 Finley may cancel the lease on 60 days notice. The club drew 635,675 last season.

The council, all except one of whom was beaten in the election two weeks ago, acted in the face of an opinion given by the city counsellor that the action was not legal. Outgoing Mayor H. Roe Barlet and Finley signed the lease only 10 minutes before a new City Council and Mayor Ilus Davis were inaugurated. The new council immediately voted to reconsider the lease at their next meeting.

Finley, who says he spent some $400,000 refurbishing the ball park, said with a smile:

"It's a good lease; I'm well satisfied."

Said outgoing councilman Charles Shafer, who cast the lone dissenting vote:

"It would be possible, under certain attendance conditions, for Finley to get the stadium for $1 a year for 21 years."

Shafer said the rest of the council had attended a meeting Tuesday night with Finley.

"I know the rest of the council was brainwashed last night. I was not invited to the brainwashing."

Giants Win On Bailey's Grand Slam

Houston (AP)—Pinch hitter Ed Bailey hit a grand slam home run following 3 walks in the 8th inning, bringing the San Francisco Giants from behind for an 8-7 victory over the Houston Colts Wednesday night.

The light-hitting Colts had collected 15 hits—only one for extra bases—chased Giants' starter Juan Marichal and held a 7-4 lead when Houston reliever Don McMahon lost his control in the 8th.

Willie Mays started the inning with a walk. After Willie McCovey hit into a force out, McMahon walked Tom Haller and Felipe Alou. Then Giants Manager Al Dark sent in Bailey to hit for shortstop Jose Pagan. Bailey connected.

Boston Defeats Cincy To Net Eastern Title

. . . SAM JONES SCORES 47

Boston (AP)—The Boston Celtics rang midnight on Cincinnati's "Cinderella" team Wednesday night, racing to a 142-131 victory and capturing the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoffs from the Royals 4 games to 3.

The Celtics, now hoping for a 5th straight league championship, ousted the Royals with a blistering 3rd-period attack. Up only 4 points at intermission, Boston boosted it to a 15-point lead in the 3rd period and Cincinnati never was in contention thereafter.

Sam Jones was Boston's big scorer, hitting almost uncannily in stretches and ending the game with 47 points, a lifetime high for him.

Until the 3rd period, the Celtics were ahead most of the time but could not open a comfortable advantage, the die-hard Royals narrowing the gap to a basket or so time and time again.

But the Boston team, termed tired and aging by some, halted any Cincinnati hopes in a 40-point 3rd quarter and the spread went up to 25 points early in the last period.

Wilson Gets 6-Hit Win Against LA

Los Angeles (AP)—Right-hander Earl Wilson pitched a 6-hitter and Carl Yastrzemski hit a decisive two-run double Wednesday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

The victory gave the Red Sox a split of the two-game series.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter against the Angels last season, permitted only two runners beyond second base after the first inning.

The Angels got their only run when Lee Thomas doubled with two out in the first and scored on a single by Leon Wagner.

The Red Sox got all their runs in the third, off loser Dean Chance. Chuck Schilling and Ed Bressoud singled with one away and both scored when Yastrzemski sliced a double over Wagner's head in left field.

Yastrzemski scored on a single by Dick Stuart and the slow-footed Stuart came all the way in from first on a double by Lu Clinton.

Race Receipt Bill Given 40-0 Approval

The bill which will raise the tax on horse race receipts from two to 3 per cent and which triggered the hottest debate so far this session was passed and sent to the Governor Wednesday.

The measure, LB486, was approved 40-0.

It carries the emergency clause, meaning it will become operative upon the Governor's signature. The bill has been speeded across the Legislative board so its new provisions can become effective as quickly as possible to meet the 1963 racing season which has already opened at Grand Island.

It affects mainly the Lincoln and Omaha tracks.

The bill permits the track to keep one per cent more of the sum wagered and still provides that the first million dollars in receipts shall be tax exempt.

Athletics Negotiate Seven-Year Lease

. . . $1 A YEAR; FINLEY HAPPY

Kansas City (AP)— Kansas City's lame duck City Council gave Charles Finley a 7-year lease on Municipal Stadium Wednesday that never will cost him more than $1 a year unless his Kansas City Athletics baseball club draws at least 950,000 a season.

The lease also provides two renewal options of 7 years each and grants Finley $1 rental rights through 1964 regardless of attendance. If attendance falls below 850,000 Finley may cancel the lease on 60 days notice. The club drew 635,675 last season.

The council, all except one of whom was beaten in the election two weeks ago, acted in the face of an opinion given by the city counsellor that the action was not legal. Outgoing Mayor H. Roe Barlet and Finley signed the lease only 10 minutes before a new City Council and Mayor Ilus Davis were inaugurated. The new council immediately voted to reconsider the lease at their next meeting.

Finley, who says he spent some $400,000 refurbishing the ball park, said with a smile:

"It's a good lease; I'm well satisfied."

Said outgoing councilman Charles Shafer, who cast the lone dissenting vote:

"It would be possible, under certain attendance conditions, for Finley to get the stadium for $1 a year for 21 years."

Shafer said the rest of the council had attended a meeting Tuesday night with Finley.

"I know the rest of the council was brainwashed last night. I was not invited to the brainwashing."

Giants Win On Bailey's Grand Slam

Houston (AP)—Pinch hitter Ed Bailey hit a grand slam home run following 3 walks in the 8th inning, bringing the San Francisco Giants from behind for an 8-7 victory over the Houston Colts Wednesday night.

The light-hitting Colts had collected 15 hits—only one for extra bases—chased Giants' starter Juan Marichal and held a 7-4 lead when Houston reliever Don McMahon lost his control in the 8th.

Willie Mays started the inning with a walk. After Willie McCovey hit into a force out, McMahon walked Tom Haller and Felipe Alou. Then Giants Manager Al Dark sent in Bailey to hit for shortstop Jose Pagan. Bailey connected.

Boston Defeats Cincy To Net Eastern Title

. . . SAM JONES SCORES 47

Boston (AP)—The Boston Celtics rang midnight on Cincinnati's "Cinderella" team Wednesday night, racing to a 142-131 victory and capturing the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoffs from the Royals 4 games to 3.

The Celtics, now hoping for a 5th straight league championship, ousted the Royals with a blistering 3rd-period attack. Up only 4 points at intermission, Boston boosted it to a 15-point lead in the 3rd period and Cincinnati never was in contention thereafter.

Sam Jones was Boston's big scorer, hitting almost uncannily in stretches and ending the game with 47 points, a lifetime high for him.

Until the 3rd period, the Celtics were ahead most of the time but could not open a comfortable advantage, the die-hard Royals narrowing the gap to a basket or so time and time again.

But the Boston team, termed tired and aging by some, halted any Cincinnati hope in a 40-point 3rd quarter and the spread went up to 2 points early in the last period.

Can A Baseball Game Be Shortened Without Enlarging The Strike Zone?

. . . ONLY YOUR HAIRDRESSER KNOWS

By CHARLES MAHER

Los Angeles (AP) — Baseball's new strike zone has created a furor that threatens to spread from one end of the country to a point roughly 12 feet from the same end.

The Sporting News already has covered the controversy from every conceivable angle except to explore the possible adverse affect of the new rule on the nation's balance of payments. But we decided to conduct our own survey, and a mighty good thing we did. It shows that, of every 50 persons questioned, 27 didn't know the difference between the strike zone and the flavor zone, 17 told us only their hairdressers knew, and 6 said they'd rather not talk about it because they still have relatives in the old country.

One of the announced purposes of the enlarged strike zone is to speed up the game. But, before we go into that, perhaps we'd better take a look at the new rule and a few attendant definitions. Quoting from memory:

"The strike zone is that space over home plate which is between the top of the batter's shoulders when he assumes his natural stance on his knees. See 'Stance' "

"Stance is that attitude assumed by a batter to create a strike zone extending about this far up from his knees. 'See 'Knee.' "

"The knee is that part of the anatomy without which the leg would lose a great deal of its flexibility."

Now we know a man who has watched practically every major league game played here in the last 5 years and he can't recall one that ran much longer than the Wars of the Roses. But, if they want to shorten the game, there are many more fascinating ways of tampering with the rules than enlarging the strike zone. Examples:

1. Play 7-inning games the first month of the season, to give the players time to get in the swim of it. Then cancel the rest of the schedule.

2. Reduce the distance between first and second base to 8 feet.

3. Eliminate 3rd base.

4. Put 3rd base back a minute, while we figure out what to do with Leo Durocher.

5. Name two presidents who are afraid of horses.

6. Fill the pitcher's rosin bag with sulphuric acid.

7. (a) Throw out the 6th inning in night games, or

(b) Throw out night games in the 6th inning.

8. Over the fence is out.

9. When a night game has gone 2 hours and 45 minutes, turn out all the lights in the park except the one in the men's room on the mezzanine level.

10. See Yellow Pages under "10."

11. Play second games of doubleheaders on the Hollywood freeway.

12. Turn the foul lines in beyond first and 3rd base so that the lines meet 47 feet behind second base, forming an apex to be known as Ferdy's Corner. Now move the catcher's box out behind the pitcher's plate and tell the pitcher to stop chewing that fool bubble gum. Then plant a hibiscus directly behind home plate, where the catcher's box used to be, and scatter a few potato chips in the on-deck circle, for hungry ball-players. Focus 12 floodlights on the infield. Then flood it.

Bucs Repeat 3-2 Decision Over Braves

Pittsburgh (AP) — Donn Clendenon's leadoff home run in the 8th inning—his second of the year — broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3 to 2 victory Wednesday over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Pirates scored single runs in the 5th and 6th innings. Bob Bailey led off the 5th with a double over Mark Jones' head, advanced to 3rd on an infield out and scored on an infield out. A sacrifice fly by Bill Mazeroski tallied Roberto Clemente in the 6th after Clemente also led off with a double.

Snider Wanted To Become Yankee; Hopes Mets Keep Him Busy Playing

. . . 'I KNOW I'LL HELP THIS CLUB'

New York (AP) — Duke Snider has known since last winter he would be wearing a New York uniform this season but he was hoping it would carry the letters YANKEES on the shirt front rather than METS.

"It was all set for me to come to the Yankees," the former pride of Flatbush said Wednesday, "but George Weiss blocked the deal."

There was no bitterness in Snider's voice as he spoke of the transaction which sent him from the Los Angeles Dodgers to the Mets for $40,000, 75 per cent down and the rest if the 36-year-old outfielder doesn't break down before the season's end.

"Feel Bad"

"I feel bad, of course," Snider said, "but not about coming to the Mets, although I would have preferred the Yankees. Who wouldn't? But I hated to leave the Dodgers. It was home there."

The Duke's public in New York apparently doesn't agree with its idol. At Tuesday's opener, a group in section 17 at the Polo Grounds unfurled a large banner with the words: "Welcome back home, Dook!" The thunderous ovation he received from the more than 25,000 fans was matched only by that given to the always popular Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Snider responded moments later by making a brilliant backhanded running catch in center field that was comparable to any made by Willie Mays here. Like the rest of the Mets, the Duke accomplished little at the plate against right-hander Ernie Broglio, drawing a walk in 4 times at bat. The Cardinals won, 7-0.

Needs Timing

"I don't have my timing yet," Snider apologized afterwards. "I haven't played much this spring. But I know I'll help this club if they'll bear with me. All I ask for is a little patience.

"I feel I can play in at least 100 games and I should hit better playing regularly. If I thought I could not do this, I would not have come. I expect to have two or 3 more productive years."

The Yankees, it has been learned, actually offered the Dodgers $50,000 for Duke's services and Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, was amenable to the deal. He wishes to make Snider happy and that extra 10 grand was not to be sneezed at either.

Party Split Whether Diefenbaker Should Resign

Tononto (AP) — Conservative party leaders were reported split Wednesday over whether Prime Minister John Diefenbaker should resign as a result of Monday's election setback or should stay on until parliament meets late next month.

The 67-year-old prime minister kept his plans to himself as he flew to Ottawa from his Saskatchewan home for discussions on the post-election situation. The uncertainty may continue at least until next week.

One political writer close to Diefenbaker reported he has decided to step down and open the way for Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson to form a government.

The prime minister has stated that he will make no statement until he knows the result of armed services votes which will be tabulated over the weekend. Diefenbaker also wants to find out whether he could get support from two minor parties — Social Credit and New Democratic — if he tried to stay in office.

The question will be discussed at a cabinet meeting Thursday. Other important consultations were in progress. Social Credit leader Robert Thompson flew to Ottawa to meet with deputy leader Real Caouette, to determine what their position would be.

The difficulty arises because the election gave none of the 4 parties a clearcut majority of the 265 House of Commons seats. The Liberals won 128 — just 5 short of the 133 needed for a majority. The Conservatives captured 96, the others 41.

Need Support

The Liberals need the support of at least one of the smaller parties if they are to carry on as a minority government. The Conservatives could continue in power only with support from both small parties.

It is not unusual for a defeated prime minister to delay announcement of his plans until the service vote is counted. In 1957 the Liberal prime minister, Louis St. Laurent, waited 7 days before he resigned. The Liberals lost that one to the Conservatives, 112-105.

Wednesday 5 seats are in the Conservative column by such a close margin that the service vote might switch several to the Liberals. There are 140,000 eligible armed service voters. In last June's election they went 63.5% Liberal.

Douglas P. Maxwell, Nebraska Wesleyan University senior, has received a 3-year, $6,600 National Defense Graduate Fellowship.

Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Maxwell of Albion, will work for his doctorate degree at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Man Isolated Nearly 5 Months In NASA Test

College Park, Md. (AP) — For nearly 5 months, Whilden P. Breen Jr. has lived in a small, isolated room, missing international crises, Saturday night parties, the Asian Flu and his bride of 11 months.

Wednesday, he paced around his room, going about his daily chore of seeing how long humans can stand the isolation they will face on long space flights.

He was unaware that newsmen were watching on closed circuit television.

Breen, a 35-year-old University of Maryland research assistant, entered his solitary chamber last Nov. 17. For 145 days he has endured his strange world by keeping up with psychological tests, writing a science fiction novel on a teletypewriter, listening to records like Tijuana Brass and drawing and painting.

Outside his chamber several of his oil paintings and cartoons are on display. One shows the near desolation of a nuclear-devastated world, with Breen's isolation chambers standing alone in the middle. The caption reads: "How did the Cuban crisis ever come out?"

A couple of times there have been indications his performance was slipping and he wanted to get out. But Breen never has said so. He weathered those storms of depression and Wednesday he appeared in good shape.

On one occasion, as a reward for performance of his duties, he received a can of beer. But generally his rewards are cigarettes, between-meal snacks, hobby materials, or just conversation with his wife or a philosopher friend.

University of Maryland psychologist Jack D. Findley, who runs the project for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, says Breen has been most cooperative.

The program, Findley said, is designed to reward good performance. Sometimes Breen can pick the rewards and has asked for such things as movies or a change in food.

He seems to have fallen into a sort of 26-28 hour day, sleeping something over 8 hours at a time.

At the start of the experiment Breen had no concept of time. Later he was given an electric clock, but his sleep patterns continued to drift. Findley said this was because Breen's duties had no time ties to outside living.

Can Estimate Time

At any one time Breen can probably come within two or 3 days of estimating the date. The quiet of the laboratory on weekends and the not quite soundproof quality of his chambers acts as a sort of time milepost for him.

He has little contact with outside sources, though he is watched 24 hours a day by the staff. They can see and talk to him but he cannot see them.

There have been some indications of boredom and stress. This was controlled by giving Breen greater say in his environment, allowing him to suggest changes in the routine.

Movie Of Activity

A movie of his activities showed Breen chasing around the room in response to various lights, pulling out a drawer to receive a new task, punching a button for his reward of cigarettes.

Both Breen and his wife, Elizabeth Ann, seem to be taking the situation well, Findley said. Breen has talked to his wife only two or 3 times since the experiment began.

Toward the end of the experiment, Breen may be allowed 24-hour visitors in a sort of decompression period, gradually re-orienting him with the outside world.

'Action' Groups To Link

. . . ANTI-CASTROITES TO JOIN FORCES

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Anti-Castro "action" groups, hampered by U.S. restrictions against raiding Cuba, moved Wednesday to join forces for a continued fight against the Fidel Castro regime.

The move developed as the Cuban Revolutionary Council, a coalition of 12 revolutionary groups, rejected the resignation of its president, Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, submitted in protest against U.S. policy.

The council urged in a statement after an all night session that exiles, split into about 200 organizations, "close their ranks" in the fight against Castro.

Independent

The People's Revolutionary Movement (MRP), originally a member of the Revolutionary Council but now independent, announced it was merging "for action purposes" with Alpha 66 and the Second National Front of Escambray. Alpha and Second Front previously had merged.

The Revolutionary Student Directorate, a youth group, was reported nearing completion of negotiations to join also.

About a half dozen other organizations were reported considering mergers. Among them were Commandos L, which previously had split with Alpha 66, and Revolutionary Unity, which recently joined the Revolutionary Council.

The council denied a Washington report that Miro Cardona had asked for $50 million dollars from the U.S. government to mount an invasion of Cuba.

U.S. Has Gold Dust To Burn

Washington (AP)—The United States plans to burn up about $150 worth of rocket-borne gold dust about 70 miles above the Atlantic Ocean off Bermuda next Monday night.

This will be part of a test aimed at helping to assure against radioactive hazard from future nuclear-powered devices in space — either as auxiliary power sources in satellites or as power plants for spaceships.

The flaming gold and other metals — barium, strontium and silver — are expected to produce tiny twinkling "stars" that should be visible to ship-borne watchers some 125 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The test will be conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Defense Department.

Polaris A3 Fails First Test Firing From Ship At Sea

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—The Navy's advanced polaris A3 missile failed its first test firing from a ship at sea Wednesday when the weapon went out of control and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The bullet-shaped missile appeared to be heading inland as it blasted out of a tube in the deck of the USS Observation Island and the safety officer beamed a radio signal to ignite explosive charges in the weapon.

The failure was another setback for the troubled A3, which has recorded only 3 successes in 12 test firings. The first 11 were fired from a land pad on Cape Canaveral.

CC Ladies Group Gives City $2,000 For Park Lights

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday presented $2,000 to the city to be used for lighting the picnic area and Rogers Memorial Drive in Woods Park at 33rd and O.

Park Supt. James Ager accepted the gift from Grace Peterson, women's division president, and noted that the organization previously contributed the picnic shelter house and playground equipment to the park.

Ager said the money will be used to install ornamental mercury-vapor illuminaires in the picnic area and on the park's principal drive.

He said the installation will be completed sometime this summer.

Air Force Cargo Plane Crash Claims Nine

Travis Air Force Base, Calif. (AP)—An Air Force C133 turboprop cargo plane crashed into a marsh and all 9 crewmen were killed, the U.S. Air Force said Wednesday.

The plane crashed into a marsh just outside Travis Air Force Base and burned for about an hour. The soggy marsh made fire-fighting and rescue attempts difficult, said the Air Force.

Officers said there was no indication what caused the crash. The pilot, they said, apparently did not warn the control tower that he was in trouble.

No other plane was involved.

Officers said the plane had been airborne about 35 minutes. They said such flights normally last 4 hours and pilots make numerous approaches and landings.

Officers said no nuclear material was involved in the accident, although one said this had been feared at first.

Philadelphia Newspapermen Ruled In Contempt Of Court

Philadelphia (AP)—Two Philadelphia Bulletin executives—president Robert L. Taylor and City Editor Earl Selby—Wednesday were ruled in contempt of court.

Judge Bernard Kelly of Philadelphia's Common Pleas Court so ordered because Taylor and Selby declined to answer certain questions and produce requested documents before a grand jury investigating alleged wrongdoing in city hall.

The judge said "there is no blanket privilege available to a newsman to refuse to testify under the act of 1937."

He said the Bulletin executives' "use of the privilege as a roadblock to legitimate inquiry is wholly unwarranted and contrary to the careful distinction drawn by the legislature in the terms of the act."

Dist. Atty. James Crumlish asked 18 contempt citations—7 against Taylor, 11 against Selby.

Kelley's ruling will be appealed, counsel for Taylor and Selby said.

Helen M. Hayes, Ex-Newswoman, Dies In Lincoln

Services will be held Friday at 9:30 a.m. at Hodgman-Splain's, 4040 A.

Miss Hayes, a native of Kansas and graduate of the University of Kansas School of Journalism, worked for the Great Bend, Kan., Daily Gazette before she came to Lincoln and joined the Journal staff in 1920.

She was a member of the A.A.U.W.

Police Probe Underway In Lincoln Burglary

Police Wednesday were investigating a burglary at the Save-A-More Service Station, 70th and Havelock.

'Action' Groups To Link

. . . ANTI-CASTROITES TO JOIN FORCES

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Anti-Castro "action" groups, hampered by U.S. restrictions against raiding Cuba, moved Wednesday to join forces for a continued fight against the Fidel Castro regime.

The move developed as the Cuban Revolutionary Council, a coalition of 12 revolutionary groups, rejected the resignation of its president, Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, submitted in protest against U.S. policy.

The council urged in a statement after an all night session that exiles, split into about 200 organizations, "close their ranks" in the fight against Castro.

Independent

The merger movement among "action" groups was independent of this plea.

The People's Revolutionary Movement (MRP), originally a member of the Revolutionary Council but now independent, announced it was merging "for action purposes" with Alpha 66 and the Second National Front of Escambray. Alpha and Second Front previously had merged.

The Revolutionary Student Directorate, a youth group, was reported nearing completion of negotiations to join also.

About a half dozen other organizations were reported considering mergers. Among them were Commandos L, which previously had split with Alpha 66, and Revolutionary Unity, which recently joined the Revolutionary Council.

Polaris A3 Fails First Test Firing From Ship At Sea

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—The Navy's advanced polaris A3 missile failed its first test firing from a ship at sea Wednesday when the weapon went out of control and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The bullet-shaped missile appeared to be heading inland as it blasted out of a tube in the deck of the USS Observation Island and the safety officer beamed a radio signal to ignite explosive charges in the weapon.

The surface ship launched the missile while cruising about 15 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral. Flaming fragments of the shattered rocket showered harmlessly into the sea.

The failure was another setback for the troubled A3, which has recorded only 3 successes in 12 test firings. The first 11 were fired from a land pad on Cape Canaveral.

U.S. Has Gold Dust To Burn

Washington (AP)—The United States plans to burn up about $150 worth of rocket-borne gold dust about 70 miles above the Atlantic Ocean off Bermuda next Monday night.

This will be part of a test aimed at helping to assure against radioactive hazard from future nuclear-powered devices in space — either as auxiliary power sources in satellites or as power plants for spaceships.

The flaming gold and other metals — barium, strontium and silver — are expected to produce tiny twinkling "stars" that should be visible to ship-borne watchers some 125 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The test will be conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Defense Department.

CC Ladies Group Gives City $2,000 For Park Lights

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday presented $2,000 to the city to be used for lighting the picnic area and Rogers Memorial Drive in Woods Park at 33rd and O.

Park Supt. James Ager accepted the gift from Grace Peterson, women's division president, and noted that the organization previously contributed the picnic shelter house and playground equipment to the park.

Ager said the money will be used to install ornamental mercury-vapor illuminaires in the picnic area and on the park's principal drive.

He said the installation will be completed sometime this summer.

Air Force Cargo Plane Crash Claims Nine

Travis Air Force Base, Calif. (AP)—An Air Force C133 turboprop cargo plane crashed into a marsh and all 9 crewmen were killed, the U.S. Air Force said Wednesday.

The plane crashed into a marsh just outside Travis Air Force Base and burned for about an hour. The soggy marsh made fire-fighting and rescue attempts difficult, said the Air Force.

The names of the victims were withheld.

Officers said there was no indication what caused the crash. The pilot, they said, apparently did not warn the control tower that he was in trouble.

No other plane was involved.

Officers said the plane had been airborne about 35 minutes. They said such flights normally last 4 hours and pilots make numerous approaches and landings.

Officers said no nuclear material was involved in the accident, although one said this had been feared at first.

Philadelphia Newspapermen Ruled In Contempt Of Court

Philadelphia (AP)—Two Philadelphia Bulletin executives—president Robert L. Taylor and City Editor Earl Selby—Wednesday were ruled in contempt of court.

Judge Bernard Kelly of Philadelphia's Common Pleas Court so ordered because Taylor and Selby declined to answer certain questions and produce requested documents before a grand jury investigating alledged wrongdoing in city hall.

The judge said "there is no blanket privilege available to a newsman to refuse to testify under the act of 1937."

He said the Bulletin executives' "use of the privilege as a roadblock to legitimate inquiry is wholly unwarranted and contrary to the careful distinction drawn by the legislature in the terms of the act."

Dist. Atty. James Crumlish asked 18 contempt citations—7 against Taylor, 11 against Selby.

Kelley's ruling will be appealed, counsel for Taylor and Selby said.

Helen M. Hayes, Ex-Newswoman, Dies In Lincoln

Services will be held Friday at 9:30 a.m. at Hodgman-Splain's, 4040 A.

Miss Hayes, a native of Kansas and graduate of the University of Kansas School of Journalism, worked for the Great Bend, Kan., Daily Gazette before she came to Lincoln and joined the Journal staff in 1920.

At the Journal she wrote reviews of art and music events in Lincoln until 1957 when she retired.

She was a member of the A.A.U.W.

Police Probe Underway In Lincoln Burglary

Police Wednesday were investigating a burglary at the Save-A-More Service Station, 70th and Havelock.

Stocks Dip After Solid Early Gain

Activity quickened to nearly the fastest of the year.

Steel stocks resisted and finished fractionally higher. They had been up 1 to 2 points in early trading. The market acted jittery awaiting the outcome of the latest steel price situation.

The turnaround came when President Kennedy decided to stay in Washington until Thursday morning instead of leaving Wednesday for a Florida vacation. His move obviously was based on the possibility of a spread in the steel price boost.

Volume expanded to 5.91 million shares for the fifth consecutive 5-million-day. It compared to 5.11 million Tuesday and Mondays' 1963 high of 5.99 million.

Steels were about the only major section to show a majority of plus signs. Aircrafts, electronics, airlines and drugs declined while mail orders, chemicals, rails, oils and tobaccos closed in the mixed column.

Autos showed some of the biggest losers. Ford was off 1 after declaring the regular dividend naming a new president. GM fell 1⅝ and Chrysler was off ⅜.

U.S. Steel was the most active, gaining ⅝ at 48⅜ on 200,200 shares. Bethlehem, second largest producer, was third most active with a similar ⅜ gain at 32. Wheeling closed with a gain of 1⅜.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 1.68 at 704.35. The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .3 at 264.4 with industrials down .7, rails up .2 at a 1963 high of 133.7, and utilities off .2.

Of 1,327 issues traded 659 declined and 406 advanced. There were 123 highs for 1963 and 20 new lows.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange closed irregularly lower.

Stocks Dip After Solid Early Gain

New York (AP) — The stock market edged lower Wednesday after a sudden afternoon tumble erased a solid morning advance based on a steel price increase by the nation's eleventh largest producer.

Activity quickened to nearly the fastest of the year.

Steel stocks resisted and finished fractionally higher. They had been up 1 to 2 points in early trading. The market reflected jittery awaiting the outcome of the latest steel price situation.

The turnaround came when President Kennedy decided to stay in Washington until Thursday morning instead of leaving Wednesday for a Florida vacation. His move obviously was based on the possibility of a spread in the steel price boost.

No other company followed Wheeling Steel's lead before the market closed.

Volume expanded to 5.01 million shares for the fifth consecutive 5 million-day. It compared to 5.11 million Tuesday and Mondays' 1963 high of 5.99 million.

Steels were about the only major section to show a majority of plus signs. Aircrafts, electronics, utilities and drugs declined while mail orders, chemicals, rails, oils and tobaccos closed in the mixed column.

Autos showed some of the biggest losers. Ford was off 1 after declaring the regular dividend naming a new president. GM fell 1⅝ and Chrysler was off ⅞.

U.S. Steel was the most active, gaining ⅝ at 48⅜ on 200,200 shares. Bethlehem, second largest producer, was third most active with a similar ⅝ gain at 32. Wheeling closed with a gain of 1⅛.

The Dow Jones Industrial average fell 1.66 at 704.35. The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .1 at 264 with industrials down .7, rails up .2 at a 1963 high of 133.7, and utilities off .2.

Of 1,327 issues traded 653 declined and 406 advanced. There were 123 highs for 1963 and 20 new lows.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange closed irregularly lower.

Wheat Prospects Drop, But Still Over Average

. . . 81,528,000 Bushel Yield Is Forecast

Although Nebraska's winter wheat prospects are not as rosy this month as in December, the forecast of 81,528,000 bushels would still be about 3 million bushels above the 10-year average.

The latest estimate, revealed Wednesday in Washington by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is down 4 bushels an acre from the December figure of 95,116,000 or 28 bushels per acre.

The 1963 forecast is nearly 28 million bushels more than the 1962 output, state-federal statisticians said.

The 1962 Nebraska wheat crop was 53,820,000 bushels, an average of 19½ bushels an acre. During the 1951-60 decade Nebraska wheat crops averaged nearly 23½ bushels an acre.

Kenneth Logan, one of the members of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics staff, said the loss "actually occurred this year because of winter kill in the south central and western areas. The crop lacked snow cover at a time when the state had some record low temperatures."

Also factoring in the drop were Hessian fly, wind erosion, and the diversion of part of the planted acreage to bring farms in compliance with the government program.

Logan said "we've been getting what the crop needs — moisture." He said rains during the past 24 hours over much of the state will relieve the dry topsoil.

"But we are going to need timely rains to keep this crop coming because it has a heavy top growth which will make heavy demands upon the available soil moisture."

Birmingham Cops Won't Jail Hibbler

Reneged

A spokesman said the drive was started because downtown merchants had reneged on a promise to desegregate lunch counters and restaurants.

Wednesday's demonstrators were lined up against the wall of a bus station while police took down their names.

"Don't put that blind man (Hibbler) in jail. Just let him stand over there. We'll handle him," said police commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor when he arrived.

Stand There

Connor, an outspoken segregationist, later told Hibbler: "We ain't got anything you can do over there (jail). You stand right there where you are and we'll take care of you."

As the other marchers were leaving the street to enter police wagons, another marcher held Hibbler's arm and pulled him toward the van.

Can Sing

"I can sing," Hibbler replied.

"We don't have any room for that over there," Connor responded.

Wednesday marked the second consecutive day police have refused to jail Hibbler, while at the same time arresting his fellow demonstrators.

This approach was similar to the one taken by authorities last week in Greenwood, Miss. Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who went to Greenwood to lead a series of vote registration marches, was permitted to remain free although several fellow marchers were arrested.

MacArthur To Get Honor At Luncheon

New York (UPI) — General Douglas MacArthur will be honored at a luncheon in New York next week to announce the establishment of an endowed professorship in history at Columbia University in his name.

The luncheon, to be held Friday, April 19 at the Waldorf-Astoria, is being given by a committee of sponsors headed by President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and former President Hoover.

Arnold A. Saltszman, president of Seagrave Corporation and a Columbia alumnus, is chairman of the committee.

Rocky Hopes Kennedy Isn't Placating Soviets On Cuba

Washington (AP)—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Wednesday he hopes President Kennedy is not trying "to placate or to appease the Soviet" with his Cuba policy.

The governor, pegged as a front runner for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, interrupted a round of Republican Party appearances to tell a news conference it is hard to understand why the United States is supporting freedom fighters in South Viet Nam but "holding them back and preventing them from operating in Cuba."

Asked if he was charging the administration with following an appeasement course, Rockefeller replied:

"No—I said I hoped it wasn't."

"It is hard to see what other reason there would be, in view of our past policy," he said, "and it seems to me this is a very sharp change of policy concerning which the public has not been advised as to what the reason, what our objective is . . . "

The governor said the administrations of both former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy had given support to the abortive 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. He said the current clampdown on refugee raids against Fidel Castro's Cuba represents a reversal of policy.

Asked if he thought there could be some secret arrangement between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev on holding back the Cuban freedom fighters, Rockefeller replied:

"I have no idea. But maybe Mr. Khrushchev will release some more of the correspondence and we will find out."

"What I would like to know," Rockefeller said, "is where we are going, what our objectives are, what methods we are going to use to achieve them."

Until Soviet troops and equipment are removed from the island and Castro toppled from power, Rockefeller said he thinks it will be difficult to eliminate the Communist threat to all of Latin America.

Swiss Police Question Accused Nazi Criminal

Lugano, Switzerland (AP) — Erich Rajakovic, accused in Holland of organizing the Nazi extermination of Dutch Jews, was picked up and questioned by Swiss police Wednesday.

His World War II victims are said to have included Anne Frank, Dutch Jewish girl whose diary became a postwar best seller.

They had ordered him to leave Switzerland or face expulsion as an undersirable alien. A police spokesman said Rajakovic had a right to appeal against his expulsion, but this could not delay his immediate departure. If he appeals, the case will be heard in his absence.

"He is not charged with committing any crimes in Switzerland, and he is not under arrest," the spokesman said. "He will be allowed to go to any country of his choice that will admit him."

Rajakovic turned up at his villa Wednesday morning and was promptly taken into custody by police. He had been living in Milan, Italy, under the name of Eric Raja, with an Australian passport.

In Rome, the Italian government was reported to have ordered frontier police to keep Rajakovic from returning to Italy. There are no charges against him in either Italy or Austria.

Summit Meeting Of Africans Set

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie said Wednesday an African summit conference here next month will seek for the first time in history to lay the foundation for African unity.

The 3-day conference begins May 23.

Selassie told a news conference the African government heads will discuss speeding up independence for areas still under colonial rule and the formulating of a universal African charter to embrace the unity ideals of various groups of African nations.

Reservoir Largest

New Delhi — India's Rihand Dam project, one of the largest river-valley developments in the world, was inaugurated recently by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. The project will supply power to about 600 communities in Uttar Pradesh State and enable the irrigation of 1,400,000 acres. The lake formed by the dam spreads over 180 square miles and is Asia's largest reservoir.

Lutheran Rally Plans Revealed

Kearney — Final plans were announced for the Lutheran Hour Rally, sponsored by the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church of the Arapahoe, Hastings, Grand Isalnd and Kearney Circuits, which will be held at 3 p.m., April 21, 1963, in Cushing Coliseum, Kearney. Speaker of the rally will be Dr. Oswald Hoffman, Lutheran Hour speaker.

Participating as liturgists in the Lutheran Hour Rally will be the Rev. O. B. Hussman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Grand Island; and the Rev. M. F. Hofman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Blue Hill. Also assisting in the program will be Marvin Spitsnogle of Zion Lutheran Church, Kearney, who will serve as narrator.

A massed adult and children's choir of the area will also participate. Another special feature will be 75 flags in a Parade of Nations.

Race Indicating African ID Card Can Be Disaster

Johannesburg, South Africa, (AP) — For thousands of people in South Africa a 3-inch plastic card can spell disaster.

The law requires residents to carry identity cards. In order to obtain the card a person's race must be clearly established.

The result is that 20,000 or so persons are living in a shadowy no-man's-land amid South African's strict laws segregating the races. All are borderline cases, some playing a game known here as "trying for white," and others "trying for colored."

Many who have been living as white are dodging an application for identity cards. They fear that a classification marking them as colored (mulatto) will result in loss of employment or social status, and make them leave white residential areas and white amenities they have enjoyed all, or most, of their lives.

Husband Sees Crash Killing Young Wife

Winslow (AP) — A 19-year-old mother of two was killed early Wednesday when her car crashed into a freight train at a Winslow crossing, the State Patrol said.

Her husband, who was immediately behind in another car, was the first one on the scene.

Killed was Mrs. Eileen Mengedoht. Her car and that of her husband, Victor, were headed east toward their home near Herman.

Scotts Bluff Co. Farm Groups Are Backing LB526

Scottsbluff (AP) — Three Scotts Bluff County farm organizations announced Wednesday they are backing the Nebraska Beet Growers Association in its support of LB526.

The Scotts Bluff County Farm Bureau, Farmers Union and National Farmers Organization issued a joint statement.

"Automatic scales will eliminate human error that now exists at all delivering stations. Beet growers will accept tests and tare that have been checked for accuracy by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture," the statement continued.

The bill introduced in the legislature calls for replacement of present scales and state checks of sugar content and tare of beets. It also calls for labeling of sugar beet seed.

Alliance To Host Knights Templar

The past commanders' association will hold its annual banquet and meeting on the previous evening.

Elderly Woman Beaten, Slain After Helping Care For Kin

Acting County Coroner George Sullivan said the immediate cause of death was a gag shoved so far down her throat that she suffocated.

He said the victim, Emily Jelen, also suffered possible brain injury and several skull fractures from a beating. She had been dragged from the sidewalk to a vacant lot only 5 doors from her tiny cottage in a near-down-town neighborhood.

Miss Jelen had been at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bessie Peake where she customarily helped with the housework and prepared supper for the older woman. She left there before 9 p.m.

Purse Opened

Her body was discovered Wednesday morning in the vacant lot. Her umbrella, glasses and coins from her opened purse were scattered from the sidewalk to the rear of the lot.

SENEGAL ASKS U.N. STUDY ON BOMBING RAID

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Senegal asked Wednesday for a U.N. Security Council hearing on its charge that 4 Portuguese planes bombed the Senegalese village of Boumack, which is near the border of Portuguese Guiana.

There was no information concerning casualties.

Portugal's U.N. delegation denied the Portuguese made such a raid. It said an investigation showed no Portuguese planes were in the air in that African sector at the time and suggested:

"If a violation did in fact take place, the conclusion must be drawn that only aircraft of some nationality other than Portuguese could have been responsible."

Wheat Prospects Drop, But Still Over Average

. . . 81,528,000 Bushel Yield Is Forecast

Although Nebraska's winter wheat prospects are not as rosy this month as in December, the forecast of 81,528,000 bushels would still be about 3 million bushels above the 10-year average

The latest estimate, revealed Wednesday in Washington by the US Department of Agriculture, is down 4 bushels an acre from the December figure of 95,116,000 or 28 bushels per acre

The 1963 forecast is nearly 28 million bushels more than the 1962 output, state federal statisticians said

The 1962 Nebraska wheat crop was 53,820,000 bushels, an average of 19½ bushels an acre. During the 1951-60 decade Nebraska wheat crops averaged nearly 23½ bushels an acre

Kenneth Logan, one of the members of the State Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics staff, said the loss "actually occurred this year because of winter kill in the south central and western areas The crop lacked snow cover at a time when the state had some record low temperatures"

Also factoring in the drop were Hessian fly, wind erosion, and the diversion of part of the planted acreage to bring farms in compliance with the government program

Logan said "we've been getting what the crop needs — moisture" He said rains during the past 24 hours over much of the state will relieve the dry topsoil

"But we are going to need timely rains to keep this crop coming because it has a heavy top growth which will make heavy demands upon the available soil moisture"

Birmingham Cops Won't Jail Hibbler

Birmingham, Ala (UPI) — Blind Negro singer Al Hibbler again was left standing on the sidewalk Wednesday while police carted off 27 of his colleagues for staging another segregation protest demonstration

Police stopped the Negroes, walking in two groups, about 5 blocks from city hall, where they had planned to lodge their protest

The new arrests brought to nearly 150 the total number of demonstrators taken into custody since last week when Dr Martin Luther King Jr renewed a desegregation drive in this steel town

Reneged

A spokesman said the drive was started because downtown merchants had reneged on a promise to desegregate lunch counters and restaurants

Wednesday's demonstrators were lined up against the wall of a bus station while police took down their names

'Don't put that blind man (Hibbler) in jail Just let him stand over there We'll handle him" said police commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor when he arrived

Stand There

Connor, an outspoken segregationist, later told Hibbler "We ain't got anything you can do over there (jail) You stand right there where you are and we'll take care of you'

As the other marchers were leaving the street to enter police wagons, another marcher held Hibbler's arm and pulled him toward the van

"You just stay right there," Connor said

Hibbler asked Connor to be taken to jail, but Connor replied

Can Sing

"I can sing," Hibbler replied

'We don't have any room for that over there," Connor responded

Wednesday marked the second consecutive day police have refused to jail Hibbler, while at the same time arresting his fellow demonstrators

This approach was similar to the one taken by authorities last week in Greenwood, Miss Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who went to Greenwood to lead a series of vote registration marches was permitted to remain free although several fellow marchers were arrested

MacArthur To Get Honor At Luncheon

New York (UPI) — General Douglas MacArthur will be honored at a luncheon in New York next week to announce the establishment of an endowed professorship in history at Columbia University in his name

The luncheon, to be held Friday April 19 at the Waldorf Astoria, is being given by a committee of sponsors headed by President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and former President Hoover

Arnold A Saltzman, president of Seagrave Corporation and a Columbia alumnus, is chairman of the committee

"It seems fitting indeed to honor General MacArthur — a man who made history — with an endowed professorship in history at one of America's leading universities," Saltzman said

The date of the luncheon is the anniversary of MacArthur's appearance before Congress when he delivered his "old soldiers never die" address

Quiet, Please

Tampa, Fla (UPI) — A weathered poster on the fence of a farm north of Tampa reads "No hunting aloud"

Rocky Hopes Kennedy Isn't Placating Soviets On Cuba

Washington (UPI)—New York's Gov Nelson A Rockefeller said Wednesday he hopes President Kennedy is not trying "to placate or to appease the Soviet" with his Cuba policy

The governor, pegged as a front runner for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, interrupted a round of Republican Party appearances to tell a news conference it is hard to understand why the United States is supporting freedom fighters in South Viet Nam but "holding them back and preventing them from operating in Cuba"

Asked if he was charging the administration with following an appeasement course, Rockefeller replied

"No—I said I hoped it wasn't"

"It is hard to see what other reason there would be, in view of our past policy," he said, "and it seems to me this is a very sharp change of policy concerning which the public has not been advised as to what the reason, what our objective is"

The governor said the administrations of both former President Dwight D Eisenhower and Kennedy had given support to the abortive 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion He said the current clampdown on refugee raids against Fidel Castro's Cuba represents a reversal of policy

Asked if he thought there could be some secret arrangement between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev on holding back the Cuban freedom fighters, Rockefeller replied

"I have no idea But may be Mr Khrushchev will release some more of the correspondence and we will find out"

He referred to the exchanges between Kennedy and Khrushchev during the missile crisis of last October

"What I would like to know," Rockefeller said, "is where we are going, what our objectives are, what methods we are going to use to achieve them"

Until Soviet troops and equipment are removed from the island and Castro toppled from power, Rockefeller said he thinks it will be difficult to eliminate the Communist threat to all of Latin America

Swiss Police Question Accused Nazi Criminal

Lugano Switzerland (UPI) — Dutch Rajakovic accused in Holland of organizing the Nazi extermination of Dutch Jews was picked up and questioned by Swiss police Wednesday

His World War II victims are said to have included Anne Frank, Dutch Jewish girl whose diary became a postwar best seller

Swiss police said Rajakovic was being questioned about reports that he was Adolf Eichmann's right hand man

They had ordered him to leave Switzerland or face expulsion as an undesirable alien A police spokesman said Rajakovic had a right to appeal against his expulsion, but this could not delay his immediate departure If he appeals, the case will be heard in his absence

"He is not charged with committing any crimes in Switzerland, and he is not under arrest," the spokesman said "He will be allowed to go to any country of his choice that will admit him"

Rajakovic turned up at his villa Wednesday morning and was promptly taken into custody by police He had been living in Milan Italy, under the name of Eric Raja with an Australian passport

In Rome, the Italian government was reported to have ordered frontier police to keep Rajakovic from returning to Italy There are no charges against him in either Italy or Austria

Race Indicating African ID Card Can Be Disaster

Johannesburg, South Africa, (UPI) — For thousands of people in South Africa a 3-inch plastic card can spell disaster

The law requires residents to carry identity cards In order to obtain the card a person's race must be clearly established

The result is that 20,000 or so persons are living in a shadowy no man's-land amid South African's strict laws segregating the races All are borderline cases, some playing a game known here as "trying for white," and others "trying for colored"

Many who have been living as white are dodging an application for identity cards They fear that a classification marking them as colored (mulatto) will result in loss of employment or social status, and make them leave white residential areas and white amenities they have enjoyed all or most, of their lives

Husband Sees Crash Killing Young Wife

Winslow (UPI) — A 19 year old mother of two was killed early Wednesday when her car crashed into a freight train at a Winslow crossing, the State Patrol said

Her husband who was immediately behind in another car was the first one on the scene

Killed was Mrs Eileen Mengedoht Her car and that of her husband, Victor, were headed east toward their home near Herman

The 49 car Burlington freight train was headed south

The death was the 72nd traffic fatality in Nebraska this year compared with 70 on the same date a year ago

Scotts Bluff Co. Farm Groups Are Backing LB526

Scottsbluff (UPI) — Three Scotts Bluff County farm organizations announced Wednesday they are backing the Nebraska Beet Growers Association in its support of LB526

The Scotts Bluff County Farm Bureau Farmers Union and National Farmers Organization issued a joint statement

"Our respective organizations, often in disagreement, are united in regard to LB 526," the statement said

"Automatic scales will eliminate human error that now exists at all delivering stations Beet growers will accept tests and rate that have been checked for accuracy by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture," the statement continued

The bill introduced in the legislature calls for replacement of present scales and state checks of sugar content and rate of beets It also calls for labeling of sugar beet seed

Elderly Woman Beaten, Slain After Helping Care For Kin

Omaha (UPI) — A 73-year-old woman was beaten and slain Tuesday night as she returned from her daily chore of caring for an older sister

Acting County Coroner George Sullivan said the immediate cause of death was a gag shoved so far down her throat that she suffocated

He said the victim, Emily Jelen, also suffered possible brain injury and several skull fractures from a beating She had been dragged from the sidewalk to a vacant lot only 5 doors from her tiny cottage in a near-down-town neighborhood

Miss Jelen had been at the home of her sister, Mrs Bessie Peake where she customarily helped with the housework and prepared supper for the older woman She left there before 9 p m

Purse Opened

Her body was discovered Wednesday morning in the vacant lot Her umbrella, glasses and coins from her opened purse were scattered from the sidewalk to the rear of the lot

Miss Jelen's clothes were in disarray and pulled over her head

The elderly woman was an aunt of the late Edward Jelen, former Douglas County commissioner and state senator

SENEGAL ASKS U.N. STUDY ON BOMBING RAID

United Nations, N Y (UPI) — Senegal asked Wednesday for a UN Security Council hearing on its charge that 4 Portuguese planes bombed the Senegalese village of Boumack, which is near the border of Portuguese Guiana

'There was no information concerning casualties

Portugal's UN delegation denied the Portuguese made such a raid It said an investigation showed no Portuguese planes were in the air in that African sector at the time and suggested

"If a violation did in fact take place the conclusion must be drawn that only aircraft of some nationality other than Portuguese could have been responsible"

HOME OF THE WEEK

Allow us, if you please, "to crow" about this splendid older home we have just listed. It is a spacious 3 bedroom home located at 445 South 29th—in the very best condition. Richly carpeted throughout, beam ceiling in dining room, large living room with wood burning fireplace, a kitchen that's tremendous—completely remodeled 13.6 x 16 ft. with built-ins—all color coordinated and the latest features for the housewife; air-conditioned and a soft water unit. This is an excellent opportunity to buy a well-built house of attractive design with greater than ordinary facilities and equipment. Matter of fact, there are so many features and advantages to this new listing, it is impossible to cite them in one ad; but if you call us we would be happy to tell you or better yet show you.
